Shanghai Battle Stirs Congress; Opinions Voiced

U. S. Congress Is Thoroughly Concerned Over Situation In Far East

MORE IMPORTANT RESULTS EXPECTED

Compare Japanese Invasion With Germany's Ruthless Sweep Across Belgium

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. — Congress is thoroughly concerned and apprehensive over the situation in the Far East.

While the surface is calm and members are largely refraining from action or comment that might embarrass the administration, underneath there is resentment and indignation over the high-handed manner in which Japanese has violated her treaties and broken her pledges concerning China.

Opinions Expressed

A number of Senators, in private comment, compared the Japanese invasion of China, particularly of Shanghai, with Germany's ruthless sweep across Belgium in the critical days of August, 1914.

The events of the past week are likely to have several important results upon the policies of the American congress.

For one thing, they have blasted any possibility of further reduction of the American navy, and on the contrary have accelerated the movement to start immediately toward building up the navy to the full strength of the London treaty.

For another, Japanese aggression has nullified any thought that the Geneva Disarmament conference, due to meet next week, can accomplish anything.

Shanghai Is Different

So long as Japan's action was confined to Manchuria, congress showed few signs of being disturbed.

It was kind of April showery this morning, several little spurts of rain falling shortly after seven o'clock. And by the way the weather has been acting of late, it would not be surprising to see May flowers blooming soon.

New Castle's postal employes are doing their full share to help their less fortunate who are unemployed. They with the city employes have given a great amount of money to the Mayor's Fund for relief work in the city.

Two weeks from Sunday is St. Valentine's Day.

Have you noticed the new inducement the Navy is offering, to get recruits? A picture of a pretty young lady is displayed beneath these words, "I want you in the Navy." Another young lady appears beneath these words, "If I was a man I would join the Navy."

Iowa auto licenses must be good for some time after the year for which they are issued. Pa Newc saw an Iowa car on the streets here last night that carried a 1931 tag.

Robins, tulips, etc., are being reported around the city, indicating that there is still a suspicion that spring is near.

DEVELOPMENTS OF DAY AT SHANGHAI MENACE WORLD PEACE-GIBBONS

(International News Service)

EDITOR'S NOTE—Floyd Gibbons, noted war correspondent for International News Service, discloses in the following dispatch from Shanghai today that Japanese airplanes have, through mistake, dropped bombs in the International settlement, endangering the lives of thousands of foreigners including many Americans.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 29.—Hello everybody!

Bad news today from Shanghai—sad news, and developments more menacing to world peace than anything that has been happening in Manchuria.

Not only China and Japan are mixed up in this mess. No sir,—the events of the last eighteen hours have placed these unwelcome and undesired Far Eastern hostilities on the doorsteps of each and every member of the Family of Nations.

Cables and radios are buzzing to their fullest capacity as reports, protests and explanations are speeding from Shanghai to the foreign departments of every government in the world. This is a great time to watch your step and keep your powder dry.

Use Concession As Base

For the first time in history, a belligerent nation has used the International Concession in Shanghai as a military base for offensive operations against China.

Japan has done this, and done it not in concert with nor in consideration of other nations equally interested here, but entirely on her own.

It is just as though the Jones family, occupying one apartment in a ten-flat building, used their apartment as the base for an attack on a flat building across the street. The occupants of the flat building successfully resist the attack and retaliate by carrying the fight back across the street and cleaning out not only Jones' apartment but the CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—With the eyes of a nation fastened upon them representatives of America's 2,000,000 organized rail workers met in joint session today with the emissaries of railroad capital to present their reply to the request for a ten per cent wage reduction.

Before nightfall, it was hoped, the committee of union heads and the nine road presidents, empowered to act for all the major rail systems of the country, will enter into a final pact.

But, a conclusive agreement may be further delayed by the demand for additional concessions which

PARIS, Jan. 29.—Some queer things going on in the world if you just happened to have been there and seen 'em.

Japanese warships are ready to bombard China because China insists on boycotting Japanese goods. England puts 500 more of Gandhi's bunch in jail because they boycott and picket against English goods.

Here you have China and India who constitute five-eights of the world's population practically at war because they can't do what they want to. Yet sign boards all over England say, "buy British."

It's a great world, even if you are just looking at it for comedy purposes.

Judge Chambers reminded the banking fraternity that most of the public service companies, which are in a sense non-competitive, have been furnishing employment to

Workers Boost Hospital Fund Total To $52,171

BRAHAM SPEAKS AT DAY'S MEETING

Large Number Of Citizens Aiding Move To Keep Fine Institution Open

Almost within the shadow of the $60,000 goal, the workers in the Jameson Memorial Hospital campaign have twenty four hours more to come through to a 100 per cent victory. At noon today in The Castleton $5616 was reported for the daily total, bringing the grand total up to $52,171, less than eight thousand dollars away from the goal.

Automobile	$ 59
Financial	370
General	74
Industrial	1247
Mercantile	338
Official	679
Organizations	46
Public Service	906

Attorney W. Walter Braham was the speaker of the day and in his usual scholarly way presented some reasons why the campaign should not fail. "I have a personal obligation to this hospital" said he. "My young son is an alumnus of the Jameson Memorial Hospital, and my little daughter is an alumnus of the old Shenango Valley. All of us owe something to our hospitals."

"The crowning glory of civilization is its hospitals. Just now we have a campaign on to raise $60,000 for the Jameson Memorial, and I must

Japan May Send Infantry To Aid Shanghai Force

Japanese Claim Chinese Made Attack On Them At Shanghai

By JAMES R. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Jan. 29.—Japan may find it necessary to dispatch an army to Shanghai to reinforce bluejackets now engaged in the occupation of Chapei, it was admitted by the foreign office today.

Possibility of sending infantry loomed when reports from the scene of action indicated the fleet was ineffective in carrying out Japanese plans, owing to inability to bombard troubled districts without endangering foreign settlements.

May Send Troops.

An official statement from foreign office declared the government might be compelled to send troops in the event sailors and marines now in Shanghai were outnumbered. In the meantime, the situation is being left in the hands of the navy.

The army general staff kept in close contact with naval officials, making no attempt to disguise the fact they considered the situation serious in the extreme.

Japanese casualties were estimated today at nine dead and 100 wounded. Official Japanese reports said the Chapei fighting lasted seven hours, the Chinese putting up strong

U. S. Destroyers Enroute To Shanghai From Manila —Others Are Ready

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Great Britain will join with the United States in a protest to Japan against her invasion of the International Settlement in Shanghai, Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador, informed Secretary of State Stimson today.

The American government had inquired of Great Britain yesterday, immediately upon receipt of dispatches telling of Japanese armed forces violating the settlement, whether she would join with this government in representations to Japan.

Sir Ronald immediately cabled London. He received a reply this morning that the British government would cooperate with the American government, and he immediately relayed the reply to secretary Stimson.

JAPANESE AND CHINESE IN SHANGHAI ARMISTICE; FIGHTING HAS CEASED

British And American Consuls Arrange Truce — Fear Lull May Be Only Temporary — Four U. S. Destroyers Are En Route To Shanghai —Bombs Dropped By Jap Fliers On International Settlement

(By International News Service)

A provisional truce, subject to confirmation by later negotiation, has been arranged by Japanese and Chinese military authorities at Shanghai after many hours of desperate and spectacular street fighting—the first in modern history in a city of more than a million population.

Doubt is expressed in Shanghai that the truce can be made effective.

Stubborn Resistance

Japanese marines have encountered surprisingly stubborn resistance and have been unable to take the North Station at Shanghai from Chinese regular soldiers. Two Japanese bombing planes have been shot down by Chinese machine-gunners after raiding the native quarter of Chapei.

The Tokyo foreign office disclosed today that the Japanese government is now contemplating the dispatch of an army to Shanghai, despite the protest of the United States government and the milder representations of the British government.

The Japanese fleet at Shanghai is being reinforced by the dispatch of another destroyer flotilla and an aircraft carrier.

U. S. Destroyers Enroute

Four American destroyers are bound for Shanghai from Manila under full steam and other units of the American Asiatic Fleet are in readiness to hasten to the Chinese seaport if the situation warrants.

The foreign consuls at Shanghai are watching the situation closely. The landing of two companies of Japanese marines on the bund yesterday brought a sharp reminder from the consular corps today that the International Settlement cannot be used as a basis for Japanese military operations.

Nevertheless, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Shanghai, unconfirmed from other sources, reports the Japanese are seriously considering seizing the entire International Settlement which would immediately involve them with the United States, Great Britain and other powers.

Fighting Ceases

London, Jan. 29.—British Consul General Brennan informed the foreign office tonight that fighting at Shanghai had ceased promptly at 8 o'clock tonight, Shanghai time, in accordance with terms of the truce arranged by him and United States Consul General Edwin Cunningham.

Both the Chinese and Japanese had ceased firing at that hour, Brennan reported, and there had been no violation of the armistice when his dispatch was filed.

Agree To Truce

Shanghai, Jan. 29.—Chinese and Japanese military authorities provisionally agreed to a truce at 6 o'clock tonight, promising they would cease firing at 8 p. m.

The truce was arranged by United States Consul General Edwin Cunningham and British Consul General Brennan.

In view of the bitter feeling engendered by the fighting in the Chapei district the prospect that hostilities will be halted are considered very slim.

Bombs Hit Settlement

Washington, Jan. 29.—Five bombs have been dropped in the International Settlement by Japanese bombing planes, killing one Chinese woman and doing minor property damage, Col. R. S. Hooker commanding American marines in Shanghai, reported to the Navy Department today.

Col. Hooker's dispatch, which was timed at 8:05 a. m. (E. S. T.) added that at that hour the North Station in Shanghai, where the heaviest fighting has occurred, was "demolished but still in possession of the Chinese."

Navy Report

The Navy Department also made public a summary of events in Shanghai during the 28 and 29th. The following paraphrase was made available from the dispatches of Admiral M. M. Taylor, Commander-in-Chief of the Asiatic Fleet in Manila, and Col. Hooker:

"Japanese forces occupied Chapei at 11:15 p. m. Jan. 28 (10:15 a. m. E. S. T.) Chinese offered some resistance but most of them had already withdrawn. Japanese authorities stated action was necessary in order to protect the Japanese nationals in Chapei.

"Japanese naval forces were reported to have bombarded Woosung Fort early on the 29th.

"Col. Hooker reported that two Japanese armored cars which attempted to pass in to the area guarded by the Shanghai volunteer corps (in the International Concession) were stopped by the volunteer corps.

Hope To Resume Murder Trial In Phoenix, Arizona

ALIENISTS ARE PREPARING NOTES

Mrs. Ruth Judd, "Velvet Tigress" Spends Her 27th Birthday In Cell

By ARTHUR E. MAREK
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 29—They're going to match plain ordinary horse sense of the folks at Phoenix against the elaborate theories of alienists and psychiatrists at the trial of Winnie Ruth Judd for the "trunk" murder of Agnes Anne Leroi.

While Superior Judge Howard C. Speakman was worrying about the state of his jurors' health, County Attorney Lloyd J. Andrews today announced that "five Phoenix residents will be brought into court and asked whether they consider Mrs. Judd sane or insane."

Trial At Standstill.

Today is Ruth's 27th birthday. Whether she will spend it in court depends upon the decision which Judge Speakmen must make today.

Her trial has been at a standstill since Wednesday when one of the jurors, M. T. White was ordered to bed with a heavy cold. Two other jurors, including a lone alternate, likewise have been ailing.

In the event twelve of the jurors report today Judge Speakman is likely to discharge Juror White and continue with the trial.

The alienists are all here in force, for and against the blue-eyed defendant, ready to pick to pieces and reconstruct her whole life and to draw varying conclusions from the same set of circumstances.

It was felt Japan had special interests in Manchuria, just as the United States has in Central America, that she had more or less moral right to protect.

But the occupation of Shanghai, great international city of China, gateway through which passes hundreds of millions of dollars in American goods each year, has put a totally different complexion on the matter.

With the collapse of Europe's purchasing power, the Orient has become one of America's best customers. Far Eastern trade has been assuming more and more importance in American world commerce, and it has been to that section of the world, rather than to Europe American trade experts have been looking for the great commerce of the future.

HOPE TO SECURE FINAL AGREEMENT IN RAIL WAGE CUT

Reservation Made.

Before falling into line with the other unions in reaching a decision the Brotherhood of Railway trainmen, last of the "holdouts," adopted a resolution which constitutes an important reservation in their reply to the pay cut request.

The resolution calls upon the presidents to promise that further wage reductions will not be sought for a year after expiration of the proposed agreement which would be in effect for twelve months beginning February 1. Should the road executives agree to this reservation in return for labor's acceptance of the cut, it would mean that the rail workers would be assured of no more than a five per cent reduction over a period of two years.

Temporary Cut.

Some doubt was expressed over the presidents' willingness to accept this condition, although it was pointed out their original request made no mention of extension of the proposed reduction belong the one-year limit. The requested pay cut has been looked upon as no more than a temporary palliative to relieve the financial stress under which the railroads suffer.

Announcement that all the major brotherhoods represented at the present conference had reached accord on the wage problem was made by labor's spokesman, David B. Robertson.

Although Robertson declined to commit himself respecting the nature of the reply, it was freely predicted that the ten per cent reduction will be accepted.

The problem of the second year's wage scale, which the trainmen insist must return to present levels, appeared to be the only possible obstacle to final settlement of the issue.

POLICE BAFFLED OVER SLAYING OF YOUNG FARM BOY and stated they could throw no light on the strange shooting.

Nutt, returning home from a gay wedding party, was shot and killed on a lonely "lovers' lane" within a short distance of his residence early Tuesday night.

His assailant is believed to have lain in wait for him along the road, known rendezvous of "petters." Nutt himself had broken up several "petting parties" on the country lane but the theory he may have been slain because of those activities was discarded by police.

Hunt For Man

The probe today centered on the identity of a strange man "with an upturned coat collar hiding his face" said to have inquired for Nutt in the vicinity Sunday night.

The fact that the man asked for Nutt by the lad's nickname, "Poodles," led police to believe he was an acquaintance of the dead youth and narrowed the search considerably.

A hunt also was in progress for the death weapon. A bullet from a .25 caliber automatic pistol plowed through Nutt's heart. Police sought the owner of such a gun today.

Many Tips Received

Meanwhile, detectives sought to trace an automobile with Ohio license plates seen in the vicinity on Tuesday evening. Their efforts have been futile.

There was no dearth of clues in connection with the slaying. Numerous "tips" have been received at police headquarters but every clue and tip has led to a blank wall.

After passing resolutions warning the Geneva conference to "subdue might be right," students at the University of Berlin resumed their rioting.—The New York Sun.

workers with some restrictions almost 365 days of the year, and he foresees, he said, the adoption of a similar plan by the basic industries.

His was a message in which optimism was abundant; he predicted the coming of a satisfactory change to more favorable ways in the economic realm.

The county bank group, 50 in all, gathered in the Elks home for their annual dinner and election of officers, enjoyed the stimulating discourse of Mr. Chambers tremendously.

Read Cloak's Paper.

A brilliantly written paper on "The National Credit Corporation," the talk which C. P. Cloak of Ellwood City was to have made, was read by L. L. Gelbach, cashier of the First National bank at Ellwood. Mr. Cloak, also vice president of the association, was prevented from attending.

Following Mr. Gelbach's speech came another message on banking by D. E. Frew, president of the First National bank of Ellwood. Mr. Frew only recently returned to the county bankers' association, having been separated from its activities for some time because of residence elsewhere.

Both before and during and after the the delicious dinner which was spread before the bankers at 6:30, the senior high school orchestra, playing under Prof. J. F. Replogle's direction, provided music strains that won the appreciation of the guests.

McKee Takes Charge.

President Joel S. McKee assumed charge of the speaking program with the conclusion of the dinner. He presided as routine business was transacted, and later announced that election time had rolled around again.

In the voting, the following bankers were chosen to serve during 1932:

President, Joel S. McKee, New Castle; vice president, C. P. Cloak, Ellwood City; secretary, John J. Maher, and treasurer, John D. Kennedy, both of New Castle. For the executive board they chose Howell T. Getty of New Wilmington, Samuel Weinschenk of this city, and N. P. Mortensen, Ellwood City. The officers are ex-officio members.

Practically all the old officers were reinstated.

Acting on a recommendation made by Adolph Green, the group's committee on nominations was continued in service to study the advisability of the selection of an advisory board of prominent county bankers to handle bank matters as they arise. They will take under consideration possible members of such a board.

Comprising this group were George A. Carpenter, Adolph Green, both of this city, and L. L. Gelbach of Ellwood City.

The committee will report to the county men in March.

"There are some people in this city as in other cities who know all things, and understand all things. They can tell us just what is wrong with the city but at the present time they have a wonderful opportunity right before their very noses to aid in correcting a situation which exists. The answer to the critics right now is, how much will you subscribe to the Jameson Memorial Hospital campaign."

The drive is scheduled to close Saturday evening. Between now and Saturday afternoon the workers of the campaign intend to bring in that missing $8,000. If they do, it will bring to a successful conclusion a campaign that will place the Jameson Memorial Hospital on a sound financial basis.

flats of the other nine families as well.

Bombs Hit Concession

Bombs—Japanese bombs—have been dropping by mistake today within the boundaries of the International Concession, endangering the lives of all neutrals, including thousands of American men and women.

But fortunately no casualties have been reported as yet although Japanese seaplanes—big as navy bombers—and carrying hundreds of pounds of detachable explosives have have been hovering nearby and flying over the International Concession all day on their way to and from objectives in the Chinese city.

American women, daintily clad, are watching the war spectacle from the roofs of Shanghai skyscrapers. And believe me, boys and girls, they've got big modern ones here.

Japanese troops landed from warships in the Wankpoo river and have marched across the International Concession and across the boundary into the Chinese city of Chapei.

Both Chinese and foreign residents of this concession consider this the same as a miniature duplication of the march of the German army across Belgium.

Direct Menace

Japanese marines fighting right now in the Chinese city have their military base in this area which houses 20,000 American and European men, women and children.

Foreigners in Shanghai consider this action a direct menace to the lives and property of innocent and unbelligerent neutrals residing here.

If the Chinese forces, overwhelming in numbers, resist the Japanese offensive and drive them back, they—that is, the Japanese—will have to retire on their base here bringing war to the homes of peaceful and non-interested subjects and citizens of other nations.

The roofs of Shanghai's great buildings are grandstand seats for this latest spectacle of man's inhumanity to his brothers.

The late afternoon sun was still shining pink through the greyish mist when I stepped out of an elevator onto the roof of the twelve-story Hotel Cathay.

Half a mile or so to the north two large columns of smoke were rising to the sky while the air was filled with black charred bits of burnt paper. Two Japanese airplanes were hovering in the air right above.

An American girl—an absentee from a dance on the hotel terrace—handed me a pair of binoculars. Her eyes blazing with excitement she pointed toward the nearest and largest column of smoke.

"That's the Chinese railroad station," she said. "I saw a large bomb make a direct hit on the roof two hours ago. The whole roof caved in, and flames and smoke rose a hundred feet in the air.

"The station was full of Chinese soldiers. It's useless—It's horrible—It's murder!"

resistance. Aerial bombs destroyed Chinese military headquarters in Chapei. Japanese authorities attributed to the activities of Japanese airmen what is termed here as the "Chapei victory".

Claim Chinese Attacked.

The Japanese government, International News Service was informed by a high authority, considers its action at Shanghai not in the nature of an independent move but as a gesture in behalf of the entire international settlement, which it feels is menaced by unrest and truculence among the Chinese and inability of local Chinese authorities to cope with them.

Official version of the fighting at Shanghai is that at the beginning of disorders, the settlement as a whole declared martial law.

Japanese troops, in the natural course of events, were assigned to guard their portion of the boundary. They were attacked by Chinese, Japanese officials hold, and were forced to reply, the hostilities precipitating the situation which now exists.

This explanation is expected to be embodied in a formal statement to be issued by the foreign office tomorrow, setting forth for the benefit of all the various causes and events leading up to the existing international crisis.

JAPANESE AND CHINESE AGREE UPON ARMISTICE

the Japanese at the North Station. To the south I could see a steady stream of terror stricken women and children fleeing across Soochow Creek toward the International Settlement, rifle bullets whiming over their heads.

Thousands upon thousands of refugees crowded the numerous small bridges over the creek that divides the international settlement from the native sections of the city to the north.

In their wild flight, scores of the refugees were shoved off the bridges and into the water. Many were rescued by United States Marines posted on the international side of the Terway. Others, including scores of mothers with children in their arms, made their way painfully to boats moored at the banks of the creek, where they clung perilously until samaritans fished them out with boat-hooks.

Still others, pushed into the water in midstream, clutched at the sides of Sampans until rescuers arrived. Guards along the creek aided in the rescues.

Cantonese troops were firmly barricaded in the North Station. The long avenues approaching the station bristled with machine guns, while a solitary motor car, riddled with bullets, blocked the only means of approach from the other end.

From my vantage point, it could be seen that damage to the Chinese city was colossal. All stores and banks were closed. Foreign volunteers flowed into the race course in back of the settlement, transforming the scene of Shanghai's greatest gayety into an armed camp.

My survey of the situation was suddenly interrupted when a band of soldiers posted inside a battered station house near by spotted me and turned their Thompson guns in my direction. An undelayed retreat followed.

Shanghai, Jan. 29. — Japanese troops have been defeated in their attempt to capture the North Shanghai Railway station after hours of desperate battling with Chinese regulars.

This is the first reverse sustained by the Nipponese since the Sino-Japanese conflict broke out in Manchuria last September.

Japanese marine headquarters admitted at 4 o'clock this afternoon that the attempt to capture the station, where fighting had been proceeding since 2 o'clock this morning, had been abandoned.

Desperate Battle

Chinese machine-gunners maintained a desperate resistance in the open place before the station which had been reduced to a blazing ruin by Japanese bombs.

Japanese troops this afternoon were advancing west of the station and north of the international settlement boundary in an effort to squeeze out the Chinese defenders. Brisk firing continued.

The Japanese attempted to capture a Chinese armored train which assisted in the defense of the station but the train escaped.

Planes Shot Down

Two Japanese bombing planes were shot down during today's fighting in which the Chinese everywhere were stubbornly delaying the Japanese advance.

Chinese machine-gunners at 9 9 o'clock this morning brought down one Japanese plane which crashed on the roof of a printing plant. The bombs it was carrying exploded and the building was destroyed. Two Japanese flyers were killed.

Buildings Damaged

Fragments of six shells from Chinese anti-aircraft guns fell in the French concession during a Japanese air raid on Chapei, damaging buildings, but there were no casualties.

Late this afternoon Japenese troops were rushed northward in an attempt to cut the railroad between Shanghai and Chenju to prevent the arrival of Chinese reinforcements.

ANNUAL BANQUET KUM JOIN US CLASS

The annual banquet of the Kum Join Us class of the Croton Avenue Methodist church was held Thursday evening in the church dining room with places marked for forty-eight members and guests.

The dining room was attractively decorated for the event in tones of pink and green.

Concluding dinner an enjoyable program was presented with S. W. Rakestraw in the role of toastmaster. Mrs. A. C. Bernard sang; Marian Shaffer gave a reading and Clara Eddy played a piano selection.

T. W. McCullough, the speaker of the evening, gave an interesting address on the early history of Western Pennsylvania, touching on the first colony and settlement around New Castle.

Mrs. E. J. Switzer, who organized the class twenty-eight years ago, made a few remarks as to the progress of the class, after which O. A. Rodgers, a former teacher, gave a short talk.

Mrs. J. B. Twaddle told of her pleasant association with the class as the present teacher.

A quartet, R. E. Heckathorne, F. W. McEwen, H. H. Lackey and John Waggoner, received much applause for the songs they sang. Marian Shaffer pleased with guitar numbers and a special number by Mrs. Twaddle caused much laughter.

A comedy play "Getting Rid of Father" was presented by Mrs. H. H. Lackey, John Waggoner, F. W. McEwen and C. M. Eddy.

Former members present from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell of Sewickley and Mrs. George McGinnis of Pitcairn.

The entertainment committee included Mrs. C. M. Eddy, Mrs. F. W. McEwen and Mrs. S. W. Rakestraw and the decorating committee was Mrs. Ward Sizer, Mrs. Bert Baker and Mrs. John Waggoner.

L. Q. Club

Miss A. Colchiski of East Brook entertained the L. Q. Club members in her home Thursday evening at bridge. The prize for high score was won by Peg McCleary, and following the contest, the hostess served lunch.

They later adjourned agreeing to meet again on February 9 with Miss Ruth Kurtz on Moore avenue.

SURPRISE GATHERING HONORS BIRTHDAY

In honor of his birthday anniversary, Earl L. Patton of Butler avenue was tendered a pleasant surprise on Thursday evening by friends, when they invaded his home most unexpectedly.

The party was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. William Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. E. Milliken and Berniece Musser all of this city, Margaret Pyle of Mercer, Helen Curtiss of Sharon, Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Baldwin of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Goodman, of Cleveland, O. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Patton of Hartstown, Earl Hunter of Meadville, Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, of Wheeling, West Virginia.

The hours were kept lively with radio music and dancing and at a suitable time, the guests were given their places about a large table fittingly decorated for the occasion, the center being graced with a large birthday cake, made by Mrs. Alice Gordon. The cake when cut, proved a double surprise to the honored one and all those in attendance. Its contents included humorous items too numerous to mention

Before departing, the guest of honor was presented with a collection of many handsome gifts in memory of the day.

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND COUNCIL

Mrs. E. J. Suber, Mrs. Jack Wilson and Miss Lillian Hartman were delegates from the local Auxiliary of the American Legion at the four county council held Thursday in St. Peter's Reformed church, Zelienople.

One hundred forty four women from Lawrence, Mercer, Butler and Beaver county were in attendance and splendid reports were made of the work done by the various auxiliaries, especially in the line of relief to needy veterans' families.

Mrs. Moore, the past department president, asked that the women make 150 dresser scarfs for the new addition to the veteran's hospital at Aspinwall, also that they knit bed slippers and knee pads for the patients there.

March 24 the council will meet at Beaver.

MRS. ROY McCOWN LUNCHEON HOSTESS

A special social event of Thursday afternoon was the tureen luncheon served in the home of Mrs. Roy McCown on Maryland avenue when she received associates of Section A of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church. Covers marked for 18 guests at a table nicely arranged for the occasion, and as special guests the hostess had Mrs. Claudia McCown, Mrs. Harry Ramsey and Mrs. S. B. Copeland. Prayer was led by Mrs. D. C. Brown, president of the group.

After the serving of a delicious menu the members held a brief business session when it was heported by the treasurer that $70 had been turned into the class during the past year, with the balance of $19. Other items of interest were also brought up at this time

The remaining hours were spent with sewing, quilting and chat.

The regular meeting of the members will be held on Thursday, February 11, with Mrs. Lulu Kocher and Mrs. Milton Book joint hostesses at the home of the former on Maryland avenue.

CLASS ENTERTAINS AT EVENING DINNER

A pretty event of Thursday evening was the dinner party held in the dining room of the Central Presbyterian church when the members of the Helping Hand class entertained the members of the Light and Power class at tables prettily decorated in keeping with the Valentine season.

Places were arranged for thirty eight and a delicious menu was served from tureens brought by the women, with Mrs. George Massie, Mrs. Raymond Williams, Mrs. Annie Finney and Mrs. David Klingensmith in charge.

When dinner was over the quarterly business meeting was held and reports given of the past three months' activities.

A delightfully humorous playlet was presented by Mrs. J. N. McCandless, Mrs. Margaret Kelso, Mrs. F. M. Mershimer, Junior McCandless, Bobby Bohn and Ernest McCandless. The title was "A Helping Hand Limited."

Amerita Club Anniversary.

Thursday, January 28 marked the second anniversary of the Amerita Club, and in observance of this occasion, the members entertained at a prettily appointed party held in the St. Vitus club house on Maitland street. The hours were spent informally with cards and music and after the entertainment period had concluded, prizes were given to Miss Irene Lombardo and Mrs. Mario Frabotta.

Lunch was served at a late hour at a table beautifully appointed in the season's tones. The center was graced with a large cake, topped with lighted candles, and other decorations in keeping with the affair were used effectively.

Special guests included Mrs. Joseph Leta, Irene Lombardo and Elizabeth Lombardo.

The members adjourned voting the event a success. On February 11 Mrs. A. M. Perfaiano of South Mill street will entertain at their regular session.

N. B. S. Club

Misses Betty and Kathryn Weinschenk, Edgewood avenue, entertained the members of the N. B. S. Club in their home Wednesday evening and the club was reorganized and officers named.

Ruth Phillips was chosen as the new president; Betty Joshua, the secretary and Dorothy Baldwin, the news reporter.

Dramatics and acrobatics featured the evening hours, with Betty Joshua, Marian Evans and Betty Weinschenk giving the acrobatic demonstrations. Miss Joshua also pleased with a vocal number. The latter part of the evening was spent at games and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Miss Gladys Weinschenk was a special guest.

February 12, a spaghetti dinner will be the feature of the evening, with the girls meeting with Betty Joshua, Haus avenue.

E. N. C. Club Luncheon.

Mrs. I. A. Lytle of East New Castle entertained the E. N. C. club members in her home Thursday, at a 1 o'clock luncheon. The hostess was assisted in serving a delicious course by Mrs. Roy Houk and Mrs. Ted Watson at a table beautifully appointed in the season's tones. Places marked for all members and two guests, Mrs. George of Vandergrift and Mrs. R. J. Frederick, wife of Rev. Frederick of the Calvary church.

The remaining hours were spent informally with games and music. Prizes for the afternoon were awarded to Mrs. Lytle and Mrs. Frederick.

On Thursday, February 18 the club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. John Miller of East New Castle.

X. Y. Z. Club

The X. Y. Z. Club associates were delightfully entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John R. Hunter, Highland avenue, marking another of their regular social sessions. The hours were whiled away with informal pastimes, and during the short business meeting that preceded, Mrs. Amos Pyle and Mrs. C. C. Williams were taken into the club as new members.

A delicious collation was later served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Laura Wallace. The table was nicely decorated in the seasons tones for this purpose.

On Thursday, February 18, the club will meet again, the place to be announced later.

D. E. U. Club.

Bridge formed the pastime for D. U. E. club members on Thursday evening when they gathered in the home of Eunice Woodcock on Summit street. Robert Faulas was given the prize for high score at the close of play. Later, lunch was served at the dining room table, centered with flowers. Tones of yellow and white prevailed in the favors, place marks and other appointments. The hostess was aided by Miss Annie Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Slavonsky of Youngstown, O., the latter who favored the group with a couple of vocal selections, were special guests.

MRS. HERB McGOUN RECEIVES BOOK CLUB

Another delightful meeting of the Highland Book Club members was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herb McGoun on Lincoln avenue. The occasion was featured with a 1 o'clock luncheon, and a sumptuous menu was served at a large table beautifully decorated in tones suggestive of the season.

Following, the usual exchange of books occurred, and a contest in bridge occupied the guests attention during the balance of the afternoon.

Wed In Michigan

Announcement of the marriage of LaVerne Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Henry, of North Greenwood avenue, to Miss Margaret Louise Kennedy, Newton Falls, O., resident at Monroe, Mich., was made this morning by Mr. Henry's parents.

The ceremony occurred in the Trinity Episcopal church at Monroe, where the bridegroom is employed, on January 16. The announcement reached here at that time. Officiating was the pastor, the Rev. Ralph S. Putney.

Mr. Henry will be remembered by many New Castle young men since he attended Senior high school here. He went to Monroe later, becoming employed with a subsidiary plant of General Motors in that city. The couple will reside at Monroe.

Moonlight 500 Club.

The Moonlight 500 club members were pleasingly received Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. George Woodring, Adams street. Two tables of cards were in play as the main pastime, and prizes were won by Mrs. Harry Leathers, Mrs. Williard Shaffer and Mrs. Francis Johnson. A group of piano selections were given by Betty Woodring and Audrey Young as special features of the occasion.

After the serving of a dainty repast by the hostess, assisted by her daughter Betty, the meeting adjourned. In two weeks, Mrs. I. A. Taylor of Adams street will be club hostess.

Jolly Twelve Club.

Mrs. John Lusk of Young street, entertained the Jolly Twelve club members on Thursday evening. After a short business period, a social time was enjoyed with cards and bingo as features. Prizes were given to those at the close of the entertainment who were successful in winning honors.

Refreshments served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Clarence McConnell, at a table beautifully appointed and centered with a bouquet of flowers, concluded the evening.

In two weeks, Mrs. Charles Riney of Superior street will be club hostess.

Theta-Nu Club Guests

The home of Mrs. C. E. Connor of Pennsylvania avenue was the scene of a social gathering Thursday evening when she received the Theta-Nu Club members for a social time. The hours were spent informally, and lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Clifford Johns and Mrs. Clyde Grannis at the close of the meeting. Pastel tones prevailed throughout in the menu appointments.

On Thursday February 25 the club will be guests of Mrs. Grannis on Walnut street.

Kritzer-Panella.

On Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, Miss Mary Frances Kritzer, daughter of Jacob Kritzer of the East Brook road, became the birde of William Panella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Panella of 103 South Liberty street. High mass was celebrated in St. Joseph's church with Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Doerr being the officiant.

The young couple left for a few days wedding trip, and upon their return will take up their residence at 103 South Liberty street this city. Mr. Panella is associated with the B. and O. railroad as assistant foreman.

A. A. A. Club.

How to Conquer Sluggishness

Stimulate the colon and that child with a finicky appetite will devour everything set before him. Here's the simple treatment that does more for babies or older children than all the diets, fad foods, or tonics.

Nature has provided the only "medicine" you'll need to stir a child's colon muscles into proper action. California fig syrup. Pure, delicious, harmless. It acts on the lower colon—where the trouble is. It has no ill effects on the intestines,

Begin tonight, with this marvelous "California treatment." Any druggist has California fig syrup, all bottled, with directions. Use enough the first time to cleanse the clogged colon of every bit of poison and hard waste. Then just a little twice a week until the child's appetite, color, weight and spirits tell you the stasis is gone. Whenever a cold or other upset clogs the system again, use this natural vegetable laxative instead of drastic drugs.

WARNING

There are dealers who practice substitution. Be sure to protect your child by looking for the name CALIFORNIA on the bottle.

A Rolling Stone Gathers No Moss

I could never see any use of gathering moss be cause you can't sell it, you can't eat it, you can't trade it for anything useful so that's another good old phrase shot to pieces. But I say there is some use in gathering S. and H. Green Trading Stamps because you can trade them for very useful premiums. Just you come in and let us give you one of the books that shows you the many beautiful and useful things you can get by saving stamps. Tomorrow we are going to give you a lot of extra stamps with your purchases.

Now folks if you cannot carry your purchase home don't forget we'll deliver it for you. Billy Burrows has got a complete stock of groceries, fresh fruits and vegetables, home grown potatoes, flour, bread and pastry. Bill Kerber has made his usual trip to the country and he got a fine bunch of lambs and calves, then we have a fine lot of buttermilk fed chickens right out of our big brooder house they are all real live healthy birds—you pick 'em out and we dress 'em.

OUTLOOK FOR GRADUATES

AT THE Ben Franklin Junior high school auditorium tonight, 148 members of the New Castle senior high school will be handed diplomas, signifying that they have completed the required high school course, in one department or another.

Coming as it does, in a time where there is a great lack of employment, and where even the challenging spirit of youth may meet with severe rebuff, the problem of the graduate is more complicated than in perhaps any other year for a long time.

In normal years, graduates of the high school, who are not inclined to continue their education in higher institutions, can generally find some sort of employment on leaving school, at least for a period until they definitely determine upon their life work.

This year, however, there is no such outlook for the senior who is handed a sheepskin tonight.

This is fortunate, as well as unfortunate. It means that there is only one avenue open to most of the graduates, that of continuing their pursuit of education. Even if it is necessary to remain in school for the rest of the school year and do post-graduate work, it seems that this would be a commendable course.

For those who can enter college, of course there is no problem. They will simply make the step without difficulty.

But, with much time on their hands, the graduates of the present class should aim to make the best of it. Certain it is that the depression that has gripped the world is beginning to show signs of passing. There will be normal demand for qualified young men and women in the not far distant future. The graduates should prepare for that time. Hence, we say, continue to study. Keep on going to school. Education secured at this period of unemployment may mean much to you later. It may even be the very thing that will keep you from being among the unemployed in future years should a recurrence of the depression era be experienced.

Don't quit school and loaf, just because you get a diploma tonight!

BANK ACT CHANGES

Through amendments to the federal reserve act it is hoped by some to prevent a repetition of the market inflation which ended in the "Black October" of 1929. Sponsors of proposed revisions trace part of the responsibility to defects or loopholes in the act as it stands.

Senator Glass has proposed amendments which he says are based on the lessons of 18 years of experience with emphasis on the teachings of the last two. The clauses covering the curbing of speculative use of credit and authorizing reserve bank aid in the prompt liquidation of closed banks are the outgrowth of events following the hectic October of two years ago.

It must be obvious to all after the bursting of that last securities bubble that the federal reserve system should exert some restraint on the extension of speculative credit. Under such restraint the bubble could not have attained the proportions which made the bursting inevitable. There is also a real need for some such liquidating corporation as the Glass measure proposes for the aiding of depositors of closed banks.

Excessive profits made by investment bankers on foreign loans now in default with resultant loss to thousands of American investors are responsible for the writing into these reform measures provisions for establishing more effective supervision over foreign loans. Increasing competition from rapidly spreading chain banking systems assures support from small bankers for the clause for more rigid control of chain banks.

DUTY OF SOCIETY

In the early history of this country—in fact, up to within two generations—parents appeared to feel a real responsibility for the discipline and conduct of their children. Many modern parents seem to hold to the belief that the schools and society should take from them the obligation of child training.

Many children lack at home the discipline and training that is necessary for the building of stable character, and if they are not taught helpful precepts for their early years by the school and the churches, they are left to acquire the usually harmful knowledge that is picked up on the street.

Today the responsibility for the training of the youth seems to have been placed upon society, thereby making it possible for many parents to escape the obligations that are theirs by right and to a large extent are considered so by law. Organized society has made it possible for many parents to evade their duties in raising their children.

The weakest government is usually the one which has assumed a paternalistic attitude towards its people. Looking to the government and the smaller unites of society for help has always had the effect of breaking down the morale of the individual, for many persons are not willing to acquire by their own effort what they can secure for nothing.

Society is trying to improve its methods of educating and caring for its individuals, but it is not responsible for the minds and the emotions put into them by nature. It voluntarily does its share, but if the individuals get into trouble, society has not neglected its duty.

HIGH COST OF BAD HEALTH

Louis I. Dublin, health statistician, asserts that the total economic value of human beings in the United States—of their revenue-producing value—is about 1,500 billion dollars, as opposed to all material and animal wealth in the country of 321 billion dollars.

He asserts that the economic loss by preventable deaths is six billion dollars yearly, while 2¼ billion are lost through illness sufficient to incapacitate the sick from working.

It is clear, without raising the question of humanity, much less sentimentality, that public money spent for health protection and education will be repaid many times over by reducing unnecessary deaths and sickness.

The civilized peoples are those that pay the highest prices for beads.

Little Girl Afraid of Her Shadow
Crying and Clinging
Little Girl, Wait a While

By MARSHALL MASLIN

A tiny girl who had not been walking long—and often fell and bumped her tender nose and cried and smiled and tried again—went walking with her mother in a world that was all new and exciting.

And when her mother wished to carry her she would not have it so. She wanted to walk "all by herself." She climbed stairs and crossed streets, clinging to her mother's hand and adored plants and gurgled at this and that and was very proud.

Until, in a park, she slipped from her mother and ran away. Ran out into a clear space, where the sun was shining warmly and where a little girl could feel very brave, indeed. Then, suddenly, she began to cry—made those frightened sounds that all mothers know. And ran here and there and stumbled and was pitifully afraid and stumbled back to where her mother was and hid her face in her mother's lap and sobbed and sobbed.

What happened? Well, for the first time in her short life that little girl had seen her shadow. There on the ground, wherever she went, was something black that followed grimly and could not be escaped.

Strange, unknown, terrible! and quite too much for a little girl who had known nothing but comforting and kisses. So she cried—and her mother was touched and amused and tenderly sympathetic—and put her daughter forth again to become acquainted with her shadow.

Because, Small Child, a little girl must learn that a shadow will not hurt her. It cannot bite, it cannot sting, it cannot burn. It is her own making, too. She stood between the warm sun and the warm earth and her own plump self made the shadow that sent her weeping to her mother's lap.

So, Small Child, you need not be afraid. You will be big some day and you'll have troubles and perhaps you'll be frightened. But most of them, you will find, will be like that same black shadow you made today, that small, terrible thing that followed you everywhere and would not go away.

Some day, in the midst of an enormous woe, you'll look back to this day when you were "just a little girl afraid of her own shadow"—and it'll be a great comfort to you. . . . Just wait and see!

Just Folks

THE LITTLE SICK GIRL

The little sick child doesn't get in the way
Or bring in the neighboring children to play.
The house is as still as a church on a Monday,
And though 'tis a week day it seems just like Sunday.
For everything's neat
And her gay little feet
Aren't tracking the parlor with mud from the street.

The little sick child isn't racing about;
It seems like a year since we last heard her shout.
Without interruption to talk, now we're able.
There's no one at meals to spill milk on the table.
From morning till night
Everything is just right,
And yet in perfection we find no delight.

It doesn't take long when a little one's ill
To weary of rooms that are tidy and still.
The day quickly comes when you'd give all your gold for
The racket and noise which so often you scold for.
For that obstinate yell,
And that clamorous yell,
And that trouble she makes are the signs that she's well.

WORKERS' IDEAS

Why so insistent that your way is the only way of doing business?

Are you employing men to do only your way, or are you trying to improve constantly on your own way and make a better, bigger business?

If your way is out of the general run of those who are engaged successfully in the same business, it is hardly probable that it is so superior.

If your methods were so vastly better than other methods they would be more generally adopted by other firms.

But you expect your men to work in the groove you lay down.

You don't care for the inventor—you think him a dreamer.

However those who have built up the biggest establishments are the ones who regularly employ someone to think up improvements with economy.

Often such a man more than pays for his own salary.

If he furnishes ideas they must be tried out and proven practical.

And there should be no law against any other worker thinking out ideas and being able to present them to the firm for approval.

It helps any business when the workers know their ideas will be given a fair trial and due credit.

And it is a satisfaction to feel workers have your interest at heart and a gratification to them to know their efforts are appreciated.

However, the laws should not have teeth enough to bite off more than they can chew.—The Ashland Daily Independent.

Island Political Standards Blamed For Hawaiian Crimes

American Opinion Favors Investigation Of Local Political Conditions Which Are Held Responsible For Recent Disturbances

With news columns reporting charges and counter-charges as to where the blame lies for the recent disturbances in Hawaii, including a number of attacks on women, a flogging and a murder, the editorial opinion of the United States shows a majority view that the situation should be subjected to vigorous investigation. It is generally held that the local political conditions in the Islands are responsible for the alleged failure of law enforcement and a demand is expressed for a clean-up of this situation, though there are suggestions that American cities show similar faults and that judgment should be suspended until further information is obtained as to general conditions on the Islands.

"When courts fail, the people are prone to take matters into their own hands," suggests the OKLAHOMA CITY OKLAHOMAN, pointing out that "the facts in themselves convict Hawaiian courts of inadequacy at least," while "had the law been enforced vigorously and had real protection been given the people, mob law would not have disgraced the paradise of the Pacific."

Referring to the attack on the wife of a naval officer and the subsequent murder of one of the alleged attackers, the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE holds that "Hawaii seems to have been quick to recognize the tragedy as a symptom of a condition, and to know that what the condition requires is exposure and cure." The paper emphasizes "the sure instinct of those citizens of Hawaii who see the whole horrible affair for what it really is—the result of their own civic slackness and of the machine politics, easy corroupption and carelessness which are its inevitable products."

The WILKES-BARRE TIMES LEADER, pointing out that "the unwillingness of the police force to assist in prosecution and gathering evidence has been noted," feels that "Congress may well investigate," while the OGDEN STANDARD EXAMINER holds that such an investigation "will help to impress the authorities in Honolulu that they are under severe criticism and their loose methods cannot longer be tolerated." The MILWAUKEE SENTINEL, while doubting a change in the laws of the islands will be necessary, demands enforcement of the law, with the conclusion that "the police department of Honolulu undoubtedly is corrupt and inefficient," and that "a bad police department should not be permitted to disrupt an entire government which has functioned very satisfactorily."

Ill-feeling known to exist inspires the belief on the part of the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM that there should be a "thorough inquiry with a view to determining not only the responsibility for recent outrages but also the measures needed to prevent disorders in the future." The Star-Telegram continues: "In this inquiry, one important 'side issue' question should not be overlooked. That question concerns the fitness of the Hawaiian population for the degree of autonomy it now enjoys. It may be advisable, indeed imperative, to strengthen the governmental machinery of the Pacific dependency. The elective system may have to be modified, and more authority vested in, or returned to, the War Department at Washington and its representatives in the islands. Democracy is a boon only if and when its beneficiaries are ready for that form of government. Order, safety and decency are fundamental requisites, and the mere form of government is a secondary consideration."

Commenting on the Hawaiian Governor's statement that one of the persons involved in the assault case which attracted public attention, was freed from prison on another case because there were "extenuating circumstances," the APPLETON POST-CRESCENT replies: "There always are extenuating circumstances, or they can be picked out of the passing breezes by an executive bent on pleasing some interceding friend of the accused. The greatest deterrent to crime will always remain the same. It lies in the certainty of punishment of the guilty, not in the savagery of that punishment."

"Obviously there is a bad condition in Hawaii and one that the authorities there should proceed promptly to correct," asserts the HAVERHILL GAZETTE, while the GARY POST-TRIBUNE feels that "the Hawaiian difficulty is a complex affair, the outcome of many different factors." The HOUSTON CHRONICLE remarks: "It seems that those Hawaiians who have been called to jury duty in the trial of various attack cases have shown peculiar apathy in convicting assailants. As a result of a hung jury, the native blood Hawaiian who supposedly participated in the outrage of Ala Moana went scot free. That unfortunate development roused the blood of the navy to boiling point. Until the police of Honolulu and the officials of Hawaii from the governor on down take stern steps to run down, prosecute and convict criminals and degenerates of the islands serious outbreaks can be expected."

"It is to be noted," says the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL, "as possible proof that all in Honolulu is not hopeless, so far as the administration of justice is concerned, that the young naval officer in question is said to have expressed a wish to be tried before a Honolulu jury rather than by a jury of naval officers. He shows no fear that justice is unattainable before a Honolulu jury. This is a good time to go a little slowly in deciding upon a sure cure for what may possibly be the matter with Honolulu. Furthermore, before judging our Hawaiian citizens too harshly, mainlanders might well give further thought to making their own cities safe for womankind."

Calling for suspended judgment as to the disclosures, the DANBURY EVENING NEWS comments: "We believe that, while every decent and humane person deplores the recent terrible happenings in Hawaii, with so many miles lying between us and the scene of those horrors, with so much that it is difficult for us to understand happening in those more or less mysterious islands, we should refuse to issue snap judgments with regard to matters on which, at best, we have insufficient and perhaps not unbiased information."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HOOVER STORIES

Just now there are a large number of "Hoover Stories" being broadcast. Perhaps the politicians know the reason. Here are two:

When the Boxer Rebellion broke out in China, thirty-one years ago, a young American mining engineer and his wife found themselves in the midst of it, the same couple who now live in the White House. The man who is now President of the United States was put in charge of defensive operations of the American quarter at Tientsin, and had to provide safety, rations and shelter for the men, women and children of the colony. For a time, the house in which the Hoovers lived and in which they sheltered some of the refugees, came under a raking fire from Chinese guns trained on the "foreign devils." It is told of Mrs. Hoover that she declined to interrupt a game of solitaire because a shell crashed through the roof and all but wrecked her home.

The football season, just passed, revived a Hoover story. In the '90's, while a student at Stanford, the President was business manager of the football team. Watching gate receipts was his particular duty. One Saturday, a benevolent looking old gentleman brushed by the boy taking tickets. The stranger who refused to pay was pointed out to Manager Hoover, who confronted him in the grandstand and stood his ground until the gate crasher disgorged a quarter. The benevolent looking old gentleman was Andrew Carnegie of Scottish descent.

THE NEWS, ONE YEAR, BY MAIL, $5.00

In Religious And Fraternal Circles

Miscea Choir

The Miscea choir under the direction of William Richards, which is to compete at Warren, Ohio, on May 7, will meet for its first rehearsal next Sunday evening at 8:45 p. m. at the Emmanuel Baptist church.

Executive Meeting

The executive board of the First Congregational church will meet in the church parlors Saturday at 2:30 p. m., at which time matters of importance will be discussed.

Plan Study Class

The initial meeting for the mission study class of the W. M. S. of St. John's Lutheran church will be held Tuesday evening, February 2, in the church, in the form of a tureen dinner.

Mrs. C. W. Herman Hess will teach the book "Christ Comes to the Village."

These plans were completed at the meeting of the Society held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. William Mitchell, Spruce street, at which time committees were named and work for the year mapped out.

Mrs. William Emery was in charge of an interesting program.

Communion Services.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be served Sunday in the Third United Presbyterian church at both morning and evening services.

Queen Esther Class.

The Queen Esther class of the Third United Presbyterian church will meet Monday evening at the home of Susan Wallace, Adams St., with Mrs. Alice Rapson as associate hostess.

Officers Meeting.

The elders and deacons of the Third United Presbyterian church will meet Monday evening at 7:30 in the church for the monthly business session.

Moravia Class

The Willing Workers class of the Moravia Presbyterian church will have their monthly meeting this evening in the church in the form of an oyster supper.

Missionary Meeting

The members of the Agnes Schaade Missionary Society of the St. Paul's Lutheran church were entertained Wednesday evening in the parsonage by Mrs. A. M. Stump.

Miss Rose Sanders, president, was in charge of the devotional opening and the business period. Miss Gertrude Tontsch was a special guest and Miss Marian Wilson was enrolled as a new member.

February 25 the society will meet with Agnes Schuler, West Washington street.

Willing Workers Meet

The Willing Workers class of the First Congregational church met Thursday evening in the home of the Misses Margaret and Florrie Davis, Waldo street.

Mrs. Clifford James, the new president, was in charge of the business session, after which a period of games was enjoyed. Prizes were won by Mrs. Albert Jones, Mrs. Ben Fowler, Mrs. John McElroy and Mrs. Carl Turner.

Mrs. Daniel Hughes was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. D. W. Thomas and Elizabeth Rees assisted the hostesses in serving refreshments.

February 25 the class will be entertained at a Valentine party in the home of Mrs. James Davis, Wallace avenue.

To Entertain League

The members of the First Methodist Epworth League will be guests of the Epworth Methodist church league Sunday evening at the regular meeting.

A special musical program will feature the meeting.

Macedonian Circle

The Misses Aiken, 317 East street, will entertain members of the Macedonian Circle of the Second United Presbyterian church in their home Tuesday evening, February 2.

It is anticipated that every member of the Circle will be present at this meeting.

Standard Bearers

Miss Mary Nunn, Edison avenue, entertained the members of the Standard Bearers of the First Methodist church in her home Thursday evening for the monthly session.

Miss Nunn presided at the business session, after which the second chapter of the study book, "Christ Comes to the Village" was reviewed. Miss Margaret Wallace gave some missionary illustrations and stories after which the girls sewed on quilt patches.

Special guests were Misses Virginia Cook and Beryl Nunn. Margaret and Dorothy Jones were enrolled as new members.

Message Circle

The Church of Spiritual Service will have a message circle Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. George Frey, Addis street.

Rev. Clara Cook of Homestead will be the mediator and will also conduct the Sunday afternoon and evening services of the church in the City Building.

Degree Team Meets

An election resulted in Mrs. Alice Thompson being chosen president: Mrs. Florence Gillespie, vice president; Ninnie Howard, secretary and Mrs. Elizabeth Ward, press reporter.

After business an exciting "stunt" period was held and a prize was awarded Mrs. Julia Nixon. At the bingo game awards were made to Mrs. Sara McCormick and Mrs. Mary Bailey.

Gleaner's Society

The members of the Gleaners' Missionary Society of the Second United Presbyterian church will meet Monday evening, February 1, in the home of Mrs. C. D. Parker, 932 East Morton street, with Mrs. S. R. Wilkison as the leader.

An election of officers will feature the meeting.

Heart Queen Esthers

At a dinner held by the Hart Queen Esthers in the Epworth Methodist church Tuesday evening of this week plans were completed for the regular business meeting, which will be held Tuesday evening, February 2, in the home of Mrs. Ruth Teets, 412 Meyer avenue.

True Blue Class

The January meeting of the True Blue class of the Second United Presbyterian church was held Thursday evening in the home of Lura Jenkins, West State street, at which time officers were named for the coming year.

Miss Jenkins was selected as the new president.

The social period was featured by piano numbers, played by Julia Sidley and Evelyn Frances Patton. A dainty lunch brought this period to a close.

Union Label League

A successful card party was held Thursday evening by the Women's Union Label League in the Trades Assembly Hall.

Five hundred and bingo were the evening's diversions and prizes were won by Mrs. A. G. Skundor, Mrs. W. Ansell, A. G. Skundor and E. Quinn in cards and the bingo awards went to Mrs. Nora Vogan, Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Seamons, Mrs. M. Shook, E. Seamans, Mrs. Keinest and Miss Hites.

W. C. T. U. and L. T. L.

Harbor Union

Members of the Harbor Union of the W. C. T. U. met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Frances Pinkerton, with the hostess as leader for the day.

After the devotional opening, a program on "Evangelism" was presented, with Miss Blanche Perkins, Mrs. H. J. Kenehan and Mrs. Herman Byler reading articles on the subject. A general discussion followed the program and Mrs. H. J. Kenehan presided at a brief business meeting.

Mrs. A. T. Eckles of the Harbor will have the group for the February meeting.

ERIE ASKS AUTHORITY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The Erie railroad today asked the interstate commerce commission for authority to issue and place in its treasury $25,000,000 of refunding and improvement 6 per cent mortgage bonds.

NEWS AD SWAMPS PHONE OPERATORS

Value of New Castle News advertising was never more clearly demonstrated than last evening, when a classified advertisement literally swamped the operators at the Bell Telephone exchange here, and they were given a hectic hour trying to make connections.

Someone inserted a classified advertisement for a young man to drive a delivery truck, asking that they call a certain phone number between 6 and 7 o'clock. The calls started coming in as early as 5 o'clock, when the normal business of the exchange was exceeded by ten per cent. Between 7 and 8 o'clock it was 60 per cent above the normal rate, and then tapered off to 30 per cent above normal between 8 and 9 o'clock.

Whoever was seeking the man should have had no trouble in picking one out from the number who called him.

Voile Boudoir Pillows at 29c

Here are some of the reasons for this Ballyhoo Sale—there are more, but they don't count.

1—To get rid of old stuff that we're tired of looking at.

2—To prove our theory that we believe in carrying NOTHING over from season to season.

3—To attract people into the store to see what it's all about.

Here's Ohio Rival For Portersville

FREMONT, O., Jan. 29.—Newton Tucker today added the finishing touch to Fremont's list of freak winter anecdotes by starting to cut the second crop of cabbage on his farm near here.

Plants slow in maturing last fall were allowed to remain in the ground. Tucker recently discovered the heads had filled out solidly and were ready for cutting.

He said it was the first time he had heard of such an occurrence, especially in a community where cabbage is as important a crop as it is here.

Three Children Bitten By Dog

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—Bitten by their pet dog, which suddenly went mad, three members of one family were under a physician's care today. The dog was shot.

Those suffering from dog bites are Marie, Bertha and Raymond Baumann, aged 7, 12 and 10 respectively.

POLICE POINT WITH PRIDE

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS.—Increased efficiency of the police department was ascribed by Chief of Police Joseph A. Gerk as being responsible for the decrease in major crimes in St. Louis in the past year. He said that major crimes decreased from 11,198 in 1930 to 11,094 in 1931, while the record of the department in solving major crimes rose from 49.6 per cent to 50.5. The use of the police-radio system and better cooperation with the courts also played important parts in the matter of cleaning up cases, Chief Gerk declared.

There are 17,242 pilots, 10,609 aircraft and 9,166 mechanics holding department of commerce licenses. There were 476 women pilots. California led in the number of pilots New York second.

NATURE IS BEST DOCTOR

(International News Service)

BOSTON—Nature cures nine diseases to every one cured by science, and the human body is its own best doctor, according to Dr. Richard Cabot, of the Harvard Medical School, and the Massachusetts General hospital. In a speech before the Boston Y. W. C. A., Dr. Cabot declared that: "Viewing the history of human lives as revealed by the autopsy, seeing what the human body has been up against and conquered as shown by the tissues, not only inspires me but gives me tremendous confidence in that power within ourselves which makes for health.

The first woman missionary officially sent out from the United States in modern times was the wife of Adoniram Judson, who in 1812 accompanied her husband and four other missionaries sent out by the American Board of Missionaries for Foreign Missions to India and Burma.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Men Advised To Provide For Family

Making A Will Is Parents' Duty, Myers Declares

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

The chances are almost fifty-fifty that any dad reading this will leave a widow and children, some of whom probably will be too young for self-support.

Eager as you are to provide your family now with a comfortable living, you are much more concerned about provision for them in the event of your early death. One thing that makes this factor pretty strong is our feeling as fathers that we are pretty indispensable.

So far as reasonably possible you and mother are going to work out right away together, if you have not already done so, a plan for savings and for some life insurance.

Although most husbands from tradition assume responsibility for the business management of the family, you who exercise foresight are going to train your wife to share in this responsibility, so that in the event of your death she could carry on alone. You are going to take her into complete confidence, and the children, too, as they are old enough to qualify, in regard to the family income and outlay. With all co-operating in an understanding way there will arise added means for family unity and companionship, making everyone the more ready for any emergency that might arise.

* * *

There will be, of course, a scheme of family budgeting, with an allowance plan worked out for the children in their early school years. You and mother and the older children will sit down together and discuss ways and means of mother and the rest of the family carrying on in the event of your early death. Accordingly these children will feel an added urge to prepare themselves to earn a livelihood, and to appreciate their parents' self-denials and foresight in their care and education. This conference will cover modes of proper use and husbanding of any funds which may be available, in insurance, bank deposits, real estate, or other property, all members of the family learning to be wary of the high pressure salesman of stocks and bonds and doubtful business undertakings.

You will make a will at once, if you have not already done so, under legal advisement, so that what you plan to leave your family will be theirs and will not fall as prey to courts and lawyers.

Many a father, bending all his energies to provide for his family, will neglect such a simple and sensible duty as making a will.

You will not leave your important business papers lying about the house where they easily may be destroyed or lost. Better rent a safety deposit box for them or make some other like provision for their safety.

* * *

In case your children are grown up, don't spend all your time laying up a fortune for them and your widow. Share with her some worthy satisfactions while she is your wife. Live more abundantly. A certain man whose children were grown and had been well educated and who had accumulated a comfortable little fortune, went with his wife on a trip to Europe. Of it he told a friend that it didn't cost him anything. When asked who made the gift he replied: "I went at the expense of my heirs." Not a bad idea.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear."

JUDGE REVERSES WIFE AS JUROR

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 29.—Mrs. Erskine Maiden, Jr., may have high regard for her husband as a judge, but she probably doesn't agree with a decision that went on the books today. A jury in municipal court, of which Mrs. Maiden was a member, recently gave Clyde Stambaugh a $300 verdict against the city. Now Judge Maiden, in common pleas court, hearing the city's appeal, ordered the jury to return a verdict for the city.

Junior Mechanics' Hall Is Dedicated; Over 200 Present

The history of the Junior Order, United American Mechanics was outlined in a talk by W. F. Johnston, secretary of Castle Council No. 365, the local chapter of the order, at the first meeting held in the recently renovated McGoun hall, 215½ East Washington street, last night. The hall was rededicated with over 200 members and their families in attendance.

Johnston described the history of Castle Council, saying that the order was established in New Castle nearly 80 years ago. G. A. Wagner, past councilor, was in charge of the entertainment and introduced the speaker.

Selections were sung by the Book-Leyde quartet and a quartet of Dr. C. W. Davis. The affair was in charge of a committee headed by John Gillette and assisted by Kenneth Boalick and Rufus Allen.

Railroad Company Asks Pay For Crash

Claim Locomotive Was Damaged More Than Automobile

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 29.—Claiming greater damage to a locomotive than to the automobile of John Griffin Ash of Connellsville, when it struck the train on the East Fayette street crossing in Connellsville, the Pennsylvania Railroad company asks damages instead of consenting to pay any claim. Ash sued the company for $10,000 for injuries he alleges he received in the accident.

In the answer to Ash's action, the Pennsylvania Railroad company claims that it cost $267 to repair the locomotive into which the automobile crashed. It is averred that Ash was negligent and reckless in the operation of his car and therefore should pay the bill for the locomotive repairs. The company denies responsibility for the accident.

Geneva Conference May Be Postponed For Several Days

Disarmament Conference May Await Result Of Fighting At Shanghai

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Jan. 29.—The general disarmament conference, scheduled to open here next Tuesday under League of Nations auspices, may be postponed for a few days because of the fighting at Shanghai, it was learned today

The League Council, attempting to halt Japanese military activities, is expected to be in session Tuesday and officials of the League secretariat declares its deliberations on a highly controversial subject might have a prejudicial effect upon disarmament discussions.

WOMAN FOE TO RABBITS

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Olive Reaume, of Monroe, Mich., did her part in ridding Grosse Ile, game preserve in the Detroit river and home of some of its 50,000 rabbits. Residents decreed the bunnies must go when they began attacking shrubbery and garden plots. Mrs. Reaume was one of the hundred selected gunners to take the field for six days against the pests. Although not as fortunate as some of the men she bagged her share of the 3,000 cotton-tails killed. The rabbits were distributed to welfare agencies at the end of each day's kill.

NEW DISCOVERIES CONFIRM VIRTUES OF BRAN IN DIET

Supplies "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation; Also Iron for Blood

For ten years, now, millions have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe, pleasant way to overcome common constipation — with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from this condition.

Recent laboratory tests show that ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. In addition, ALL-BRAN contains twice as much blood-building iron, by weight, as beef liver.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like the "bulk" in lettuce. Inside the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Think how much better it is to enjoy this delicious cereal than to take endless pills and drugs, which often lead to harmful habits.

Two tablespoonfuls daily—in serious cases with every meal—are usually sufficient. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Scores Of Hindus Are Burned Alive

Angry Mob Of Heavily Armed Moslems Burn And Loot Way Through State Of Kashmir

(International News Service)

DELHI, Jan. 29.—Scores of Hindus were burned alive today as angry mobs of heavily-armed Moslems burned and looted their way through the state of Kashmir in a revolutionary march on Srinigar, Capital, according to reports received.

A staggering tale of bloodthirsty lawlessness was told of the Moslem raids, aimed at overthrowing the Hindu government of the Maharajah of the wealthy state, Sir Hari Singh, known to the western world as the famous "Mr. A" of the London $1,500,000 blackmail case of several years ago.

SCHOOL CLOSED BY DIPHTHERIA SCARE

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 29.—With one death reported, the Rock Ridge school in Connellsville township remained closed today because of fears of a possible diphtheria epidemic.

Mildred Jean Baer, 13, died from the disease and two other known cases were reported. Several pupils were under medical observation, having shown symptoms of diphtheria.

Foreign Fire Insurance Tax Fund Increases

Big Balance In Pennsylvania Fund In Spite Of Relief Payments

FIREMEN BENEFIT AS RESULT OF TAX

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Despite a falling off in business the Foreign Fire Insurance tax fund continues to increase. There is a balance in the fund at present of more than $900,000 and payments have recently been made to treasuries of firemen's relief associations of $662,979.

Receipts to the fund are derived from the State tax of two per cent. on the premiums of foreign fire insurance. Under the law this money is distributed to firemen's relief associations but only where they are organized and recognized by the local authorities.

At the beginning of the year the balance in the fund was $1,509,845. Recently the State Treasury sent out checks to the various relief associations amounting to $662,979 leaving a balance approximating $945,000. That balance probably will be reduced from time to time as additional districts organize relief bodies and quality to receive their share.

The amount of foreign fire insurance written in Pennsylvania during 1930, the last for which figures are now available, was $38,337,240 as compared with premiums of $41,316,551 the year previous.

Until a few years ago the amounts returnable to the local districts was turned over to municipal authorities who in turn gave it to relief associations. Through the efforts of the firemen's association the law was changed to insure that the money had to be turned over to relief organizations. In some instances the local authorities would use the money to meet general expenses.

Since that change in the law the balances in the fund have been increasing at a rapid rate. Several years ago the State Insurance Fund was nearly exhausted and the legislature transferred the balance to that fund. Now the fund has nearly approximated that amount again.

By the time the 1933 legislature meets the fund will be swelled by the balance from the 1931 insurance business above what is returned to the relief associations.

10 Commandments For 1932 Brides By Superior Judge

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Ten commandments for 1932 leap year brides have been laid down by Superior Judge Thomas F. Graham, nationally known as the "great reconciler."

Judge Graham has patched up hundreds of marital quarrels in the divorce court during his 31 years on the bench.

This commandments for would-be brides follow:

1. Select your husband as you would your wedding dress, not for a slick surface but for wearing qualities.
2. Look before you leap — then don't leap.
3. First make sure you love him, then pop the question.
4. Ask yourself if you are willing to darn his socks, mend and wash his shirts and cook his meals, and if the answer is "yes" you may be sure you love him.
5. Know thy man as thou knowest thyself.
6. Be sure you love him as you love yourself.
7. Be ready for storms and be not afraid when they come.
8. Be resolved to make a home for him so pleasant he will be reluctant to leave in the morning and eager to return at night.
9. Be sure that you can be interested in your husband's interests, and then see that you are, always.
10. Remember that marriage is a 50-50 proposition and be prepared to play the game.

State Inspects Soup Kitchens

Precautions Are Taken Against Spread Of Disease Through Uncleanliness

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Additional duties are laid on the field force of Howard M. Haines, chief of the Restaurant Hygiene Division, of the State Department of Health, by the opening of "soup kitchens," to feed the unemployed in various sections of the commonwealth. It becomes at once the duty of Mr. Haines to see that everything in conjunction with these activities measures up to the Act of Assembly, covering the feeding of the public.

It can be readily seen that the plans for feeding those who need this type of service, being handled by those who usually are not familiar with the requirements of the law, might not measure up to the high standard of healthiness required by the Restaurant Hygiene Division. Mr. Haines has been giving special attention to this phase of work, and reports such "soup kitchens" in various parts of the state, to be in a very satisfactory condition. Special care to prevent even the remote possibility of spreading any communicable disease through this manner of caring for the unemployed, will be given by the State Department of Health.

Lure of the Beach

It is not only the environment of waving palms, murmuring sea, glorious tropical moonlight and balmy breezes that makes Palm Beach, Fla., a nice place to spend the Winter. I., who is shown above giving her pajamas a workout by the silver sea.

Birth Rate In State Falling

Number Of Births In First Ten Months Of Year Average 800 Less Per Month

Infant Mortality Rate Also Continues To Decline, Figures Show

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—The birth rate of Pennsylvania is falling. The year 1931, when total statistics are recorded, may show a loss of some 800 births per month, or 9,600 for the entire year. That rate has already been established for the first 10 months of the year, and there is no reason to think it will be materially changed when the entire 12 months have been reported. These facts are gleaned from the records in the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Pennsylvania State Department of Health.

The first ten months, complete, show 150,480 births recorded. The previous year, during the same period, the registrations were 158,570. This brings the rate of births, per 1,000 population, down to 18.5.

The rate of infant mortality, however, continued to decline despite the lowering birth rate. For every 1,000 babies born last year, during the 10 month period 66 of them died before reaching the age of one year In 1930 the rate was 67, and in 1929 it was 70. Babies died at the rate of 1,000 per month from January to November last year, but that was 70 less than in 1930.

More babies lives are being saved up to the two year age also, the statistics reveal. Diseases of the intestines during the first two years of the child's life take a heavy death toll. But the first ten months of last year showed a falling death rate from that trouble, the rate dropping from 24 in 1930, to 19 in the year just closed.

The fight to save the lives of the little ones, shows that ground is being gained. While the birth rate seems to be falling, at least the agencies seeking to preserve the lives of babes during the early years of their existence, press forward with marked success.

Gig Harbor Has It's "Holly King" And 15,000 Trees

(International News Service)

GIG HARBOR, Wash., Jan. 29.—Here's one town that didn't have to import holly wreaths. In fact, it exported five tons of them from the gardens of P. H. Peyran, "holly king".

Nor will it have to worry for some time, since this first commercial grower in the country has 15,000 trees which he says will live 500 years. Each one, he figures, will eventually return about $18 annual profit and a goodly amount of Christmas cheer in years to come.

Peyran has gained almost a monopoly of the wholesale domestic holly business because of one natural factor and one artificial. From British Columbia to Salem, Oregon, he says, is the only district in this country suitable for holly growing. The United States government helped unwittingly after Peyran began growing the trees in 1913 as a hobby. Soon after he imported the trees, the foreign plants were barred.

In his 18 years of business Peyran has added much to the fund of florists' information. All he could find on holly culture when he started business was: "Holly is known as I. Aquifolium. It is grown extensively in England, where it is used for hedges and Christmas decorations."

Many are surprised that a list of 15,000 diseases has been compiled. Few suspected there were so many reasons for having the tonsils removed.—The Toledo Blade.

Did Jesse James Fool Police And Live Until 1931

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 29—Did Jesse James, America's most notorious outlay, "outsmart" police and historians and live to a ripe old age?

A Chicago relative of the bandit believes that he did. Landon T. James, 63, told newspaper representatives here that Jesse died only recently in Colorado.

"I've always known that the story the historians wrote about Jesse's death was all wrong," asserted Landon James. "Jesse never was killed by his cousin, Bob Ford. Bob was a fine lad; I know his people and he'd never pull a yellow dog trick like shooting down Jesse while he wasn't looking."

The story of James' death, according to his Chicago cousin, was founded on the fact that Tom Howard, a friend of Jesse, died of typhoid fever just when the hue and cry for the bandit leader was strongest. To give James a chance to escape, Howard's body was made to look likes James, Ford shot it in the back, and the commonly accepted story of Jesse's demise was given out.

The real Jesse James lived in seclusion in Colorado, dying on July 2, 1931, according to the Chicagoan.

COMPOSERS' WORK IS MAKING HITS

PARIS, Jan. 29.—The works of two well-known American composers, Arthur Shepherd and Leo Sowerby, both of Chicago, have been performed for the first time in Europe, at the Salle Pleyel. Fabian Sevitsky, a relative of Serge Koussevitsky, and director of the Sinfonietta of Philadelphia, led the orchestra and made a big hit with the French to whom he was introduced for the first time.

"The Lone Prairee", by Shepherd, depicts a rural scene in which the reed and brass instruments combine to form a delightful theme, mingled later with the celeste and muffled cymbals.

"Money Musk", by Sowerby, is a rustice dance, reminiscent of the old-time jig, apparent in the ensemble of the string instruments, recurring in the violin solo and then coming back in the reeds.

Theft-Proof Gems

There isn't the remotest chance for light-fingered gentry to help themselves to the lovely necklace worn by Joan Marsh, beauteous screen player. The decoration is a sample of the latest thing in the new fad for hand-painted costume jewelry. The design is painted on the skin of the wearer by an artist. So you see one could not steal the jewelry without also stealing the girl—which isn't such a bad idea at that.

MANY EATING HOUSES INSPECTED BY STATE

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—The inspection of 4800 places where food is dispensed to the public, and the issuing of 5,000 health certificates, by the Restaurant Hygiene Division, of the State Department of Health, represents the activities of a busy December, by Howard M. Haines and his assistants. The work covered 15 counties, in which were located 10 cities and 14 boroughs. The inspection is always carried forward in conjunction with local health authorities.

Tuesday Safest Day For Driving Auto On Highway

Sunday Is Most Dangerous, Revealed By Survey Made By State Bureau

MOST OF CRASHES ARE AFTER DARK

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29—Tuesday is the safest day on Pennsylvania highways. Sunday is the most dangerous.

These selections were the result of a study of accidents figures compiled by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles and announced today.

Automobile accidents of all kinds the Bureau reported, showed a drop in 1931 as compared with the previous year. It was the first time since accidents have been reported to the Bureau that a decrease was shown in a yearly period compared with the preceding year.

There were 47,917 accidents reported in 1930 and 46,588 in 1931, a decline of 2 per cent. The reduction in total accidents, however, was accompanied by an increase in fatalities and persons injured compared with 1930. In 1931, 2,038 fatalities were reported and 40,800 persons were non-fatally injured, an increase of 5.4 per cent and 2.5 per cent, respectively, over 1930.

Mostly After Dark

While horses are generally supposed to be on the way out, more of them are clashing with their successors—the motorized vehicle The greatest increase in fatalities was in accidents involving motor vehicles and horse-drawn vehicles. Twenty two persons were killed as compared with 12 in 1930 in this type of accident.

Nine per cent of the accidents and 11 per cent of the fatalities in 1931 occurred between 4 p. m., and 5 p. m. Fifty three percent of the fatal accidents reported and 48 per cent of all accidents happened after dark. Sunday with 19 per cent of the total and 14 per cent of the fatal accidents topped the other days of the week. The lease number of accidents occurred on Tuesday.

Japs To Find Jobs For Many In Manchuria

TOKIO, Jan. 29.—Thousands of new jobs will be opened to Japanese because of consolidation of the Empire's "special interest" in Manchuria and Mongolia, according to reports in the press.

The Tokio Asahi says the electrical department of the South Manchuria Railway Company already has informed a number of universities, including the Tokio Imperial University, that it will be prepared to employ scores of the school's graduates this spring. The company has asked the University auhorities to submit names of students who will be graduated next year, with recommendations for their employment.

Meiji University of Tokio already has submitted a list of 200 students of the class of 1932 for service in Manchurian projects affiliated with the S. M. R. A. A. majority of the students to graduate from Waseda, another of the big Tokio universities, also expect seek careers in the Four Eastern Provinces of China and in Mongolia.

The development of Manchuria will be vastly accelerated during 1932, the Tokio press believes, and Japan will not worry if Chinese emigration into the Four Eastern Provinces is stopped because of the anti-Japanese movement in China Emigration from Korea and Japan will more than make up for any slackening of the movement of population from China proper, it is said.

"School Ma'am" Is Prospector And Miner, Too

(International News Service)

DENVER, Jan. 29,—The Denver Opportunity School has a teacher who is not only known as an efficient "school-ma'am" but is a practical hard rock miner as well.

She is Mrs. Rose Lee Smith.

Mrs. Smith taught at Silverton, Colo., in the San Juan valley, during the days of the mining boom in that section. While at Silverton she became interested in prospecting.

Now she owns outright 250 acres of good mining ground near Silverton. She has prospected the ground thoroughly and believes she has valuable deposits of gold, silver, copper and lead. Other geologists who have surveyed the property for her have agreed with her that she owns one of the best prospective mining sites in the state.

As yet Mrs. Smith has not done any tunnelling on her property. The land lies within the famous Silverton quadrangle, which has produced more than $300,000,000 worth of metals.

GREATEST DAM IN WORLD PROPOSED TO HARNESS RIVER

(International News Service)

DENVER, Jan. 29,—Government engineers in the Denver offices of Raymond F. Walter, chief engineer for the United States reclamation bureau, have completed plans for what they declare is the largest undertaking of its kind ever conceived.

The project consists of a dam, three times as large as the Hoover dam, to be used to harness the flow of the Columbia river for power and irrigation purposes. The proposed dam is to be built in Washington state about 150 miles below the Canadian border.

Leslie N. McClellan, chief electrical engineer of the bureau, has taken the plans to Washington, where they are to be submitted to officials of the interior department. Proponents of the plan expect to have a bill submitted to Congress during the present session authorizing the construction of the dam.

Engineers estimate that the project will cost more than $200,000,000.

"Then, too, I found Chesterfields milder. I didn't know a cigarette could be so mild and at the same time so good-tasting.

"And have you noticed the paper? Pure white. I'm told it's the purest paper that can be bought.

KEEP DAIRY COWS THAT PAY THE BEST FOR FEED

Successful dairying depends primarily on the ability of cows to produce a high yearly average production of milk and butterfat. To feed these cows for the greatest returns is important.

Some cows pay less than $1 a month for pasture while others in the same herd may pay $3; some pay $2 a ton for silage, others $10; some return $10 a ton for hay, others $30, and cows differ in paying for grain from $20 to $90 a ton. The low producing cows should be culled out to increase the value of the herd as a market for feeds consumed.

Home-grown feeds, such as alfalfa, clover and soybean hay, often will save hundreds of dollars otherwise spent for high protein feeds. Protein is essential for milk production and must be supplied. The protein contained in legumes is of high quality and gives excellent results.

SAVE DECAYED TREES BY SIMPLE SURGERY

Ornamental trees on the home grounds which show symptoms of decay can be given a new lease on life by simple tree surgery. Like dental cavities in the human mouth, these cavities if neglected will increase in size and the tree will eventually starve when the heart wood is decayed.

A sharp chisel and a mallet can be used to remove the decayed wood from the tree cavity. After the surface has been thoroughly cleaned and all fungus growths removed, crude petroleum, creosote or other germicidal solution should be applied, followed by a thick coating of hot tar. This is done to prevent cracking of the concrete used to cover the wound.

Where there is an extremely large cavity, the concrete may be reinforced by driving several 20-penny nails in the cavity. The bark of the tree should be cut back at least one inch from the face of the cavity to prevent injury during the surgical process.

For an exceptionally large cavity a form will be needed to keep the concrete in place while it hardens. Heavy burlap bags or sheets of tin can be tacked across the face of the cavity and allowed to remain there until the concrete has partly hardened. These forms then should be removed, after which the surface may be finished to conform to the shape of the tree. A commercial anti-freeze colution may be mixed with the concrete to prevent freezing if the surgery is done in freezing weather.

The following mixture for concrete in small jobs is recommended: 1 part cement, 2 parts sand, 3 parts pebbles, or 1 sack of cement, 2 cubic feet of sand and 3 cubic feet of pebbles. To this mixture add five gallons of water. If the sand is wet, three and one-half gallons of water will be enough. If the mixture gets too wet, pebbles and sand can be added until the proper consistency is obtained.

DEMONSTRATE VALUE OF VEGETABLE VARIETIES

Desirable strains and varieties of vegetables were grown in 116 demonstrations conducted by the Pennsylvania State college extension specialists and county agents last year. Meetings at these demonstrations and records kept by the cooperators informed other growers how to select the best varieties out of more than 15,000 listed in seed catalogs.

Sweet corn heads the list in popularity, and yellow varieties are gaining more preference every year. Sixty demonstrations included choice early maturing varieties of high quality.

Bean and pea varieties were grown in three counties to show the most desirable kinds. Fordhook tops the list among the bush limas, while Giant Stringless Greenpod, Brittle Wax and Pencil Pod Black Wax are desirable varieties of snap beans. Laxton's Superb pea finds a welcome place in market gardens because of its large, green pods and dwarf habit of growth.

New York No. 12 lettuce is the choice in the New York-Wonderful-Ice Berg class. Grand Rapids and Black Seeded Simpson lead among the leafy varieties. Golden Phenomenal and Wonderful are preferred strains of Golden Plume celery planted for the early crop.

Muskmelons, pumpkins, tomatoes, spinach and other crops also were included in the demonstrations.

LIME IS NEEDED IN THE SOIL

"The growing of clovers, which are necessary feeds in order to lower the feed cost in milk production, is based on the fundamentals of soil fertility and above all the use of lime," was the statement made by E. J. Walters at meetings held in Scott and Wilmington communities yesterday. It is just as important to know the acidity condition of the soil as the plant food condition when it is to be improved.

When there is a supply of stone on the farm or nearby, the usual source of lime to Lawrence county farmers is the home ground limestone or home burned lime. The commercial sources are ground limestone, hydrated lime and lump lime. Any of these kinds of lime are equally effective when the equivalent amounts are supplied and the comparative prices are the same.

"The testing of soil for lime requirements and then the applying of lime in any form to meet the test are preliminary requirements for clover," stated Mr. Walters. After this has been done and the ground is not wet, alfalfa or at least a mixture of alfalfa and red clover should be a paying crop on any farm if plant food has been applied as required, is the belief of the specialist.

WOOL GROWERS WILL MEET

Members and friends of the Lawrence County Wool Growers association will gather at Liberty Grange hall Saturday, February 6, for their annual meeting and banquet. The meeting is called for 10:30 in the morning and will continue through into the afternoon with the banquet being served at noon by the ladies of the grange.

The tenth annual wool show of the association will be held in connection with this meeting. There will be classes for ram and ewe fleeces in both fine delain and medium wools along with half-blood, three-eighths and quarter blood fleeces.

Seven directors will be elected to serve for the ensuing year. This and other business matters will be cared for at the opening session.

W. B. Connell will give an illustrated talk on "Management Methods" during the morning session. The chief speaker during the afternoon will be L. F. Engle of Waynesburg, who will discuss the results of "Recent Sheep Reseach Work."

Two Jobless Men Build Shelter To While Away Hours

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa., Jan. 29—Sticks and stones, two jobless men found, come in mightly handy these days.

Particularly if you have enough to build a house. This pair did and have raised a quite comfortable "home" under a railroad bridge in Blue Hollow, near here.

While one does the "housework" the other searches for work. They have cut wood, foraged coal and prepared to wait out the winter.

ELEPHANT HALTS RAILROAD TRAIN

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 29.—New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad reports contain the following incident:

"Train No. 10 was stopped at Mill River Junction Signal Station 79 by the air whistle blown on the train. Investigation developed that an elephant in the head baggage car had pulled the cord."

BEAUTIFUL STOLEN COW

(International News Service)

PONTIAC, Mich., Jan. 29.—The cow he stole and manicured to disguise her has put C. H. Baker, 31, Royal Oak, Mich., behind the bars for the next year. Baker and a companion stole the cow from a White Lake road farmer and dolled her up even to plucking the eyebrows, to change her appearance. Then they took her to an auction sale. Deputy sheriffs, however, penetrated Bossie's makeup and arrested the two men. Orlando McCardle, 27, the companion was placed on probation for two years.

CHURCH NOTES

Services Sunday, January 31, will be held in the M. E. church at the regular hours. Church school at 10 a. m., morning worship at 11 o'clock, Epworth League at 6:45 p. m. and evening worship at 7:30. The girls' chorus will make its initial appearance and sing at the evening service.

The Young Married People's class met in the church parlors Tuesday evening for a business and social meeting, with 12 present. It was decided to hold the regular meeting of the month on the last Tuesday evening.

SAVANNAH NOTES

Mrs. L. M. Reed and Mr. and Mrs. John Reed spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mayberry of Aliquippa.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Guy and daughter of Ellwood City were Sunday guests at home of J. H. Booher.

George Leffler of Pittsburgh and Walter McQuiston of Ellwood City spent Sunday with the latter's brother, John McQuiston.

Mrs. Warren Leight and Mrs. John McQuiston were dinner guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Davis of Mahoningtown recently.

Fifty and Fit

A MAN is as old—or as young—as his organs.

At fifty, you can be in your prime.

Why go along with "fairly good health" when you might be enjoying vigor you haven't felt for years?

There's a simple little thing anyone can do to keep the vital organs stimulated, and feel fit all the time. People don't realize how sluggish they've grown until they've tried it. The stimulant that will stir your system to new life is Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. It will make a most amazing difference in many ways.

This famous doctor's prescription is a delicious syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. It starts its good work with the first spoonful. That's all you need to drive away the dullness and headache of a bilious spell, and rid the system of that slow poison that saps your strength. It's better than a tonic for tired bowels, and unlike habit-forming laxatives you can take it freely or give it to any child. And it isn't expensive.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and take a little tonight. Don't wait until you're sick to give your system this wonderful help. You can avoid those spells of biliousness or constipation. A spoonful every now and then is better than constant worry about the condition of your bowels, or fear of auto-intoxication as you grow older. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin protects the system. All druggists keep this preparation.

Fair Rate Association Committees Named Today

A. B. Davidson, Tarentum, President Selects Personnel Of Committees

Bart E. Richards, Will Represent New Castle In Investigation

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29— The Pennsylvania Fair Rate Association today named the first of its congressional district committees being organized to launch a state-wide attack against excessive utility rates.

A. B. Davidson, of Tarentum president, announced the personnel of eight western Pennsylvania committees. He said similar groups would be appointed in every legislative district throughout the state.

Seek Lower Rates

According to preliminary plans of the group, legislative candidates will be asked by the committees to make clear their stand on the utility question. The committee workers will be directed to support only those candidates who stand committed to battle for lowered public utility rates.

The committees named today were:

Fortieth legislative district, Allegheny county-borough engineer Park H. Martin, Bellevue; Councilman Martin Metzger, Etna; Burgess D. A. Atkinson, West View and Councilman E. I. Hepler, Tarentum.

Forty-fourth, Allegheny county—C. V. Tiers, Oakmont Chamber of Commerce; representative Frank Riddle, Turtle Creek; Mayor George H. Lysle, McKeesport and Councilman N. W. Culbertson, Swissvale.

Forty fifth, Allegheny—Borough Engineer Harry Wohlwend, Greentree; Burgess Joseph Steedle, McKees Rocks; William H. Meyers, Mt. Oliver and O. W. Hesselbarth, Greentree.

Thirty-seventh, Indiana and Jefferson counties—Burgess Steel Butler, Brookville; Burgess William C. Tibby, Punxsutawney; E. C. Overdorff, Blairsville: Burgess Bert H. Licterberger, Indiana.

Thirty ninth, Westmoreland county—Councilman Frank L. Hankey, New Kensington; Mayor Carl Woodward, Monessen; Burgess Dick, Vandergrift and Councilman Robert J. Freightner, Greensburg.

Forty-first, Butler and Armstrong—Mayor Joseph A. Heineman, Butler; Representative Chas. Braham, Butler; Burgess M. McLaughlin, Freeport and Commissioner Edward Schaeffe, Kittaning.

Forty-sixth, Washington and Greene counties—City Treasurer J. W. Landis, Monongahela; Representative James T. Heffran, Speers; Councilman F. C. Lewis, Washington and Burgess William H. Watson, Donora.

Forty-seventh, Beaver and Lawrence counties—Burgess J. H. Rockenstein, Freedom; representative Bart Richards, New Castle; Solicitor Richard S. Holt, Beaver and Burgess Judd C. Turner, Ellwood City.

Advance On Harbin Is Resumed After Bridge Is Fixed

Japanese Reinforcements Are Halted Only Temporarily By Bridge Repairs

By EDWARD HUNTER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MUKDEN, Jan. 29.—Japanese reinforcements en route to Harbin to strengthen the occupation of that city resumed their advance late today when Japanese workmen completed temporary repairs on the bridge over the Sungari river damaged by Chinese soldiers in an effort to check the invasion.

Japanese military headquarters here decided to send a punitive expedition in search of Chinese Eastern Railway guards held responsible for this and other damage of a similar sort, causing temporary suspension of all traffic on the C. E. R. east, west, and South of Harbin.

Will Give Credit Upon Face Value

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Credit will be extended by the new reconstruction corporation on the basis of the recognized intrinsic value of securities pledged as collateral rather than on depreciated market quotations, it was learned, Thursday.

Officials pointed out that in many instances sound stocks and bonds which are paying regular dividends are quoted on the market at materially less than their actual worth. This caused a serious shrinkage in the assets of banks, and recently prompted Comptroller of the Currency J. W. Pole to advise bank examiners that sound securities should be considered as of face value in bank investment portfolios.

WANT MORE RABBITS.

(International News Service)

LAWRENCE, Mass.—Cotton tail rabbits are not multiplying fast enough under state supervision to satisfy Essex county hunters. The Essex County League of Sportsmen's Clubs at its monthly meeting will sponsor legislation to increase the state breeding facilities and will also ask the legislature to allow nimrods to shoot hen pheasants during the open season and to have young trout released in the autumn instead of in the spring.

DANDRUFF
Soon Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Miss Jane Ligo Asks Her Claim Be Paid In Full

Objects To Pro Rata Distribution Of Funds Of Nellie M. Dean Estate

WANTS A REVIEW OF DISTRIBUTION ORDER

Petition for review of order of distribution and for a modification of decree, has been presented to county court by Miss Jane Ligo in the matter of the first partial account of the Peoples Savings and Trust Company, administrator in the estate of the late Nellie M. Dean.

On November 1, 1930 the Peoples Savings and Trust Company filed a partial account showing a balance for personal property of $37,959.77. In the following December the late Attorney H. K. Gregory was appointed auditor to pass on exceptions, and later made an order for deductions and specific legacies, the amount available for distribution to pecuniary legatees was $12,127.75.

Distribution of this amount was ordered in proportion to the amount of the respective legacies, and this distribution was upheld in an order by Judge R. L. Hildebrand.

Miss Jane Ligo's share was $2,080.64. Miss Ligo now claims that the will she is entitled to be paid in full before distribution to other legatees. Her claim in full would amount to $10,299.20.

On the petition which has now been presented Judge Hildebrand has awarded a citation on Ida Dodson and other heirs to show cause why the order of court should not be modified so that Miss Ligo can be paid in full out of the proceeds for distribution.

Judge Hildebrand will hear arguments on the petition tomorrow morning. Attorneys for the other heirs contend that Miss Ligo should share pro rata with them in the distribution as set forth by the auditor and later approved by the court.

Arrest Man For Annoying Women

Mayor Tells "Would-Be-Sheik" That Conduct Will Not Be Tolerated

Dan A. Sanders, place of residence in doubt, but a sleek, dark haired Romeo, who was arrested late on Thursday afternoon by Police woman Mrs. Minnie McKibben and assisting officers, after he had been stopping and annoying a number of women in the vicinity of the New Castle Dry Goods Company store. His actions indicated that he was endeavoring to vamp some woman and when he tried his efforts on Mrs. McKibben, it was just too bad and he landed in the city jail, where he was held until this morning.

When he took his place before Mayor Charles B. Mayne, he claimed he knew no reason as to why he had been picked up or was in jail. Then Mayor Mayne read him the police report, which indicated that Sanders had been both annoying and insulting to several women.

This done, the mayor said to Sanders "This is one thing I will not tolerate, a would-be-sheik making advances to young ladies. I know there a quite a number of this type in the city. We don't want you here. Get out and stay."

"Thank you, Mayor," replied Sanders as he made his getaway from the police station as speedily as possible.

Washington Sending 120 To Senior High Classes; School Pays Its Farewell

Today, at impressive ceremonies at the George Washington junior high school, three class groups of 120 9A students were bidding a fond "good-bye" to rooms and halls they know so well, while on Monday, at the Senior High school, the same groups will commence advanced sudies that will lead them toward graduation three years later.

The 9A's "good bye" came in the form of a farewell chapel program this afternoon participated in by none other than 9A folk. The school turned complete control over to them during assembly.

Radioletta Feautre

"Please Stand By" was the title of a cleverly-acted radioletta, playlet, given by the pupils. The cast: Ma Hawley, Doris Marvin; Pa Hawley, Howell Williams; Honey Suckle (colored maid) Betty McConaghy; Nell Cantsing, Layte Wheeler; Krazy Kat, Jack Cooper; radio artists for Part I. violinist, Tony Casber: singer, Bill Nelson, dancer, Margaret Braden and Joe Joy, Bud Purdue; radio artists for Part II, Goldie and Dusty (the Gold Dust Twins) Bill Williams and Chas. Slack; pianologue, Jean Gardner; Tony, Joe Porada; dancer, Maxine DeLillo, big brother, Bob Mercer; little brother, Dick Hamilton and announcer, Ruth Shale.

A stage effect was so arranged that every performer stepped out from an immense loudspeaker erected at the rear. All music accompaniment was furnished by Dorothy Fisher, the pianist.

The 9A teachers with Miss Elizabeth Owens and Miss Betty Glover, music and dramatic supervisors, directed the planning and presentation of the program, witnessed by many parents.

Washington's enrollment will increase even though 120 students will leave the building. Principal B. K. Thacker announces. Incoming pupils from different grade buildings will push the total to about 868.

Will Of Zelienople Woman Disposes Of Estate Of $300,000

Will Of Late Mrs. Matilda Buhl Winter Is Filed For Probate In Butler

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 29.—Disposing of the estate of the late Mrs. Matilda Buhl Winter of Zelienople was on file for probate here today. The estate was valued at more than $300,000.

A daughter, Mrs. Edna Buhl Putts of Erie, was the chief beneficiary. She received $100,000 in cash and jewelry and other personal property which has not yet been appraised.

Mrs. Winter was the daughter of the late Henry Burl, Sr., pioneer steel magnate.

Other bequests were:

Edward Winter, husband of the testator, $50,000; Christine Buhl Putts, $5,000; A. Jeannette Winter French, Zelienople, $12,000; Henry Buhl, III, $12,000; C. Christine Buhl Rouner, $12,000; Christine Winter Bashore, $15,000; Alice M. Power, North Side, Pittsburgh,; Harmony and Zelienople church and Mary J. West Missionary society of Zelienople, $500 each.

Other bequests were also made to relatives in sums of $300 and $400. The Peoples-Pittsburgh Trust company of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Putts were named as executors.

The twenty-first verse of the seventh chapter of the Book of Ezra in the Bible, contains all the letters of the alphabet with the exception of the letter "J" which was not included in early alphabets.

Asks for Prayers

Mrs. Alice M. French

Mothers of every nation in the world have been appealed to by Mrs. Alice M. French, Indianapolis, to pray for success of deliberations of the disarmament conference which meets at Geneva Feb. 2. Prayers are to begin at 9 a. m. and continue each day during the conference. Mrs. French founded the American War Mothers in 1917 and served as its president.

Pinchots Plan Bermuda Trip

Governor Pinchot And Wife Will Go To Bermuda For Ten-Day Vacation

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Gov. and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot will leave New York tomorrow for a ten-day trip to Bermuda, according to plans today.

Governor Pinchot last night addressed the Hennepin County Republican club in Minneapolis, Minn., and will join Mrs. Pinchot in New York tomorrow. They expect to return to Harrisburg on February 10.

Thieves Exchange Cars; Both Found

Ride To This City In Car Stolen In Butler And Take One Here To Return

Last night between 10 and 11 o'clock, the Chrysler Coupe of Earl L. Patton of 826 Butler avenue, was stolen from the driveway of his home. Immediately on discovering the theft of his machine, he reported the fact to the police. The police in turn were informed about twelve o'clock by the Butler authorities that a car answering the description of the Patton car had been found ther and the local authorities were asked to look for an Auburn Sedan, Pennsylvania license which had been stolen there.

The latter machine was found on South Ray street by Officer M. J. Young and Mr. Patton returned it to Butler and returned home in his own machine. Indications are that both machines were stolen by the same people, driving here in the one stolen at Butler and returning home in the stolen Patton car.

Evangelist To Speak On Hell

Charles Warren Johnstone, pastor-evangelist, will this evening at the Central Christian church, Long avenue, discuss the question, "Is There a Hell?" Featuring the singing of the services will be the singing of Miss Esther Gibbons, Mrs. Bernard and Lewis Johns.

A congregation that filled every available seat was in attendance at the service last night. The persons given special recognition were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Riley, who were present with their seven children, this being the largest family present; Mrs. Mary Kirkwood, aged 80, was the oldest person; Norma Jean, the month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kelley, was the youngest person; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jones, who had been married 52 years, were the couple married the longest, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Zeigler had the record of being the couple married the shortest time, having been married a year and a half.

Don Potter played two fine selections on the saxophone, accompanied by Miss Louise Davies, while Mrs. Richard Morris sang the solo, "The Holy City". There was a baptismal service. Mrs. Alzada Johnstone assisted during the services.

British Message Cordial To Japan

Expresses Hope That No Action Will Occur In International Settlement In Shanghai

By LINTON WELLS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 29.—A cordially worded message, expressing the hope that Japan would not take action inside the international settlement in Shanghai without consulting the other powers, has been sent to Tokyo by the British government, it was announced today.

The United States government was informed of the British action, it was said, and invited to take a similar step.

Through its diplomatic representatives in Tokyo, the British government also instituted an inquiry regarding recent developments in Shanghai. The United States was similarly informed of this and all other British moves.

No Reinforcements.

The war office and the admiralty concurred in stating that no British reinforcements were being sent to Shanghai "for the present", but it was learned the British navy may decide to keep the Scottish Fusilier battalion on hand there.

For the meantime, the British government is leaving the situation in the hands of its officials at Shanghai.

WOMAN INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Jan. 29.—Mrs. Harry Atkins of Riverview, Beaver Falls, was injured when a car driven by the woman's husband collided with a car driven by W. R. Gann, Rochester. The Atkins' car was overturned and Mrs. Atkins was thrown to the street. Both cars were considerably damaged.

CRUELTY CHARGED IN DIVORCE CASE

Mrs. Goldie Wolfe has filed an application for divorce at the prothonotary's office against Harry Wolfe, on the grounds of cruelty and desertion. They were married in 1916 and lived together until January 24th, 1932.

Receipts To Mayor's Fund Taper Off Today

Receipts to the Mayor's Relief fund tapered off today, after reaching the high total of $314 yesterday. Today's report showed that $42 had been contributed at noon.

The amount contributed this week, however, will enable the committee to carry on the work for another week, and by the end of next week, plans will have been completed for a method of raising additional finances.

Church organizations in the city may help the Relief fund along considerably if they will interest themselves in this worthy undertaking. A little from each church, or from various organizations in the church, will help to swell the fund considerably, if all will give.

There were 125 men working at Gaston park this morning, J. K. McQuiddy, business agent of the Trades and Labor Assembly, who is in charge of the supervision of the men stated, and this number has been working on the project for more than a week. In fact, more men are reporting for work than can be conveniently handled. They are being taken care of in the best way possible, however.

Gaston park now looks like a real picnic spot and has been improved considerably by the men of the city working under the supervision of the Mayor's Relief committee. Their task will be completed within a short length of time, however, and it will be necessary to start on other projects.

These who have not yet contributed are asked to give to the fund, using the enclosed blank which can be sent to City Treasurer L. W. McClung, treasurer of the fund.

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK

I agree to pay the sum of.....dollars monthly on the first of each month for as many months as funds are needed by the Mayor's Relief Committee and will forward my remittances to L. W. McClung, Treasurer.

I reserve the right to cancel this pledge whenever I find it necessary.

English School Tradition Now Facing Change

Waning Income May Force Some Change In System

By LINTON WELLS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 29—Its sad to contemplate, as it's sadder to relate, that another British tradition is in danger.

Unless times improve soon, "sons of British gentlemen" will have to forsake the famed public schools and attend less classy private schools for an education.

With incomes on the wane and taxation in the ascendency, parents, in droves, are appealing to housemasters of public schools to reduce their school fees. Otherwise, they confess, they will be forced to the humiliating necessity of entering their children in private schools, which are less expensive.

Faced with such a problem, which threatens the sanctity and supremacy of the English public school system, the school authorities are finding the square root of a minus one easier of solution.

It should be understood that the educational system over here differs from that in the United States, where attendance at a private school rates a family socially and financially.

In England it is different. Only the bourgeois attend private schools. And if little Ethelbert or Gladys is to be accorded the privilege and distinction of a public school education, pater and mater families must be prepared to pass out sheafs of pound notes without a murmur.

Take Eton, for example. It costs 230 pounds a year to send Ethelbert to that fountain head of the English public school system without, of course, considering the numerous extras. "The little more, and how much it is!" observed Browning.

And £230 plus £62 10s deducted at source for income tax represents the income at five per cent on £6000, which very few people in England have today.

State Official Visits Schools

Dr. Wm. A. Bristow Of State Department, Makes Visit Here

Dr. William A. Bristow, deputy superintendent of public instruction for Pennsylvania visited the New Castle schools on Thursday and out of his visit will probably come an invitation to the New Castle schools to assist in writing the state curriculum requirements.

Over a year ago Dr. C. C. Green began an intensive survey of the curriculum of the New Castle schools and a number of teachers appointed to reduce the survey to reports and treatises. These have attracted the attention of the state department and Dr. Bristow came to New Castle to take the matter up with Dr. Green.

He also was interested in platoon schools and visited McGill school for the purpose of seeing such a school at work. He was immensely pleased with the results of his visit here and congratulated Dr. Green upon the high standard of work being accomplished in New Castle.

FED STARVING HORSES

(International News Service)

DENVER, Colo.—More than 200 horses and 45 burros facing starvation on the snow-covered plains of Conejos county, Colorado, were recently rounded up and fed, the expense being borne by the estate of the late Fred Forrester. Forrester left the income from his $100,000 to the state humane board. State humane officers decided that it would be fitting and proper to use the funds for the care of unemployed and homeless horses. The animals were later sold at public auction.

Mayor's Statement On Sunday Movies

Mayne Says Entire Receipts Are To Be Given To Relief Committee

Mayor Charles B. Mayne issued the following statement today, concerning Sunday operation of the moving picture theaters here, as a charity effort for the Mayor Relief Committee:

"I'm opening the picture shows in the city of New Castle on Sunday, January 31. These shows will open doors at 1 p. m. There will be no advance in the price of admission. They will be open continuously until 11:30 p. m. or later. The entire receipts of these shows will be turned over to the treasurer of the Mayor's Relief committee for the feeding of the unemployed.

"These pictures have been contributed by the national producers; theaters have been contributed with all expenses by the local producers. All employes of the theaters have contributed their day's work so that the entire receipts will be at the service of the Mayor's Relief committee for the relief of the unemployed."

The largest ship to pass through the Panama canal was the H. M. S. Hood. She had a margin of only 30 inches on either side.

Solicitor Says Mayor Has Power

Request To Council Has No Effect—Mayor Refuses Permit

George Lewis appeared before council which met in city hall this morning, and requested permission for the Council of Unemployed, which he said he represented, to hold a meeting on the square, February 4.

Mayor Mayne responded, saying, "Mr. Lewis, council can hear you if they want to but the mayor has jurisdiction. I am the man who issues such permits. Isn't that right, Mr. Solicitor?" asked the mayor, of Solicitor Robert M. White.

"That is right, under police power" replied Mr. White. Lewis was allowed 10 minutes to address council during which he said he would attempt to uphold his constitutional rights. Following the address Mayor Mayne said he would refuse to grant a permit.

FIND UNKNOWN BODY

GALLIPOLIS, O., Jan. 29.—Police today sought to identify a man whose body was found floating in the Ohio river near here. The pockets of the man contained $12.

The long distance telephone line between New York City and San Francisco was first opened on Jan. 25, 1915.

Honor Men Who Helped Create Safety Record

THREE NEW CASTLE MEN GET WATCHES

Presentation of handsome gold watches to thirty operators who had completed five years without responsibility for an accident was the culminating feature of the annual safety meetings of the Penn-Ohio transportation system yesterday in the banquet hall of the Hotel Ohio, Youngstown.

The dinner meetings were held at noon and in the evening to give all of the 266 operators who had gone through the second half of 1931 without accident an opportunity to attend, men with late runs being present at noon and men with early runs attending the evening meeting.

Music by the Penn-Ohio orchestra under the direction of Frank Woods and a program given by Tom Manning and "Pie Plant Pete" of WTAM broadcasting station were entertainment features

Short addresses were made by Mayor Mark E. Moore, of Youngstown, and R. N. Graham, vice president and general manager of the Penn-Ohio transportation system.

The operators to whom watches were presented in appreciation of their five year accident-free records were:

New Castle Division—J. L. Maxwell, A. G. McClure, C. C. Wick.

Sharon Division—J. R. McMichael, William Penman.

Trumbull Division—R. H. Denney, F. M. Gamble, R. G. Lyon, M. V. Weber.

Youngstown street car operators—W. W. Atwood, Maurice Buck, Edward Conrecode, Frank Coyle, Geo. Fenisey, Oscar Gustafson, F. R. Johnston, Jas. Law, A. H. Lee, William Timlin, Edward Toohey, S. C. Wayland, W. G. Weitzman.

Youngstown bus operators—S. E. Brenner, W. H. Brigham, Henry Hayes, Arnold Hughes, Andrew Jeffrey, J. F. Seiler, C. L. Seitz, R. V. Stewart.

Similar presentation of watches has been made by the Penn-Ohio to men with five years clear of accident at the annual safety dinners for the last three years. The number of five year watchmen now in the employ of the system is 105 or 32 per cent of the total of 324 operators in the service.

Paroled Prisoner Commits Suicide

Identify Pittsburgh Suicide As Forger Who Served Prison Term

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—This is just another "human interest" story . . .

Six years ago, Thomas E. Jordan forged two checks for $15. He was arrested, convicted and sentenced to serve eight years in Western Penitentiary.

On January 13, he was paroled from the penal institution on condition that he find a job and make good.

For two weeks he searched for employment, but in vain.

Then, he committed suicide by hanging.

The story was revealed today when a brother identified the man's body after it lay unclaimed for several days in the morgue here.

Dail Eareann In Ireland Dissolved

(International News Service)

DUBLIN, Jan. 29.—The Dail Eareann (legislative body) of the Irish Free State was dissolved today.

A general election was set for February 16 to name new members.

RELIEF BILL PASSED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Without a dissenting vote, the House Thursday passed a bill appropriating $125,000,000 for increasing the capitalization of the Federal Land banks.

His increased capitalization was one of President Hoovers' reconstruction recommendations. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Gold Watches Reward Safe Operation

J. L. MAXWELL A. G. McCLURE C. C. WICK

The men above are the New Castle representatives among the 30 car and bus operators of the Penn-Ohio transportation system to whom gold watches were awarded at the annual safety meetings of the system in recognition of their operation of their vehicles for five years without responsibility for an accident.

MY NEW YORK

BY JAMES ASWELL

By Central Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Considering how many thousands of miles elevators operate in New York daily, there are few mishaps. But the other day one in a 12-story loft building on West 30th street, began running away. Despite all the operator could do, the elevator dashed to the basement, then quickly to the roof, then to the basement, and so on. There were no passengers and the operator had difficulty making anyone hear his screams. Finally the building superintendent heard the shouting and sent for an ambulance and a police emergency squad. Before they arrived the superintendent shut off the power and the elevator glided gently to safety. The operator was only a little out of breath.

SIXTY-SEVEN STORIES? BAH!

New York's tallest skyscraper south of the Empire State Building (which means it ranks next to the Chrysler Building) is finished with barely a line in the papers. It is Henry L. Daherty's Cities Service building, is 67 stories high (outranking the Woolworth building) and is in the Wall Street district. But nobody ever looks up.

BEEDROOMS POPULAR

An innovation generally succeeds, depression or no depression. About the time the depression made its appearance, railroads were experimenting with bedroom cars. Then a peculiar thing occurred. Even though the depression became worse, and ordinary sleeping cars were being taken from trains, bedroom cars gained so much in popularity that orders had to be given for new cars and for the conversion of old cars.

MONTHLY EXCURSIONS

Formerly there were excursions from distant places to New York only in the summer. Now, as a test, such excursion rates apply once a month all through the winter. These excursion rates are in addition to coach excursions. The usual rate on the monthly excursions is round trip for one-way fare—Pullman, of course, being extra. Weekly excursions from nearby places have greatly reduced rates this year. Thus the railroads are competing with the buses.

GREATEST CROWDS

Crowds eager to hear Ignace Paderewski in recital at Carnegie Hall (and unable to wedge their way in) are equalled only by similar multitudes when Toscanini conducts the New York Philharmonic or Stokowski the Philadelphia Symphony. The veteran Polish pianist is receiving the greatest critical praise of his career on his present tour.

ROAMING

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

As a rule Billy Gustafson of the Pulaski Road is a quiet individual. Let arguments rage about the Japanese peril, the gold standard, the weight of the new golf ball or what happened to the Empress Eugenie hat and Bill says never a word. Start talking chickens or gardens and it touches a responsive chord.

Which accounts for his barging into the hen argument. Out on his estate on the Pulaski road, Bill has chickens. Lots of chickens. And among his Rhode Island flock he has a hen that is out for equal rights. The biddie crows like a rooster.

At laying time she does her duty as a union hen. At eating time she never misses a trick, and in the morning her voice is heard clear and loud as she heralds the new day and invites some of the neighboring hens to come over and have a bite.

All of this hen lore that has appeared in this colyum the past few days was started by the remarks of Jim Buchanan of Pulaski the other evening. Jim raises chickens and strawberries instead of potatoes and yellow corn and apparently has found that specialization pays.

East is West in the Jameson Memorial hospital just now. The two little Chinese twin boys born there are attracting oodles of attention and you never saw a cuter pair in your life. They're so much alike that the nurses have them marked A and B and without their marking it would be impossible to tell them apart.

LITTLE BEAVER

William Marshall, a rural mail-carrier of Little Beaver escaped without receiving any injuries when a falling tree struck his delivery car. The car was damaged.

Paul and Clem Young were visitors at Rodgers, O., Thursday.

Ernest Gordon and Addison Ross were East Liverpool, O., visitors on Tuesday.

Mrs. Herman Zich and son William were East Palestine, O., visitors recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gordon and Mrs. C. Trudal motored to Ellwood City to see Mrs. Gordon's sister, Mrs. A. Forsyth, on Wednesday.

The 500 club of Enon Valley met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Riggle on Wednesday. The evening was spent in playing their favorite game and at a later hour a delicious luncheon was served.

Mrs. Paul Kenney and Mrs. William Simpson of Little Beaver were visitors at Zelienople recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tolenko of Mars, Pa., are the parents of an eight-pound son.

SUN-LAMPS FOR BEASTS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH—One of the most difficult problems facing the world's indoor zoos that of bringing sunlight into cages of animals reared in the tropics, may be solved by use of ultra violet ray lamp. Experiments are underway in the Highlank Park zoo here. When wild animals lose their wildness, something is wrong, zoologists declared. So the engineers stepped in with the "sun" lamp. They prescribed the ultra violet ray treatment for the lions and tigers who have become as listless as aged house cats in the zoo. Special animal lamps, with large reflectors, have been installed in the cages of tropical beasts.

RADIO BEACON FOR N. Y.

NEW YORK—A new radiobeacon on Scotland Lightship, will shorty be available for all vessels entering and leaving New York Harbor, according to word from the Department of Commerce. Scotland Lightship is on the axis to the old South Channel, still used by many coastwise craft. Not only will the new radio beacon be of service to coastwise craft, but it will furnish a cross bearing for all transatlantic traffic approaching the Ambrose Channel.

UNIQUE ART COLLECTION

ST. LOUIS—A pictorial encyclopedia containing more than 1,000,000 illustrations tracing the development of the arts from the earliest ages of man is owned by Ferdinand Perret, of Los Angeles, Cal. Perrett, while visiting here, said his library now contains more than 1,000 loose leaf volumes. The library is made up of pictures and text cut from books, periodicals, and pamphlets. The encyclopedia in its present form was begun in 1922 when Perret settled in Los Angeles after serving in the World War. He said his library is available to universities, museums, and individuals in search of information and that it is frequently consulted by research staffs of various enterprises, such as motion pictures.

Depression Cure By Dr. Walter E. McClure

Following the sermon delivered on Sunday evening by Dr. Walter E. McClure, of the First Presbyterian church, dealing with a cure for the depression, several requests were made of The News that the ideas of the address be published. Following is the address:

A SURE CURE FOR THE DEPRESSION

"If my people, who are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."—II Chronicles 7:14.

God was speaking to King Solomon. The Israelites were passing thru a time of moral and economic depression. For more than 100 years now the Hebrew nation has been growing under the leadership of kings. Saul had reigned for 40 years. David had reigned for another 40-year period, and now Solomon is coming to end of his 40 years.

For the most part, these have been good years. The nation has made great progress. Their wealth has increased many fold. Wisdom has reached a new high level under King Solomon. The glory and splendor of the king's court surpasses anything the world has yet realized.

As we near the end of Solomon's reign, we see that this great prosperity is beginning to be a snare to the people. There are signs of decay and national failure. With Solomon's death, the crash comes, for the kingdom is divided.

Solomon was one of the good kings in Israel. And yet how strange are all those good kings. So much of sin is mixed with so much of righteousness that we are at a loss to properly estimate the worth of a good king. We see Solomon down on his knees one day offering a prayer of dedication, and presenting before God that magnificent new temple. A few days later we see him going with his heathen wives to a pagan shrine. Solomon was a king who should have avoided all heathen alliances. But he failed at this very point. He multiplied in his home wives from all the heathen nations round about.

To warn the people against these sinful habits, God allowed now and then judgments to befall them. Then when they had suffered for a time, God pointed them to the way of deliverance. Our text was given at such a time.

"And Jehovah appeared to Solomon by night and said unto him, I have heard thy prayer, and have chosen this place to myself for a house of sacrifice. If I shut up the heavens so that there is no rain, or if I command the locust to devour the land, or if I send pestilence among my people; if my people, who are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

You see these texts of Scripture live, because they have to do with human life, and they touch each generation. God is the author of all Scripture, and God knows the life of His people. Therefore it is not strange that the Bible speaks for every generation. These old texts contain the secret of salvation for our age as much as for the ages long past.

We have looked at the text in its Biblical setting. Let us look at ourselves a moment and see why this text applies today. Suppose we begin by laying down a few self evident propositions.

I—Let us admit our present conditions.

1—We are in the midst of a depression. We call it an economic depression. Business is at low ebb. People are noy buying and selling as they would like to. Mills are closed. Men and women are out of work. Stocks and bords are down at a low level. People find it hard to pay their bills. Industries are failing, and there seems to be a general slump in all business. While this condition was coming upon us, we tried to keep our courage, and we said that business was good, even though at times we knew we were lying. At last the time came when we no longer attempted to fool ourselves. Today we admit there is a depression, and we talk about it as freely as we discuss the weather.

2—This depression is not limited to one nation, it is world wide. Every nation in Christendom is passing thru a time that is more or less trying. This means that we must have more than a local cure. There must be some cure that will suffice in all the nations. Many of our suggestions are utterly foolish, for we are able to discover another country at once that has already tried the suggestion, and it is still in the throes of trouble.

3—Man is unable to meet this situation. Surely if it were in man's power, this condition would have been met two years ago. We are not proud of our times. We are not happy to be working two or three days a week. We would have our mills operating tomorrow if we could find a market for our product. The president of this nation is doing his best, and I do not believe another man could be found more able and more devoted to his work. The cause for the depression can not be laid at the doors of a political party, or our national leaders. Men are just beyond their depth when they try to adjust the economic machinery of this great nation. There are too many wheels within wheels. When they have fixed one part of the machine, they have thrown another part out of line. And so men stand with their hands up today and admit failure.

4—The trouble is with our distribution of wealth. We have no famine, no plagues, no pestilence, God has been good to the nations of the earth. But men seem to have lost faith in their own established institutions. Men have lost faith in each other. The whole trouble is mental. We are afraid to move. A new generation must arise who are ignorant of failure, and so courageous to move forward.

These four conclusions seem to be generally admitted today: 1, We are in a period of depression. 2, It is world wide. 3, Man is unable to find a solution. 4, The trouble is with our systems of distribution.

II—Let us ferret out the culprit, and discover who is to blame for this trouble.

This depression, like all other trouble, has been brought upon us by a wicked worldly generation that persists in disregarding the fundamental laws of life. Last week you read in our local paper a scientific article on the increase of insanity in our country. We are actually finding it a burden to care for the great numbers of people who are mentally unbalanced, and the article concluded by stating that men simply could not disregard the moral laws of health. Sexual indulgence and alcoholism head the list as causes for mental disorders in our race. I may be a preacher, and you say it is my business to teach theology, and set forth divine ideas. That may all be very true, but I am going to be a scientist. I am going to stand with my back to the wall of science, and I am going to square my message with what is discovered to be scientifically true. If we are only honest enough to admit facts, then we will admit that the present depression is upon us, because of our disregard for the fundamental laws of life.

We have gambled too much.
We have played too much.
We have allowed too much of political graft.
We have worked too much on the Lord's day.
We have turned God's holy day into a holiday.
We have held too lightly the marriage vows.
We have over indulged our growing children.
We have allowed our amusements to lead us into all forms of excesses.
We have come to disregard both the laws of God and of the nation.
We have educated men in science but not in morals.

We are in a period of economic depression as a result of moral, and spiritual, and social depression.

Some of us have only ignored the Bible. Others have criticized the Bible. Still others have ridiculed it.

We are in hard times, not because God has sent upon us a famine or a plague or some scourge. The land is filled with wealth. The whole difficulty is with our distribution. Even hard headed business men who never go to church see this and admit today that we have lost faith in each other. This is exactly what the church has been seeking to establish in the world lo these many years. While a lot of smart big business men have been spending the Lord's day playing, and leaving the churches empty, they have lost their faith, and they knew not that they were passing into this straighted condition.

The church exists for the one purpose of teaching men to have faith in God, in the Holy Bible, in the Christ, and when men have this sort of faith, then they are in a condition to inspire faith in each other. All life is dependent upon faith. We must have faith in God and we must have faith in each other. But the trouble with us is that we are not by nature trustworthy creatures. It is necessary that we first of all put our faith in the Christ of God unto the saving of our own souls. Then we become trustworthy and faith will come back in a whole nation.

I lay the blame at the doors of the people who are of this world, and who are worldly.

III—What is the secret of cure?

And here we come to our text. If my people, who are called by my name—If people must get back to the faith principle of life, then it is up to the church to lead the way. God's people are always the salvation of a situation. In the very nature of the case, we must save men from their own pitfalls.

If my people, who are called by my name, will humble themselves, and pray and seek my face, and turn away from their sins, wicked ways;

These are God's conditions, and you will observe that they take us all the way. When you are dealing with God there is no half way house. You are not allowed to hold some sins in reserve. As God said to Pharaoh, there shall not an hoof be left behind, so God says to us in this hour of crisis, there are no sins to be hidden, and held over for future indulgence. Forsake all your wicked ways.

Then God will hear from heaven. God will forgive our sin, God will heal our land.

And so this whole problem comes before God's people for settlement. We must meet the conditions laid down, then God will heal our land. I can think of no greater calamity than a return to normal conditions, and another era of material prosperity, before God's people have turned from their sins, and sought God's face. The healing of the land, without a revival in the church would be like the recovery of a sick body before the soul had been brought to know God.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

The name of Philip J. Watson was identified for many years with the growth of the Highland avenue residential district, being for a time one of the most extensive owners and operators of real estate in the city, especially at a period when the present fine residential district in the northern part of the city was in the making. He was born in Susquehanna conuty, Pa., July 3, 1851. At the age of 15 years he left home determined to carve his own fortune. Having been well equipped with a good district school education, he began to teach when he was 18 years of age, continuing to teach for years, also working as a carpenter during the period of the year that he was not engaged in farming. He then went on the road selling Vermont and Massachusetts granite. After about three years traveling experience he became a salesman for the Appleton Publishing House of New York City in the encyclopedic department, where he continued for the next 11 years. He went from that business into the Bankers Loan & Investment company of New York, and during his connection of 18 months he invested his own capital in Buffalo, N. Y., real estate, which proved a wise and far-sighted piece of business. In 1892 he came to New Castle and purchased 35 acres of the Matthew Irwin estate, a rough and unimproved tract on what is now Highland avenue. Here he erected his home and platted the remainder of the land, subsequently selling lots on which have been erected many of the finer residences of the city. Having succeeded in his first venture, he next bought the Henry C. Falls farm of 126 acres and organized the Oak Park Cemetery company. He served for many years as president of the company and personally supervised the laying out of the cemetery, one of the finest in this section of the country. He was one of the main movers for the extension of the electric line out Highland avenue. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church, served as president of the Young Men's Christian association for a number of years and was president for four years of the Lawrence County Sabbath School association.

Judge Stadtfeld In Talk To Publishers Denounces "Jurist"

Superior Court Judge Denounces As Sorry Spectacle Barring Of Newspapermen

Contends Press Is "Greatest Educator Of All," Warns Publishers

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 29.—Exclusion of a newspaper reporter from a courtroom because of editorial criticism of the trial judge's conduct drew stinging rebuke today from Superior Court Judge Joseph V. Stadfeld of Pittsburgh in an address before the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publisher's Association convention here.

Paying tribute to the court, the bar and the press, but terming the latter "The greatest educator of all," Judge Stadtfeld declared:

Order Revoked

"The sorry spectacle recently of a judge of one of the courts (Thank God it was not a Pennsylvania court), because of the criticism by a certain newspaper of his conduct of a certain case before him, making an order excluding the reporters of that paper from his court, so met the force of public opinion that he, himself, revoked the order.

"No court in its effort to administer the law has any right to violate the law."

Publishers Warned

Judge Stadfeld warned newspaper publishers of the solemn responsibility they bear in the printing of news articles to determine whether such articles come within the scope of "Matter proper for public investigation or information." He said:

"The press in its original conception was a disseminator of facts, buts in its modern development it has become also the origin of thought and expression of opinion, and from this wider scope arises the danger of abuse of its power. The exercise of this great power must be done wisely and judiciously; otherwise, it becomes an instrument of harm and injustice."

Referring to the barring of a reporter from a courtroom, Judge Stadtfeld observed:

Depends On Honesty

"The safety of a democracy, in the last analysis, depends upon an honest, fearless and independent judiciary. When once we lose confidence in our courts, it is an end of government in a democracy.

"Rather a thousand violations by the press than a single violation by a court. The former may be punished, and the wrong redressed under the law. The latter brings the court into disrespect, and strikes at the very foundation of government.

"The spirit of democracy will not tolerate a star chamber session in our courts, nor will the doctrine of les majeste ever prevail on American soil."

Self-Governing

Judge Stadtfeld voiced the belief that the nation would emerge from the "Peaceful revolution of finance and industry" stronger and greater than ever "In the possession of the greatest heritage ever possessed by an intelligent people, the right of self-government."

He concluded:

"So long as we maintain an educated and a patriotic bar, an honest and capable and fearless judiciary, and a fearless and independent press, I have no fear for the permanence of democracy which is the divine inspiration for a self-governing people."

Flood Fight In South Is Ended

Further Devastation By Flood Waters In South Appears To Be Checked

(International News Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 29.—Further devastion by flood waters appeared Thursday to have been checked along river-fronts in three states.

Approximately 500,000 acres of lowland territory were inundated in the three states. The fight of workmen to hold levees at Belzoni, Miss., had been successful in preventing further spreading of waters of the Yazoo river.

Waters of the St. Francis river invaded two Arkansas towns, Caraway and Lester, but the situation here is not alarming, according to engineers.

Curtain Falls On A 'Replica' Of Uncle Sam

GEORGE CAMPBELL

His right to the title of Uncle Sam had been upheld by a court decision.

By KEEN RAFFERTY
Central Press Correspondent

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 29.—For many decades George Campbell so genuinely interpreted the role of America's national symbol that he was better known as Uncle Sam than by his true name.

Today he lies under freshly turned earth in Arlington National cemetery in Washington, along with generals and heroes of all the wars of his country. "Uncle Sam" died just the other day at 90 years of age, recalling on his deathbed memories of a long and full life in which service to the United States began with his fighting in the Civil war.

Campbell was buried in the full dress of his characterization — the striped red and white trousers with the bootstrap, the starred vest, and the blue tail-coat.

He often recalled that his right to the title of Uncle Same had been upheld by a court decision in a dispute with another claimant; that scarcely a president had been inaugurated in Washington in the present century without his participation in the parade down Pennsylvania avenue.

During the World war the long and sombre lines of soldiers marching in Washington on their way to training camps were invariably headed by his tall, straight and white-haired figure, and he was in demand always at patriotic pageants.

"Uncle Sam" was escorted to his final resting place by B company, of the Twelfth infantry at Fort Hoyle, Maryland, to Fort Myer, Virginia, where the body was transferred to an artillery caisson and carried to Arlington.

Previously funeral services had been held in Baltimore, his home, at St. Elizabeth's church, where a high requieum mass was said for him.

Cash Earned At Relief Camp Is Picked From Pocket

Couple On Shopping Tour Are Victims Of Pickpocket

UNIONTOWN, Jan. 29—Happier than they had been for months, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coyne of Bitner, a coke works near Uniontown, came to this city today to purchase food and clothing for themselves and members of their family.

Coyne had worked several weeks on the state highway road job at Normalville, and had received a check for $50. He had asked his wife to come to Uniontown to participate in the joy of spending more money than they possessed at one time for years. The couple cashed the check at a local bank. Coyne placed the money in his purse and wrapped a handerchief around it.

The first stop was a 10 cent store where leather soles were bought for shoes of members of the family. When he reached for the money it was gone. An hour's search up and down the streets was futile. Coyne told police that he remembers a man brushing against him as he left the bank.

Cars Damaged In Street Collisions

Pete Balogh, 601 East Long avenue, was driving the truck of Alpern & Katz, 32 East Long avenue, west on West Lutton street and was passing a car of the DeCarbo Transfer company bearing Pennsylvania license W14-713, which was parked on West Lutton street, when the end gate of the DeCarbo car fell down and caught the fender and the radiator of the Alpern & Katz machane. Considerable damage was done to both cars.

T. Quintiliani of 417 East Lutton street, reported that he had his machine parked on South Mill street at Home street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 81F96 going north on Mill street, ran into and damaged his car.

Find Signal Flag Like One Used On Sub Being Sought

Vain Hope Prevails That Object Located On Channel Floor Is British Sub

FLAG IS FOUND NEAR OIL POOL

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Dorsetshire, England, Jan. 29.—A signal flag case belonging to the missing British submarine M-2 was brought to the surface by a salvage sweeper today from an obstruction located on the floor of the floor of the English channel a few miles off Portland bill.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the find, the admiralty stated there was no hope for the lives of the 60 men aboard.

Women who had waited on the shore here through many sleepless hours were stunned by the admiralty report. It was the final blast to the most stubborn hope they held.

Hope About Gone.

"There is no hope now of saving life," the admiralty statement said.

A fast cutter brought the signal case, waterproof and containing two hand flags, to the dockyard here for inspection.

Another object over which the navy salvage ships had been working six miles north of Portland bill was definitely found to be an old wreck.

The signal case was brought up near where oil was discovered on the surface of the water yesterday.

Council Measure Designates Who Shall Prosecute

Old Ordinance Is Amended By Bill Passed By Council

Council met Friday in the City building and adopted an ordinance, relating to procedure for violation of city ordinances and designating by whom suits shall be instituted. The ordinance amends an ordinance approved September 27, 1892 and which according to city officials brings police procedure on city ordinances up to date.

One section of the old ordinance is amended to read that, before any person, not an officer, shall be permitted to bring suit or make prosecution on any city ordinance, he or she shall give such bond as the city may require and which must be approved by the solicitor.

Another section of the old ordinance has been amended to the effect that any suit or prosecution made without the consent of council by any officer of the city, or by any other person shall be stayed at the direction of council and if an officer brings such a suit under city ordinance without consent of council he must report it to council at council's next meeting.

Duties Outlined.

Under the terms of the new ordinance suits for violation of city ordinances and prosecutions thereunder may be instituted by the mayor, chief of police or any policeman for violation of any ordinance with reference to any matter or thing coming within or relating to the duties of the officers or in which they are authorized to act, and particularly for the violation of all peace ordinances, for disorderly or other improper conduct, public drunkenness or intoxication, for violation of all police regulations, license ordinances, and in all cases in which they are empowered to bring suit by specific ordinance; and particularly in all cases where it is necessary to enforce the laws and ordinance relating to said city in the performances of any duty pertaining to their office; or when directed to do so by the mayor.

It also says suits may be instituted by the director of any department of the said city, or any officer of the city directed to enter suit or make prosecution by the director of any department such as the city treasurer, street commissioner, city engineer, city physician, fire chief and also "by any other person when authorized by council to bring suit or make prosecution."

Can Prescribe Conditions

Section three of the 1892 ordinance is amended to read that before any person, not an officer of the city, shall be permitted to bring suit or make prosecution on any city ordinance, he or she shall give such bond as the city may require, to be approved by the solicitor and shall comply with such other terms and conditions as the council shall prescribe as a condition precedent to the bringing of such suit or the making of such prosecution.

Section 4 of the old ordinance is also amended to read that "any suit begun or prosecution made without the consent of council by any officer of the city, or by any other person shall be stayed at the direction of council. Any officer of the city, who shall bring any suit or make any prosecution under any ordinance of the city without the consent of the council shall report the same to the council at its next regular meeting."

Sections 5 and 6 of the old ordinance are repealed. They provided the city solicitor should appear as prosecutor at all cases and that all prosecutions shall be under the control of the mayor.

The ordinance becomes effective immediately.

NOW OFF PAYROLL.

Chief Lynn reported to council which convened at the city building that Firemen H. G. Malley and C. S. Mills, injured while on duty December 29, have been taken off city pay and will now draw compensation. They have been off 30 days, he reported.

Mid-Year Conference Of Sabbath Schools

Fellowship Dinner Marks Meeting Of County Sabbath School Association Thursday

The mid-year conference of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association was held Thursday in the Y. W. C. A. with the afternoon session beginning at 2:30 with Rev. H. H. Thompson of the Volant Methodist church in charge. D. S. Williams led the singing.

Dr. E. H. Bonsall of Philadelphia, young people's secretary of the State Sabbath School association, presented the plans of the Association for the year, and gave explanations as to how these may be carried out in the various Sunday schools.

Miss Margaret Walker, Temperance secretary, presented the "dime" campaign to the group.

Mrs. M. E. Vaughn, secretary of the children's department gave a brief talk on her department.

Rev. Ross M. Haverfield presented the Standard B plan and explained it, and he also stated that a committee had been appointed by the Ministerial Association to have the Bible taught in the schools.

Miss Margaret Spear Gibson and Dr. J. S. Stewart gave a splendid mission demonstration on Manchuria.

At conclusion of the program a number of conferences were held by the leaders of the various departments.

It was voted to have a young people's conference on April 2 in one of the New Castle churches and Howard Cox and Larimer Carlisle will have charge.

DINNER MEETING

At six o'clock a Fellowship dinner was held in the Green Room of the Y. J. W. Owens conducted the group singing, with Miss Elizabeth Owens at the piano.

At conclusion of dinner the seal for the largest attendance was presented and the Slippery Rock district of which S. H. Shaw is president, won this award.

The Book-Leyde quartet sang a number of Seth Parker hymns as a feature of the after-dinner entertainment.

Dr. Bonsall addressed the group on the educational program mapped out by the state association for the year.

June 9 will mark the date of the county convention and the executives accepted the invitation of Rev. R. M. Haverfield to have the meeting in the Westfield Presbyterian church.

RAILROAD MEN MEET

Erie and Ashtabula division men of the Pennsylvania railroad came here today to join the New Castle district employes in the regular January meetings of the freight loss and damage prevention committee and the safety committee.

TO BORROW $20,000.

Council today sanctioned the request of Director Hoyland, finance department to borrow $20,000, so the city can pay current bills. Council granted the request.

Bicentennial Influence in Coiffure and Hats

Colonial Motif Predominates in Milady's 1932 Hair-Dressing and Millinery Styles. The Renaissance of the Ringlet.

American hair dressers and hat designers have combined to pay tribute to the bicentennial year of George Washington. Their joint efforts have produced a coiffure, with millinery to match, harking back to Colonial days. It is predicted that milady's crowning glory this Spring will be a veritable crown of patriotism. Above are two examples of the new styles. Top, left, is Mabel Smith, shown with the latest coiffure, designed specially by Mrs. R. Louis, of New York, to go with the facsimile Colonial hat (shown at right). The hat exposes a large part of the coiffure. Lower, left, is another example of coiffure copied from the 1770's. A suggestion of ringlets is conveyed by this style. At right is the hat designed for that particular hair dress. It is worn saucily on the side of the head, and, like the model above, it is of Colonial origin. Miss Babs Houser is the model in the lower photos.

Box Seat for Plane Rubbering

Evidence of what must surely be the ultimate in enthusiasm is this innovation by Colonel E. H. Green, son of the late Hettie Green, financial genius, and philanthropist of New York and Miami Beach, Fla. Colonel Green, an aviation enthusiast, is shown in the specially constructed automobile he uses in the Southern resort. The roof of the car is made entirely of glass, to enable the colonel to watch the flittings of airplanes overhead without getting out of his seat. The car is electrically powered.

Gandhi Smiled as Jail Yawned

NON-SUPPORT CASE SLATED TOMORROW

A hearing for Manuel Montes, this city, charged with non-support and neglect by Mrs. Clara Montes, will be held in the courtroom of Alderman Wallace J. Ewing on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

Montes is held in the county jail today following his preliminary arraignment yesterday afternoon.

Farmers Oppose Any Change In Dry Law

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Farmers are opposed to any modification of the prohibition laws that would legalize beer, Louis J. Taber, master of the national grange, told the Metcalf senate committee Thursday.

Appearing as the first of a scheduled parade of prohibitionists to refute the assertions of the wets that the return of beer would restore prosperity to agriculture, Taber said.

More grain is consumed by cattle than would be consumed in the manufacture of beer.

Taber read a statement condemning the Bingham bill as putting the government into the liquor business, but later withdrew.

CHAMPION MILK STATE.

(International News Service)

CORVALLIS, Ore.—Oregon is a land of free-flowing milk, according to figures by H. N. Colman, assistant professor of dairy husbandry at Oregon State college. One-fourth of the medals for record-making dairy cows in the United States and three-fourths of those on the Pacific coast are held by Oregon Jersey breeders. Oregon also holds more than 35 per cent of all records and honors awarded to different breed associations in the Pacific coast states.

Bell Company Plans Annual Safety Meet

First Aid Contests Between Division Teams Will Be Held March 2

Plans are now under way for the annual first aid contest between teams representing different points and departments of the New Castle district of the Bell Telephone Company, which will be held in the Elks Club on March 2.

In addition to the competition between the teams, the safety awards and citations to men of the New Castle district will be present at this time.

The event holds a little more than ordinary significance this year, due to the fact that the New Castle Plant Department stands first in safety work in the entire state. They have the highest standing in accident prevention, having gone 32 months without a lost time accident.

The divisional no-accident pennant will be awarded to the New Castle district during the evening, when high officials of the company will be here to take part in the program.

The various teams from the different sections of the division are now holding their elimination contests to pick the best teams to represent them in the final contest in this city, and some crack first aid teams will be here to demonstrate their skill in this line of work.

C. A. Bolen, District Plant Manager will have charge of the arrangements for the event and is now busy mapping out the evening's program.

A "Catch" In Small of Back. Often Had to Get Up!

Meshoppen, Pa. —"About five years ago, sharp burning twinges across my kidneys made me mighty miserable," said R. W. Aylesworth, Box 3. "Whenever I went to stoop over I got a 'catch' in the small of my back that fairly took my breath away. My kidneys appeared to be weak, too, for I often had to get up at night and the kidney secretion was filled with sediment. Jesus Feeds The Multitude

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text.

Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. —John 6:35.

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson for January 31 is John 6:1-13; 48-51. "Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of Life: he that cometh to me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.")

At the beginning of our Lord's ministry he refused to work a miracle at Satan's suggestion to satisfy his own hunger, but two years later he worked two mighty miracles, a few months apart, for the feeding of multitudes of men, women and children, because he had compassion upon them.

Jesus had taken his disciples across the Sea of Galilee to the northeastern shore, to a desert place for a brief period of rest. But the people watched to see where they were headed for, and followed them around the lake on foot "because they saw the miracles which he did on them that were diseased." It was an interruption of Jesus' plans, but he "was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to teach them many things." Toward evening he began to speak to his disciples about feeding the multitude which numbered 5,000 men besides women and children.

A Problem In Fa

"Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?" he asked Philip, whose home town was near by. He asked the question, not for his own information about the resources of the neighboring villages, but as a test of Philip's resources of faith, "for he himself knew what he would do." Philip began immediately to calculate that $34 worth of bread would not even be enough for a start with such a crowd. Then came Andrew with the suggestion that there was a small boy present who had five barley loaves and two small fishes, but he immediately apologized for the apparent ludicrous suggestion by adding. "But what are they among so many?" They were attacking a great problem of relief in terms of figures only with no place in their calculating for God or faith.

The Adding Machine Complex

The trouble with an adding machine complex like this is that the adding machine has no key marked "God" which can be pressed to put God into the grand totals and no totals are "grand" totals that leave him out of the calculations. Christ was giving Philip and Andrew a chance to "press" Him as the "key" in solving their problem: "This he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do." Are we making the same mistake today in attacking a relief problem as unprecedented to us as Philip's problem was to him when Jesus put it squarely up to him: "Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?"

Deficiency Became Sufficiency

Christ will not be left out of the problem of human suffering. His compassion of human suffering. His compassion for the hungry multitudes forbids it. So he took a lad's meager lunch of five small barley cakes and two small fishes, added to them his benediction, directed their distribution in orderly fashion, and turned an apparent deficiency into an amazing sufficiency. "Jesus took the loaves, and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise, of the fishes as much as they would. When they were filled, he said unto the disciples, gather up the fragments that remain that nothing be lost." Liberality indeed, but not without frugality! If there must be bread lines in 1932 let him be heard who said, "I have compassion on the multitude. . . . I am the bread of Life."

GROVE CITY

Revival meetings at Harrisville, Emlenton, Wesley and Slippery Rock have been held or are in progress as this is written.

The towns are all of the Grove City area where A. K. Harper business man evangelist will open a four-week series of meetings on February 14th.

The meeting at Harrisville has just closed. That at Slippery Rock scheduled for completion this week is stated to be of a very interesting character. The preaching is in charge of Rev. R. H. Thompson, pastor of the Methodist church, the music is being directed by Homer Welch, Grove City evangelist singer. The meetings at Grove City will be held in the United Presbyterian church. A committee of ministers is in charge of arrangements that are now completing all preliminary details for the service.

A large choir is being organized and rehearsed prefacing the arrival of Mr. Harper.

Former County Commissioner W. A. Bone has purchased the College Inn restaurant and taken charge.

Three years ago Crombie Allen the publisher of the Daily Report at Ontario, California, created a fund of $1,000 the interest from which each year is to be given in prizes to the Grove City students with the best essay on international peace.

Allen is a graduate of the college and has always been one of its most staunch supporters. For years he has been internationally known as a Rotarian.

The subject of the forensic exercises is the sixth principle of Rotary. The money was turned over to the Grove City Rotary Club who are in charge each year of the holding of this contest for the students. It is known as the "Allen Peace Prize."

February 19th has been set by the committee of the local Rotary club as the date for holding this event. The college band is working up a program of music to be played during the evening when the final will be held. It is reported that 15 students have already submitted essays to the judges.

Dr. W. C. Ketler, president of Grove City College, made the address at the mid-term graduation program at Bellevue High School at 8:15 p. m. today.

A class of 50 were graduated.

The M. H. McCoy Dinner Party the Eastern Star lodge dined in the lodge rooms at 6:15 p. m. last evening. The social committee included Mrs. George Hamilton chairman; Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Irwin; Mrs. Mary Rhoades; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baird; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Elliott; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gulick; Mrs. G. E. Fernell; Mrs. Herman Manny; George Uber

Safety-Responsibility Laws Now In Effect In Eighteen States

The trend toward universal acceptance of laws that will promote safety on the streets and highways continued during 1931 and 1932 finds the A. A. A. Safety-Responsibility Law in effect, in whole or in part in 18 States and four Canadian Provinces, according to Ralph W. Bolsinger, President of the New Castle Motor Club, which is affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

The A. A. A. club executive pointed out that this legal weapon for the control of the reckless driver was enacted into law during 1931 by five American States, namely, Delaware, Indiana, Maryland, Nebraska and Wisconsin, and the Province of New Brunswick, Canada.

"As a result," he continued, "more than 40 per cent of the car owners in the United States and considerably more than half of those in Canada now operate under the essential provisions of this safety legislation.

"It is especially significant that while this legislation has been before the States for more than three years, and a number which have enacted it have passed strengthening amendments, there has not been a single serious threat in any State toward repeal of the law."

Mr. Bolsinger declared that the A. A. A. Safety-Responsibility Law seeks to control the menace to person and property offered by that criminal minority on the streets and highways—the reckless driver. He continued:

"To accomplish this purpose, the law sets up simple legal machinery whereby the State, as the unit of local government, is empowered to deprive of the use of the highways those operators who have demonstrated that they are an actual or potential menace to their fellow motorists and to the public in general until the public is protected against damage caused by their future use of the highways."

Encourage The New Driver

The ultra cars for 1932, with those long sweeping fenders, slanting windshields, safety glass and powerful engines, will soon be in use on the highways. They are now receiving the appraising eye of motorists at the annual automobile shows. It is needless to say that they represent the very latest in automotive progress.

Naturally, while the larger number of 1932 automobiles will replace cars now in use and those relegated to the junk pile, many will be purchased by newcomers to the ranks of car owners. This will mean a new crop of drivers.

The New Castle Motor Club points out that you, as an old-timer in the art of piloting a car, can add to safety by encouraging these new drivers. Give them a friendly nod instead of a cold stare. Inspire confidence rather than attempt to cause them to become "rattled."

It is also well to recall your own experience in learning to drive. It is quite possible that you were equally as nervous when venturing into the maze of traffic for the first time.

The good driver is the experienced driver. This experience comes only through practice and care and the "novice" period must be passed through by all motorists.

Motor vehicle registrations decreased 500,000 during 1931 as compared with 1930.

Did you know that automobiles killed more than three times as many people in the first 10 months of 1931 than have perished in all mine disasters since 1900. Autocides in 1931 for New York, California, Pennsylvania and Illinois equal the death rate for all mine fatalities for the past 30 years.

Warning

Some years ago it was customary for many motorists to store their cars over the winter.

That time has passed, and the automobile has now become an all year necessity for most owners. For those few motorists, however, who do cling to the old plan, here is a timely suggestion.

With the coming of the high compression motor, the gasoline refiners have been increasing the efficiency and anti-knock quality of their gasoline. Unfortunately, when this gasoline is left in a stored car for a period of months its more volatile proportions will evaporate, leaving a sticky sediment which may cause the motorist some difficulty in the spring when he attempts to start his car.

This sediment forms on the fuel pump, carburetor and vacuum tank parts, and the intake valve housing. It is a simple task, however, to drain the gasoline from the fuel tank, carburetor and vacuum tank.

For those who have occasion to store their motors over a period of months, this precaution is strongly recommended.

* * *

Don't try to show up the other fellow. Drive carefully.

* * *

Ontario, Canada, has changed the manner of taxing motorists for their license plates. They will be taxed in 1932 on the basis of the number of cylinders and the horse power.

GRANDMOTHER AT 28

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 29.—A grandmother at the age of twenty-eight. This record breaking revelation was made by Mrs. Catherine Di Ianni of the North End, who is nearly 34 and has three married daughters and two sons. Mrs. Di Ianni was only 11 years old when she married in New York City, giving her age as 16. At 12 years of age she had her first child, now Mrs. Katy Di Ianni, who married a second cousin at 15, and the age of 16 had a baby girl. This made Mrs. Dia Ianni a grandmother at 28.

MERCER NEWS

County assessors who have not filed with the commissioners their 1932 assessment books are expected to have them completed and in the office by January 30. Notice to this effect has been sent each assessor by Clerk Mrs. Mabel Munnel.

Until the arrival of these books it will be impossible for the clerical force of the office to complete the 1932 duplicates which are essential to making the levy.

Payments of delinquent taxes of 1931 and previous years at the office of the treasurer are being made on a monthly basis.

Collectors will make payments in this chronological order under the 1932 duplicates are issued.

With about 5000 dog licenses sold since the start of their issuance January 4th Treasurer George Lawrence predicts a sale on a par with 1931 when 8000 county dogs were licensed.

Custodians George McElheney and John McIlvaine may be doing their house cleaning of the court house out of season but the job in none the less thorough.

The building is being given a very thorough washing, dusting and scrubbing with the result it presents the most attractive appearance of years.

Crime travels in waves says police and present indications prove their assertion. The outbreak of thieving in all parts of the county with special emphasis on eastern Mercer county is keeping state police and county officers busy.

ILLUSTRATED BIBLE LESSON

Jesus Feeds the Multitude

John 6:1-13; 48-51

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Jesus went to the other side of the sea of Galilee for a vacation. A great crowd, however, followed him and his disciples into a wilderness, where he patiently taught them all day long and healed their sick because he pitied them.

Toward evening, Jesus' disciples urged him to send the people away to get food. But Jesus urged his disciples to feed them. All they had in sight were five small barley loaves and two tiny fish, which a small boy had brought along for his lunch.

Jesus accepted the lunch the lad was willing to give to him and handed it to his disciples, and so multiplied it that the multitude of 5,000 men, besides women and children, had plenty to eat. And when all had eaten there remained twelve baskets.

Jesus spoke: "This is the bread which cometh down out of heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die. I am the living bread which came down out of heaven, if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: yea and the bread which I will give is my flesh, for the life of the world."

Rotary Anns Give Fine Program At Meeting Thursday

Ladies Provide Humorous Entertainment For Club Members Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—The ladies night at the Rotary Club meeting in the First Presbyterian church last night proved to be an enjoyable affair.

Frank E. Moore, chairman of the entertainment turned the entire program over to the ladies who made most of their opportunity. They not only provided some side splitting entertainment but they also showed the Rotarians how a well managed club should be run.

Music was the principal diversion of the evening, which consisted of a program by the kitchen orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Earle Yahn. The members of the orchestra were provided with an amazing assortment of odd looking instruments which consisted of various familiar implements of the household. While their music lacked the smooth finish of a symphony orchestra, it made up for this defect in intensity of its endeavors and jesticulating of its leader.

The ladies present, each received a valentine from a Rotarian friend and those proved to be most lovable. A number of mock committee reports were made by the ladies which pointed out some weak spots of the Rotary organization. This was received with considerable acclaim by the men.

Mrs. J. W. Humphrey entertained with a splendid monologue as well as providing with a number of anecdotes on various Rotarians present. The high spot of the evening was a comedy skit put on by Mrs. Lowell W. Monroe and Mrs. Paul Winter. This was a paraday on the so-called mental telepathy. Mrs. Winter as the Prof. Whosis and Mrs Monroe as Madam Dumbellinski gave a splendid exhibition of acting and humor. Mrs. J. A. Gelbach was the toastmaster of the evening. Mrs. Edward Mackasek proved to be a most capable secretary on this occasion.

Faculty Tossers Lose To Monaca

Locals Unable To Overcome Early Lead In Hard Game Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—The Ellwood High Faculty Tossers dropped their second game to an opponent last night, after what promised to be a very successful season. The Monaca pedagogues presented a strong combination, led by Coach Berkman which trimmed the locals 39-30.

An effort in the third quarter was made to stop the on-rush of the invaders. The locals were trailing four points at the half and made a strong bid to overtake the visitors in the closing stanza.

The Ellwood Faculty dropped a hard game to Ambridge last week, and one to Ben Franklin Monday.

Will Celebrate Young Peoples Week Here Soon

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—The Y. P. C. U. of the United Presbyterian church is starting to celebrate young people's week on Sunday, January 31. A special program has been arranged for the occasion. Slides showing the results of stewardship will be shown. Plans for other interesting activities will also be made. A large attendance is anticipated.

The United States has the greatest railroad mileage; Russia is second, and Canada third.

Appeal Taken In Automobile Case

Paul Cioe Is Not Satisfied With Decision Of Justice J. E. Van Gorder

Appeal from the decision of Justice of the Peace J. E. Van Gorder of Ellwood City, has been filed at the county prothonotary's office by the plaintiff, in the case of Paul Cioe against Joe Bellora.

Cioe claimes that he was driving an automobile south on Second St. Ellwood City, and when about to cross Franklin Avenue he slowed down and went into second gear. He also held out his hand, indicating that he was going to make a left turn. He ran into the center of the street and then made a right turn to go into a gasoline station, and was struck by the Bellora car. It cost Cioe $31.75 for repairs to his car. At the hearing judgment for defendant and against the plaintiff was awarded, and the costs were divided equally. Cioe is not satisfied with this decision and hence has appealed the case.

Students Enjoy Fine Program At Chapel Exercises

Musical Program Is Feature Of Weekly Event In High School Auditorium

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—The students of the Lincoln high school didn't mind staying in school 20 minutes longer this morning.

The event was the weekly chapel exercises in the high school auditorium this morning which furnished an excellent program. It had been arranged by M. L. Reynolds who gave it yesterday also. Wonderful music was provided by the Stowe township high school orchestra of McKees Rocks, Pa. The orchestra consisted of 15 members. There were solos, duets and group selections.

Faculty Bridge Members Meet

Miss Elizabeth McKnight Entertains Club At Regular Meeting Wednesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—Miss members of the Faculty Bridge Club at the home of Mrs. W. H. Whittaker on Spring avenue Wednesday evening. Miss Helen Cooper and Mrs. Whittaker were special guests on the occasion.

Bridge at two tables occupied the attention of the guests for the greater part of the evening. Miss Martha Sisley was the winner of the club award and Miss Cooper the guest favor at the close of the games. The hostess with the assistance of Miss Mary Braham served a dainty luncheon later in the evening.

Miss Marjorie Davidson invited the club to meet with her in two weeks.

Semi-Monthly Club Has Good Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Tillman Snedden entertained the Semi-Monthly Bridge Club at her home last night in Foch street. Mrs. John Roherer of Pittsburgh and who is a member, was present on the occasion.

Two tables of bridge was in vogue for the greater part of the evening at the conclusion of which Mrs. John Dunn, Jr., and Mrs. Roherer received the score favors. A delicious luncheon was provided by the hostess at a later hour. The members will travel to Pittsburgh on next Thursday to be the guests of Mrs. Roherer.

Four County Council Meets In Zelienople

Local Legion Auxiliary Sends Big Delegation To Interesting Event

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29—The J. Wilbur Randolph Auxiliary of the American Legion of this city was well represented at the Four County Council meeting in Zelienople Thursday afternoon.

At dinner covers for 12 were laid and each member present received a favor. Lovely roses were used for the table appointments. The program consisted of several out of town speakers. The next meeting will be held in two months at Beaver.

Local members present were the Mesdames S. R. Berstler, the delegate, R. Crawford, W. R. Sanders, E. W. Douds, J. F. Rutter, H. J. Holliday, D. W. Stinson, M. Alcorn and Fred Swanson, president of the local auxiliary.

Yes And No Club At Ellport Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Merle Wiltrout proved to be a charming hostess to the members of the Yes and No Club when they gathered at her home in Ellport last evening and enjoyed a tureen dinner in connection with their monthly meeting.

The table was beautifully adorned with suggestions of St. Valentine, and a sumptuous menu was served from the tureens brought by the members. Routine matters were transacted at a short business meeting and arrangements for later gatherings.

The evening hours passed pleasantly with games and other amusements after which they adjourned to meet again the last of February, the meeting place to be decided later.

ENTERTAINS CHOIR

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—Miss Anna Moses pleasingly entertained twelve members of the senior choir of the Magyar Presbyterian church at their weekly practice Thursday evening at her home.

After the practice, an informal period spent in sociability with the serving of a dainty repast brought the evening to a close. The hostess was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. Denez Moses.

On Thursday, February 4, the group will meet at the home of Mrs. Jacob Culp for practice.

Present Legion Medal Awards In Chapel Thursday

Alta Lee Battersby And Harry McCurdy Honored By Legion Before Students

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29—Alta Lee Battersby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samue. Battersby of 517 First avenue and Harry McCurdy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam McCurdy of Wampum avenue, are the happiest persons in Ellwood City today. They are the distinguished possessers of the semi-annual Legion Medal Awards, which signifies that they are the outstanding students in the Junior High School.

The awards were made yesterday in the chapel exercises. Mrs. Helen M. Wilson with a few well chosen words presented the Legion Auxiliary award to the girl and J. J. McLaughlin to the boy. The latter stated that it takes more couarge to be a good citizen that it is to be a soldier at war. In war you have the backing of a crowd and weapons but to be an honest good citizen you must battle public opinion alone. It is not the price of the award that every student desires it, but rather it is its significance.

It is an honor to be chosen from your class as the outstanding student in leadership, scholarship, service, courage, etc.

The winners of the awards were elected by the students and teachers on the above basis.

Ellwood Invades Monaca Tonight

Locals Hope To Repeat Double Victory Of Last Time

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29—Ellwood High will invade Monaca tonight in full force for a basketball double header with the Berkman boys. The Reserves of both teams will stage a preliminary contest which will be immediately followed by the main game.

Coach Berkman has somewhat revamped his lineup to turn back the Lloyd men tonight. He has advanced two of his Reserves members to the varsity which has enabled the team to have a more clicking offense. He has high hopes of avenging the two defeats given his teams here recently. Monaca has been unlucky in its section games and has yet to win one, although they have been constant threats.

Etta Kett Club Members Assemble

Miss Jean Graham Is Pleasing Hostess To Regular Meeting Of Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29—With delightful hospitality Miss Jean Graham entertained the members of the Etta Kett Club at her home last night in Wayne avenue. Miss Helen Menold and Miss Clara Stevenson were special guests on the occasion.

Bridge at two tables was in vogue for the greater part of the evening at the conclusion of which Miss Ruth Willkoffsky and Miss Gladys Grandey were presented the high score favors. At an appointed hour the hostess served a palatable luncheon much to the pleasure of those present.

The club will meet again in two weeks as the guests of Miss Grandey at her home in Wayne avenue.

Gregory I, a follower of Benedict, made pope in 590, was the first monk to hold this high position.

First Half In Shelby League Ends Saturday

Hot Mills And Specialty Favored To Close Half With Victories

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—The first half of the Shelby Basketball league will end on Saturday evening when the Hot Mills will meet the Mechanicals in the first game and the Specialty will engage the Office in the next one. The Hot Mills and Specialty are favorites to win their games.

Regardless of the outcome of these contests little change if any will occur in the present standing. The Hot Mills, last year's champions will hold first place whether they win or lose, but they will in all probality finish with a clean slate for the half. The Office has a chance to tie with the Mechanics for third place should they upset the Specialty quint.

All teams will start afresh again on next Wednesday when all will strive to win the half. Should a different team win this half, they will engage the Hot Mills in a post-season series for the league championship. The series will not be necessary should the Hot Mills win it.

The Shelby Social Club has again arranged to hold a dance after the Wednesday night games in the auditorium. Their recent dances have been so successful that the club has been requested to continue them.

COURT OF HONOR AT SHELBY TONIGHT

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29—The Boy Scouts of Ellwood City will hold their monthly Court of Honor this evening at 7:30 in the Shelby Club House.

The new year seems to be starting off with much interest as there are many applications for badges. John Lindgren, chairman of the Court of Honor will preside.

It was announced that an interesting event has been arranged for this occasion. Several of the scouts will present a program which will feature a humorous reading by David Aiken.

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Dr. J. Moore Campbell, chief bureau communicable diseases, State Department of Health, today made comment on the typhoid situation in the commonwealth during the year 1931. Dr. Campbell suggested that the drought of 1930 had seriously retarded the fight being made to reduce the incidence of this malady, and that its effects were felt all through the past year.

The total number of cases reported for 1931 was 1528, against 1590 the preceding year. Had the decline indicated in the preceding years been continued it is extremely likely that 1930 would not have shown more than 1,000 cases, with 1931 coming down to 800. That was the hope and aim of the State Department of Health, in working out its plans.

Drought Intervenes

The severe drought of 1930 intervened. Private water supplies were diminished. Families were compelled to resort to new sources of water supply, in many cases of doubtful purity, largely in the rural regions. While the summer of 1931 brought seemingly abundant rainfall, it was generally utilized in growing crops, and underground sources were not renewed sufficiently to give back the wells and springs that had previously furnished healthful water supplies.

The first half of 1931 showed a falling off in typhoid over the previous year, but in many parts of the state the rainfall was scanty in the late summer and early autumn, and at once we find that there were a greaater number of typhoid cases in the fall of 1931 than in a like period during 1930.

With the hope that 1932 will be a year when the normal and healthful supplies of water for domestic consumption will be adequate the bureau of Communicable Diseases will continue to wage war against typhoid, with the aim of reducing it to a lower point than ever in the history of the State Health Department, said Dr. Campbell.

TAKES ROOMER'S CAR; DRAWS FINE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—After admitting he had borrowed the automobile of a roomer in his grandmother's home at night for "joy rides," Clark Volbrecht, 17, was fined $5 here.

Paul Alexis, the roomer, reported to police that someone was using his automobile while he worked at night. Police kept a watch on the garage and arrested young Volbrecht.

PHILADELPHIA WAITS FOR ICE

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—All Philadelphia's grizzled harbor salts have to do nowadays is sit around and wait—Not fear—the forming of ice in the harbor.

A local fleet of iceboats is ready to break up an ice jam in the event the harbor becomes clogged.

EWING WEDS COUPLE

Miss Helen L. Gondor and Charles Douglas, both of Youngstown, were united in marriage late Thursday by Alderman Wallace J. Ewing, East street. It was Ewing's first wedding since he took office early in January.

The couple returned to Youngstown to live.

AMERICA'S OLYMPIC HOCKEY TEAM IN TRAINING

Desert Postoffice Is Abandoned

Death Valley Scotty's Famous Ranch Is Now Quiet

(International News Service)

BONNIE CLARE, Nev.—The lonely desert postoffice, about halfway between Goldfield and Death Valley Scotty's amous ranch in Grapevine canyon, Death Valley, has been abandoned.

This is where for the past seven years, Scotty has received his mail, sometimes as many as 500 and 800 letters in one day, letters from Japan, China, Australia, New Zealand, South Sea Island, South America. In fact, every country in the world was represented at different times in the mail brought by stage three times a week to this little postoffice surrounded by miles and miles of desert sand and sagebrush.

Since all work ceased at the ranch some six months ago, Scotty's fan mail has dwindled to a few letters a week. The $2,500,000 mansion and other buildings are boarded up in charge of a lone watchman. Scotty visits the place occasionally but spends most of his time in Hollywood and Los Angeles.

A. M. Johnson, the Chicago insurance magnate, who is generally credited with furnishing the millions that have been spent in converting this desolate region into a garden spot and a place of mystery is spending the winter in Los Angeles. Just why he so suddenly pulled tight the purse strings is not known. Some say Wall street, others the depression.

BABY BIG AS A PHONE

(International News Service)

DETROIT—Hardly larger than a telephone is three months old Jimmy Williams—but he's just as hardy and hearty as any normal sized child. And his mother, Mrs. Doris Williams is many times prouder than many mothers. Jimmy weighed 45 ounces at birth. He gained only a few ounces since, but is on the way to regular growth, according to physicians.

Mrs. Charles O'Brien of 510 West Park way, who is undergoing treatment at the Cleveland Clinic hospital, is reported as showing some improvement in her condition.

Finance Heads in Conclave

HOUN' DOG GETS BAG OF SILVER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—As a rabbit hound, walter Hayhoe's dog is not so much, but he'd make a good detective.

Hunting on the edge of town with his master, the hound failed to raise any game, but did discover a canvas bag full of silver pieces. The service was too elaborate for Hayhoe so he took it to the police.

IGNORE PEDDLING BAN IN CITY HALL

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—Vendors who put their ice cream, shoelaces, cakes and neckties on the mart in city hall here are doing so despite a ban against peddlers.

One determined youth explained: "We are not peddling, we are serving our regular customers.

TO SELL HONOLULU'S ZOO

HONOLULU—The city budget of Honolulu must be slashed. In order to do this effectively the city-fathers have decided to dispose of the local zoo. The city is now offering for sale: One elephant, three bears, three lions, two leopards, 20 monkeys and a few other assorted animals. The elephant, Daisy, originally came from Africa. She was bought in 1915 with $3,000 obtained by public subscription.

Brass is the name of a town in British Nigeria, West Africa.

Leading Causes Of Death Listed

Over Three Hundred People Died Each Day Last Year In Pennsylvania

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—An effort to visualize the mortality figures for the first ten months of 1931, in such simple form that they may be easily understood in their relation to current health activities, was made today by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health.

The completed tables for this ten months period present a fairly accurate picture of the entire year, and the addition of the other two months will not materially change the rates, as they are shown at this time.

The casual reader may not be able to quickly grasp the significance of an annual total in any one field of activity, when presented in connection with a great many totals along the same line. But the things that occur in a day, a single 24 hour day, will help to readily understand the proportionate value of the figures, when given for an entire year.

Each and every day of the first ten months of 1931, the following record of death was written in the commonwealth:—

62 people died from diseases of the heart,
31 people died from disease of the kidneys,
27 people died from cancer,
26 people died from pneumonia,
22 people died from apoplexy,

These seven causes having taken 194 lives each day, it was shown that all the other destroyers of life put together took toll of 112 additional, making the total daily death rate reach 306.

Other leading death causes were: influenza, puerperal, suicide and cirrhosis of the liver. Babies under one year died at the rate of 33 each day. A majority of the diseases named show a lower death rate than in previous years.

Queer Situation At Boulder City

Only Jack Rabbits Have Lived There Long Enough To Be Postmaster

(International News Service)

BOULDER CITY, Nev., Jan. 29.—Jackrabbits could not qualify for the postmastership of this Hoover dam community. And only the jackrabbits resided here long enough to qualify for the appointment, according to the rules set by the postoffice department in issuing the call a month ago for examination to fill the post.

When the rule was included that applicants must have been residents of Boulder City for at least two years, there was no cognizance of the fact that building of the town was started but ten months ago, that two years ago there was only rolling, sand-coverd, barren ground where now a city of 4,000 has its being.

And so the postoffice has issued a new call for examination to qualify a postmaster—this time with the residence rule to the effect that the applicant must have lived in Las Vegas, 23 miles away, for the past two years.

Acting Postmaster J. L. Finney, under whose eight months regime the office has grown from fourth class to third class, and qualifies already for second class for next quarter, will be among those to take the examination.

GIRL FLIES 160 MILES DAILY FOR AIR LESSON

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 29.—Every day, Helen Day, 19-year-old Sacramento girl, travels 160 miles by airplane to take a flying lesson here. She claims a world record for aerial commuting.

Each morning Miss Day boards a passenger plane at Sacramento, arrives here shortly afterward, then climbs into the cockpit of an instruction plane for an hour's lesson with Lieut. Charles Shone. The lesson over, she flies back to Sacramento in another passenger ship.

"If I Were Sixteen", Address By Dr. Wingerd Before Hi-Y Seniors At Ladies' Banquet

"If I were 16 I would cultivate a fine sense of humor," declared Dr. Charles B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church in an address at the annual Ladies' Night of the Senior Hi-Y Club held in the banquet room of the Y. M. C. A. last evening.

Speaking on the subject: "If I Were Sixteen," the minister said:

"If I were 16 I would take every reasonable care of my health. I would endeavor to secure the best possible education. I would certainly unite with some church. I would avoid extravagance. I would cultivate punctuality. I would cultivate a fine sense of humor. I would form the friendship of good, strong people."

"No doubt you have heard about unemployment and hard conditions, but by the time you are ready for life there will be a chance for all."

The honor guests at the Hi-Y banquet to which Hi-Yers escorted their ladies, were: Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Wingerd, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Green, Prof. and Mrs. F. L. Orth, R. E. Johns, Mrs. Rachel Taylor, Mrs. R. L. Meermans, Henry MacNichols, Mrs. William Thomas, Miss Mary Long, Robert Mills.

The "Y" banquet hall was beautifully decorated with the class colors of blue and gold. Present were the Hi-Y officers, James Stevenson, Robert Ailey, Jack Cole, Robert Wilkins.

"If I were 16 I would not boast or swagger. I would try to deserve the respect of others, I would be honest and truthful, I would treat all girls as I would have others treat my sister.

I would read, write and speak publicly at all opportunities. I would not expect all people to agree with me. I would not cultivate hate in my soul. I would avoid bad habits. I would, if at home, express love and gratitude to my parents."

The invocation was delivered by W. A. Thomas, boys' work director of the Y. M. C. A. Pep singing was led by R. E. Johns, who also pleased with a vocal solo. James Stevenson, president of the Hi-Y was the master of ceremonies.

"PARLOR DATES" REVIVED

BOSTON, Mass.—Sunday night "parlor dates" popular in the nineties, have hit Boston University. Shortage of student cash for outside dates has resulted in a movement to lower the cost of dates to students and to encourage the girls to entertain at "home." The school of religious education has installed a well-equipped game room with bridge tables and ping-pong sets. Sergent School in Cambridge, an addition of Boston University, has established Sunday evening luncheons at which the girls may entertain their boy friends.

MOSCOW'S 1ST SKYSCRAPER

(International News Service)

MOSCOW—First skyscraper to break Moscow's skyline, the new building of the Publishing Trust will soon be put into construction. Twenty-two stories is the hitherto unheard of height this house is scheduled to reach. If all goes well the building should be completed sometime during 1933. It will house all the state publishing companies, the editorial offices of the numerous magazines and a large reference library.

Auxiliary Plans For Anniversary On February 10

Husbands Will Be Guests Of G. I. A. At 23rd Anniversary Dinner

The 23rd anniversary of the Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will be observed on Wednesday, February 10, according to plans formulated at a business meeting of the Auxiliary in the City building Thursday afternoon.

Husbands will be special guests at the anniversary event and a tureen dinner will be enjoyed at 6 o'clock that Wednesday evening.

Dinner Enjoyed By Wilson Lodge

Gathering Thursday evening at Malta hall, fifteen members of Mabel Wilson lodge No. 567 auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen No. 955 enjoyed a business meeting and tureen dinner. The dinner, served at 6:30, was most delicious.

Mrs. Edna McConnell, vice president, presided. An invitation to attend a meeting of the Economy lodge No. [illegible] at Pittsburgh was read. The event will take place February 3.

The next regular meeting will be Thursday, February 11.

SEMESTER ENDING

This is the last day of the first school semester and local school students on Monday will take up the work in the new classes to which they have been promoted.

GOOD CIRCULATION

Observations In 7th Ward

Letter Carrier Woods would like to know the name of the alley between Newell avenue and North Cedar street extending from Cherry to Arch streets. Or is there a name for it? It isn't paved.

The second floor windows on a vacant frame house on North Cedar street are always open and the street car conductor wonders if the weather and rain won't ruin the place.

Sled load parties was the topic of conversation yesterday afternoon. Mrs. W. A. Liscomb, of the Alderman's office, remarked that about this time a number of years ago she went on a sleighing party from her home in Croton to Edenburg. The trip was remembered especially because of the hard time they had in getting the sled through the long covered bridge in Edenburg. There was no snow inside the bridge and everybody had to get out and push.

SHOOTS DOG

Officer Clarence Campbell, of the city police force, shot a dog on West Clayton street, Thursday morning. Complaints had been received that the dog was running around endangering the children of the neighborhood. It was unlicensed.

LOSES DOG

Robert Flowers, of West Clayton street, lost a valuable airdale, according to report. The dog was found to have been poisoned.

MEETING TONIGHT

Mrs. J. C. Raney's home on West Cherry street will be the gathering place for members of the Mahoning Book club this evening. A social time will be enjoyed.

B. W. R. GIRLS

The B. W. R. Girls will meet next Tuesday evening, February 2, at the home of Mrs. E. M. Johnson, Clayton street.

REPEATING PLAY

"The Red Headed Step-Child," a play presented last evening at the Mahoning M. E. church by the Home and Foreign Missionary society, will be repeated tonight. The play presentation was very successful and was witnessed by quite a large audience.

GRADUATING TONIGHT

At the commencement exercises to be conducted tonight at the New Castle senior high school, four seventh ward residents will be numbered among the graduates receiving diplomas.

The graduates from here include Harold Gillespie, James Gallagher, William Jordon and Leroy Turk.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

J. R. McGuire, of North Cedar street, is out again, after a short illness.

William Cox and Frank Byerley, of North Cedar street and Wabash avenue, attended the automobile show in Pittsburgh, Wednesday.

J. N. Nelson, of Pittsburgh, spent Thursday visiting friends in seventh ward.

Ralph and Mary Nelson, of Pittsburgh, returned home Thursday night after a visit of several days with relatives in New Castle.

Andy Cioffi of Akron, O., returned home Thursday afternoon after spending a week with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McNeil of Rochester are expected to arrive here today to make a visit with local relatives.

Lyle McKibben of Youngstown was a Wednesday visitor in seventh ward and other sections of New Castle.

County Treasurer Raises Bond And Then Takes Oath

County Treasurer At Uniontown Is 24 Days Late In Taking Office

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 29—His failure to obtain a $200,000 bond cut Treasurer Thomas Aubrey's four-year term short 24 days.

He was inducted into office today when he should have assumed the financial reins of the county on January 5. John Q. Adams, the incumbent, continued in office until Aubrey raised the bond.

Young Girl Tries To Cheat Law, Takes Quantity Of Poison

Young Girl Wanted In Youngstown For Larceny Swallows Poison In West View

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29—An attempt of Anna Backus, 19, to cheat Ohio authorities by suicide failed today.

Miss Backus swallowed poison when Chief of Police W. B. D. Kaismaier of West View, appeared at a home where she was visiting and attempted to serve a larceny warrant.

She asked permission to change a dress and then swallowed poison. She is wanted in Youngstown on a larceny charge said to involve more than $500, according to police.

Women Enroll In First Aid Class

Several Have Already Entered Red Cross Class Which Opens Next Month

Not only are all men over the age of 17 eligible to enroll in the First Aid Class now being formed by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, but any woman desiring of acquiring a thorough knowledge of first aid work may also enter the class.

Several women have already signified their intention of taking part in the course and a number of others are expected to do so. Among those who have entered is Miss Nance Pugh, Girl Scout director.

There will be eight class periods, Ralph F. Davis, who is in charge of the class announced this morning, and classes will open around the middle of February.

An effort is being made to enroll the police and firemen in these classes as the knowledge received would be very beneficial to them in their work. Members of Troop F have also been invited to enter.

Injunction Halts Interference With Erie Slot Machines

Erie Chief Of Police And Other City Officials Stopped By Court Order

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 29.—Mayor James P. Rossiter, Police Chief William Detzel and other city officials today were under injunction to refrain from interferring with operation of about 140 slot machines here.

The restraining order was handed down by Judge U. P. Rossiter on plea of the Superior Confection company of Columbus, O. The company charged police were unlawfully hindering operation of vending machines in stores here and appealed for an injunction. Judge Rossiter's action climaxed a three-week court battle in which city officials sought to prevent granting of the injunction after seizing the machines.

Pennsy Wreck Is Being Probed By Officials Today

One Man Is Dead, And Two Injured In Wreck Near Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 29—Investigators today undertook to fix responsibility for a Pennsylvania railroad wreck and subsequent fire near here last night in which one man died and two were injured.

I. R. Herman, Sunbury, flagman, was pinned beneath the wreckage and burned to death. Wm. Fromm, conductor, also of Sunburry, suffered a fracture of the skull and was in a critical condition today. Wright Ness, of Northumberland, was removed to a hospital, suffering principally from shock.

The accident occurred at Lee Park when a light engine pushing a caboose collided head-on with another ocomotive running light. The three men were riding in the caboose, which was crushed between the locomotives, then caught fire.

TURN EARTH DWELLERS.

(International News Service)

WAREHAM, Mass.—Two unemployed bachelors have gone "earth dwellers." Roman Britto, 31, and his chum, Joseph Garcia, 29, have established a "mud igloo" which they have occupied since last November. The "mud palace" has two dark chambers, both of them windowless. Within these they sleep and cook their food.

Students Demand Teacher Be Kept At Pitcairn High

Four Girls And Three Boys Will Present Pleas To School Officials

HOPE TO SAVE TEACHER'S JOB

(International News Service)

PITCAIRN, Pa., Jan. 29.—Representing more than 200 striking high school students, a committee of four girls and three boys today were to demand of school authorities the reinstatement of Clifford H. Weight, resigned mathematics instructor.

The committee announced that it would attempt to persuade all striking students to return to classes to escape a fine for seven consecutive unexcused absences.

Hearings Arranged.

School officials contended Weight resigned because of ill health but student strike leaders declared he was forced to resign because of his leniency with students in his classes.

Jack Amend and Paul St. Clair, arrested as leaders of the strike and released on $500 bail, will be given hearings Monday before Justice of the Peace W. G. Hoehl.

The entire community was thrown into a turmoil when the students refused to attend school and paraded noisily through the town in defiance of police authorities yesterday.

Mid-Year Institute Will Be Held In Epworth Church

Beginning Monday, February 1, and continuing the 2nd and 4th, Methodist Episcopal young people will hold a mid-year institute, with sessions in the Epworth Methodist church, East Washington street and Butler avenue.

Dr. S. L. Maxwell, pastor of Epworth church, will be dean of the institute, and other faculty members will include Rev. E. O. McNulty, pastor of the New Wilmington Methodist church, as teacher of Bible; Miss Beulah Magruder, deaconess of the First Methodist church, teacher of methods; Dr. Maxwell, teacher of missions, and Rev. V. L. Bloomquist, pastor of the Savannah Methodist church, teacher of recreation and culture.

Miss Ruth Buchanan will be in charge of the recreational periods; Miss Isabel Shaw will be the registrar and Tom Grittie will act as treasurer.

Present indications are that a large group of young people from the Methodist churches and vicinity will attend this three-day institute. The sessions begin nightly at 7 o'clock.

The institute is under the direction of the New Castle sub-district cabinet and the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church and is a part of the leadership-training program of the denomination.

Erie Police Communicate With Police Officials In Northwestern Pennsylvania Towns

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa. Jan. 29.—Police today communicated with authorities of Oil City, Franklin, Bradford, Meadville and other cities of this region in an effort to determine identity of a youth held here on a "John Doe" warrant.

The youth was taken into custody while tampering with an automobile, according to police who said he had garage tools in his possession and refused to give an account of himself. The youth, about 25, declined to divulge his identity and the checkup of surrounding towns was begun to determine whether he is wanted by authorities there.

HIT-RUN DRIVER IS FOUND GUILTY

FRANKLIN, Pa., Jan. 29.—Ralph Hunter of Titusville was found guilty by a quarter sessions jury of failing to stop at the scene of an accident on the Reno road the night of December 20. Rebecca Hays testified that she was getting into L. L. Cook's car when the machine driven by Hunter struck her and the Cook automobile. Hunter's car slowed up, but did not stop. Blanche Beach, a passenger in Hunter's car, urged him to stop, but after looking back through the rear window he drove on.

May Postpone Balancing Of U. S. Budget

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. — Balancing of the federal budget may be postponed as a result of the decision of both Republican and Democratic fiscal leaders of the house to scrap the treasury's plan for retroactive tax increases.

In deciding to relieve income taxpayers of additional burdens on their 1931 incomes, refusing to raise rates and postponing the effective date of special taxes, the house ways and means committee has eliminated about $390,000,000 from the tax increase program.

The treasury's tax program, as given to congress, calls for balancing of the budget in 1934.

May Increase Taxes

If this is accomplished now, congress must increase taxes beyond the $920,000,000 full year program of the treasury, or it must cut expenditures far more than proposed by President Hoover.

With appropriations for the reconstruction finance corporation and federal land banks making an increase in total appropriations a certainty, the only apparent remedy left in the budget balancing program is a heavier increase in taxes than was proposed.

Strong opposition is manifest in congress, to the treasury's plan for an early balancing of the budget. Many members contend that moderate taxes, together with business revival, will wipe out any increase in the public debt.

Hillsville All Agog! Has Real Reason To Be

Mahoning Township has seen some fast basketball in the past, but basketball history will date from February 11 when two teams composed of the township school directors and the township officers will battle for sweet charity's sake.

The school directors comprise J. H. Eakin, Roy McBride, Harry Sherrard, Gail McCreary and Patsy Colucci. Some of them haven't engaged in sport since mah jong was new but for sweet charity they're willing to risk a couple charley horses and strawberry bruises. These are the challengers.

The township officers comprise Joseph Kuhn, John Gibson, Milo Paden, Norman McClelland and "Big Bill" Edwards. Bill will use nothing but his 250 pounds and a six shooter for equipment.

The game will be held in the school house in Hillsville on February 11, and all doctors of the district are urged to attend. They may be needed. "Charity, charity, how many crimes are committed in thy name."

Essay Awarded Prize In Daughters Of 1812 Contest

To a member of the graduating class the Daughters of 1812 award a $10 gold piece for the best essay on a topic selected by the organization. Miss Jean Parker a member of the mid-year graduating class of the high school will receive the prize at the Commencement exercises next Friday.

Miss Parker's essay is presented herewith:

"THE FEDERALISTS AND THE HARTFORD CONVENTION"
(By Jean Parker)

The Federalist Party in American politics is that party which organized the national government of the United States under the constitution of 1787. The name Federalists was first given to th[ose] who championed [the] adoption of [the] constitution. [They] were the interests that had felt the evils of the weak government under the Articles of Confederation. Most of the Federalists of 1787-1788 became members of the later Federalist party.

The Federalist party which may be regarded as definitely organized from 1791, was led, omitting Washington, by Alexander Hamilton and John Adams. The Federalists controlled the government until 1801. They organized it in all its branches, giving it an administrative machinery, that in the name endures today; established the doctrine of national neutrality toward European conflicts and fixed the practice of a liberal construction of the constitution.

After 1801 the Federalists never regained power. It lost more and more its influence and usefulness and by 1817 was practically dead as a national party. Some think the party fell because the Republicans took over their ideas of nationality. It fell however, because its great leaders John Adams and Alexander Hamilton became bitter enemies; because the party could not hold the support of its original commercial, manufacturing and general business elements, because the party opposed sectionalism to a growing nationalism on the issues that ended in the war of 1812 and mostly became the principles of the party leaders (of Hamilton) were out of harmony in various respects with American ideals.

The Federalists while opposed to the war were not in favor of tame submission. They wanted protection of their commerce and citizenship but they preferred to work out their salvation by themselves. They voted for an increase of the army to 35,000 quite as much to embarrass their opponents as to promote the intended war, but at the actual declaration they voted almost to a man against it.

The legislature of Massachusetts presented to Congress a moderate memorial against the declaration of war.

Congress in January 1812 voted 13 new regiments of regulars. The President in February was authorized to call 50,000 one year volunteers and in April to call out 100,000 of the state militia. The governor of the several New England states refused to comply with the call for militia in the manner desired by the administration.

The following two questions were brought up when Major-General Dearborn acting under the authority of secretary of war, asked for detachments of the militia of Connecticut and likewise from Massachusetts on January 22; first, could the militia be legally demanded until one of the three contingencies named in the Constitution had arisen "to execute the laws of the Union, supress insurrection and repel invasion," and second, "could the militia be placed under the commands of a continental officer"?

Men refused to march beyond the border of the United States and sometimes beyond the border of their own state. The Federal government finally came to the policy of leaving the New England states to the care of themselves. The militia of Massachusetts, 70,000 in enrollment, well drilled and well equipped was definitely withdrawn from the service of the United States in September, 1814.

The general orders of governor Strong dated September 6, placed the militia under a state major general. It was also stated that the states measures were the states affairs. Connecticut withdrew her military force from federal control even before Massachusetts. Massachusetts and Rhode Island exchanged notes offering assurance of their aid in case of invasion of either state. Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut were better fitted than any other (omitting Pennsylvania) three states to aid in financing the war.

The whole laid up banking capital of the country was estimated at $60,000,000 and New England had about $10,000,000 dollars, of this. New England from 1810 supplied the rest of the country with manufactured goods. The New England banks had probably one half the specie in the country at the end of 1814.

The New England federalists opposed the war at this very critical time. The war was caused by British interference with our commerce it was violently opposed by the commercial section of New England. The New England merchants were injured by the embargoes and non-intercourse more so than by the British cruisers. They condemned the war openly and refused to allow their militia to serve outside their state.

The Federal government could not force them to subscribe to national loans but she might prevent them from trading with the enemy. An Embargo act was passed in December 1813 but the people on the island of Manterchet were starving from its strict enforcement. The Federalists saw the meaning of the situation and keyed thir opposition higher.

The progress of events in 1814 made clearer and clearer to the Federalists the need of some final action for their protection. New England thought the war must come to an end or else secession would take place.

The legislature met in an extra session to enact measures for the defense of the state and on October 6 voted to appoint 12 delegates to meet at Hartford to confer with other delegates upon the subject of their public grievances and concerns. Some delegates elected were Cabot, Harrison Gray Otis and Nathan Dane. It met on December 15, 1814 made up of 12 men from Massachusetts, 7 from Connecticut, 4 from Rhode Island besides three unofficial delegates from New Hampshire and one from Vermont.

On December 15, 23 gentlemen took their places in the council chamber of the state house of Hartford and proceeded to organize. George Cabot of Massachusetts was put in the chair, Theodore Dwight was made secretary, chaplains were appointed and a committee named to examine credentials. The doors were closed and for three weeks the members deliberated in secret.

Meanwhile speculation ran rife. It was thought for a while that New England would open her ports to Great Britain. Some even thought that a separate confederation of New England states was meditated and the Hartford convention was framing the constitution.

It was said that the people thought it wise to throw off all connection with this wasteful war, make peace with our enemy and open once more our commerce with the world. The people were eager for peace at any price. At Reading, Massachusetts the people voted to make no return for national taxation and pay no more national taxes till the state should decide what to do.

When the war began the president insisted upon retaining the exclusive control of the military movements. Massachusetts and Connecticut refused to submit their militia to the orders of the war department, so Monroe declined to pay their expenses. The Massachusetts leaders stated at once that no choice was left between submitting to the enemy, which could not be, or appropriating to the defense of the states the revenues derived from her people formerly spent for state expenses.

The Massachusetts legislature appropriated $1,000,000 to support a state army of 10,000 men. Then Otis got Massachusetts to the point of instituting a convention to meet at Hartford.

The first efforts to a New England convention was in 1808-9. The second, is reported by John Quincy Adams in 1812, immediately after the declaration of war against Great Britain. The third was by bringing delegates into conference.

It was a very secret assembly and the doors were guarded carefully. They never submitted anything that was done to anyone outside the convention until under the full blast of popular displeasure. Cabot delivered to his native state the sealed journal of its proceedings. It contained however, only a meager sketch of the formal proceedings.

The labors of this convention ended with a report and resolution signed by delegates present and adopted on the day before the final adjournment.

One of the first questions discussed in the convention was secession. They came to the conclusion on this question however, that a new administration might bring a different idea. The next question was the right of the president to call the militia and the Conscription Bill then before Congress. They thought it was the right of the state to protect themselves but decided to wait until Congress had disposed of the Conscription Bill.

The next step was a review of the Republican Administration since the fourth of March, 1801. They made four recommendations to the states;

First, that Congress be asked not only suffer each state to defend itself but to permit a part of the Federal taxes gathered within each state to be used to meet the cost of defending itself; second, that state armies be raised; third, proposed seven ammendments to the Federal Constitution and fourth, if Congress did not act, if peace was not concluded, if New England was neither defended by the General government nor given leave to defend itself and pay the cost with receipts of Federal taxes laid on her people. A second convention should meet in Boston on the third Thursday of June.

A committee was appointed by the Hartford convention to present its resolutions for constitutional amendments to Congress and early in February the committee was in Washington ready to negotiate with the national government. The news of peace and victory saved Madison and perhaps the Union. The committee of Hartford slipped out of Washington as quitely as possible.

This was a complete overthrow for the Federal plans. The triumphant Republicans lost no opportunity to cast reproach upon all connected with the Hartford convention.

Alienists Declare Bischoff "Unsound"

Accused Slayer Of Cincinnati Girl Has Been Under Observation

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 29—Chas. Bischoff, 45, a shoemaker, who is accused of kidnapping and murdering Marian McLean, 6, Thursday was declared of "unsound mind" by three alienists who have had him under observation for the last week at the Long View hospital.

The report, which was made by doctors David J. Wolstein, J[ohn] Leary and E. A. Barber, will be submitted tomorrow to Judge Charles Bell. The court will then decide what disposition will be made of Bischoff and the case of first degree murder pending against him in connection with the slaying of the McLean child.

Movie Theatre Man In Sharon Heckled

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Jan. 29—Poetic justice dwelt in the heart of a movie fan here who witnessed an eerie "thriller" at a local house.

"I don't think you ought to, either so I called to get you up."

NEW CASTLE PLAYS AT BUTLER TONIGHT

ANTICIPATE CLOSE CONTEST TONIGHT

New Castle Is Primed For Important Section Three Floor Game

WINNER WILL TAKE SECTION THREE LEAD

Inspired By Six Straight Wins, New Castle Hopes To Annex Seventh Triumph

With six straight victories to inspire its effort, the New Castle high school red and black jerseyed basketball flingers leave late this afternoon for Butler, where tonight in the gymnasium of the Butler high school, they will meet Butler's Gold and White attired passers. The game starts at 8:00 o'clock. The victor will ascend to the Section Three lead.

Having gone through a series of stringent drills for the crucial tussle all this week, the New Castle passers are in mid-season form for the tilt. Thursday afternoon the boys went through the final workout of the week. The affair was a light one. Improvement has been noticeable in the New Castle team. Their condition is splendid, Coach Phil Bridenbaugh announced this morning.

The feeling of "over confidence" has been swept away for th's tilt anyhow. The local boys have worked diligently all week.

The Tin City will be represented by the same team that demolished Rochester last Friday, the local mentor stated. Andy Lasky who is playing good ball at center will be pitted once more against Lobuono. Fans look for a close battle at the pivot post. Much will depend on the centers. The team that gets that tip-off will have a big advantage. Captain Nick Uram, will face a huge task this evening when he takes his post at guard against Art Keck, leading scorer for the Butler five.

Keck also tops the remainder of the passers in the league in scoring. His closest competitor is Andy Lasky local center. Much will depend on Lasky and Nick Uram. If Lasky can pop the sphere in the rim like he has been doing in the past few games and if N. Uram can watch this man Keck successfully then New Castle's chances will be bright.

Reiber, who has also been showing impressiveness must not be overlooked. His work at the other guard berth will mean a lot. Sherman, Keck's side kick has been dropping the sphere in the cords with regularity. In the game Tuesday night when Butler captured its fifth straight by trimming Shady Side Academy 39-6, Sherman was responsible for six points.

Sykes and Kozak, Butler's clever sentinels will be called to watch J. Uram and Marvin. Although not authentic, it is believed that Marvin will start in place of Teplica at one of the forward berths for New Castle. This Kozak fellow is supposed to be some guard. J. Uram has tallied 14 markers to date. All in all Butler quintet is rated among the best in the district and will trouble the locals.

Offensively New Castle has the most impressive record from indications and comparitive scores. New Castle took the measure of Ellwood City 30-7. Butler was extended to lower the Tubers. A five point margin separated the locals from New Brighton here while the Gold and White was victorious by one point. New Castle won over Rochester, 25-17 while Coach Heinzer's team won easily over the Bridgers 25-9.

Beaver Falls fell before the attack of the Red and Black clad team by 10 points while Butler grabbed a nine point margin down the Falls floor. In its four sectional conflicts, the Tin City ramblers have heaved the sphere through the cords for 95 points, Butler against similiar opposition has found the rims for 78 points. Defensively the two clubs appear evenly matched. Only 49 points have been chalked by New Castle's opponents while 47 points have been tallied by Butler's foes.

Defense Good

Butler's defense has been outstanding in all its games to date New Castle will have to break through that to score a win. New Castle's defense is good when it clicks. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has watched this department carefully all week.

Several hundred will in all probabilities follow the local five to watch them battle for the Section Three lead.

New Castle		Butler
J. Uram	F	Keck
Marvin	F	Sherman
Lasky	C	Lobuono
N. Uram	G	Kozak
Reiber	G	Sykes

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Cincinnati boxing commission slapped a $5,000 fine and an indefinite suspension on Christopher (Bat) Battalino for his "no contest" match with Freddie Miller at Cincinnati, Wednesday night. Miller was paid for three round, the distance the fighters had gone when Lou Bauman stopped the fight on the ground that Battalino was not trying. Miller's claim to the title was disallowed. The 2,015 fans who paid to see the fight billed for the featherweight title are to be reimbursed from the $5,000 fine and Jimmy Shevlin, promoter, will not lose anything. The suspension inflicted will be effective in every state affiliated with the National Boxing association His title was taken from him when he failed to make the featherweight limit of 126 pounds.

George Bellos of Greenville, Pa., will tackle Wild Bill Jacobson of Cleveland tonight at Warren, O., which has gone for the rasslin' game.

Jim Londos and Gino Garbialdi attracted more than 11,000 fans to their match, which Londos won, at the public hall, Cleveland.

Emmett Rocco, Ellwood City, and his new manager, Benny Rocco, a younger brother, visited The News yesterday afternoon and confirmed the report that Joe Alexander and Emmett had agreed to split up as manager and boxer. The split was agreeable to both. In talking of a possible bout with Jack Dempsey at Pittsburg soon, Benny said he would not accept such a fight unless Emmett got "pretty fair money". He pointed out that a gash above an eye, an injured hand or in fact any sort of an injury would cost Rocco future money. Rocco himself said that he will let Benny sign him for several bouts and he will then hie to Pittsburgh or some other city to train. He wants heavy fellows to belt around and he figures that he can find 'em in large city gyms.

Bill Walker, southpaw hurler, and Chuck Fullis, hard hitting outfielder, have returned contracts to the New York Giants. Fred Heimach, a left-handed pitcher, signed with the Dodgers for the coming season.

St. Marys Will Battle Hubbard Quintet Tonight

Hubbard Hubs Will Replace Westminster Reserves On Saints Card Tonight

St. Marys basketball team will have the strong Hubbard Hubs at the St. Marys floor tonight, instead of the originally scheduled game with the Westminster College Reserves, it was announced today by Manager "Joe" Travers. St. Philips and James will play the Gersons. The first game starts at 7:30 o'clock.

The Hubbard team is rated quite high in Eastern Ohio circles and will come to New Castle to stop the advance of the Saints. Coach Fraser has the St. Marys team primed for victory tonight. Two good games for the price of one should fill the St. Mary's auditorium.

St. Phillips-James Will Play Gersons

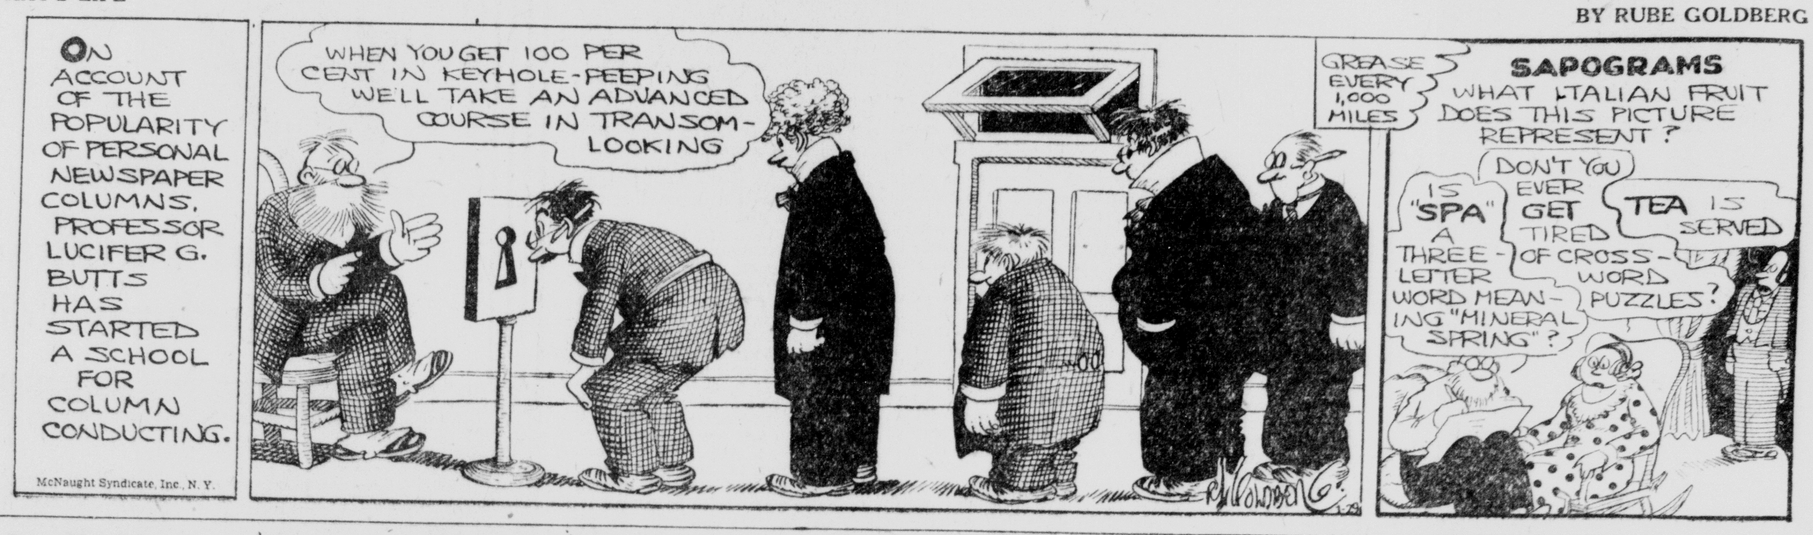

The St. Phillips and James basketball team will play the Gersons at the St. Marys floor tonight. Coach Parker requests all members of the team to report at the Parish Hall at 6:30 o'clock. The St. Phillips and James team would like to arrange games with all Class A teams in the city and county. For games call 4678-J, and ask for Ed Sesko, or write to Edwark Sesko at 1611 Moravia street.

Jackie Fields Regains Title

Former Champion Beats Lou Brouillard To Regain His Welter Title

BILLY JONES KAYOES BOZO

By CLAIR KELLY
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—It's Jackie Fields of roses again today for the native Chicago youngster regained the world's welterweight title last night after a lapse of two years when he dethroned the New England southpaw, Lou Brouillard, of Worcester, in their ten-round championship row at the stadium.

It took the finest welterweight championship fight since Mickey Walker's regime to restore Fields to the title which he first won in 1929, when fouled by Joe Dundee at Detroit. The squatty, muscular Brouillard made a desperate and nearly successful effort in the last two rounds to hold the crown he won last October and was defending for the first time.

Fields Looks Good.

The former champion out-generaled Brouillard after the first two rounds and had him tottering under a succession of measured rights to the jaw in the last minute and a half of the sixth round. Going into the ninth, the little champion was far in arrears and it was then that he walked into Field's sharper punches and made the latter slug with him to a sensational finish.

Battling Bozo, the celebrated Alabama fistic clown, found himself battered out of the light heavyweight championship tournament when he was stopped by Billy Jones, the Philadelphian in the ninth round of one of the two tourney encounters included on the bill.

Church League Games Friday

Wesley M. E. vs Highland U. P., "A".
Cen. Christians vs First M. E., "B".

First Baptists vs St. Johns, "B".
Central Christians vs Highland, "A".

Baer-Levinsky Fight Tonight

Battle Of "Clowns" Will Take Place In New York City Garden

VICTORY MEANS MUCH FOR BAER

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—King Levinsky, the Chicago wild man, and Max Baer, Pacific coast playboy, a couple of Jewish comedians with smiles on their faces and horseshoes in their gloves, meet at Madison Square Garden tonight in a ten-round heavyweight tilt that has fistic observers a bit stumped.

Both fighters can hit like a mule and both can "take it".

Baer Better Boxer.

Baer is a better boxer than the Kingfish. The Livermore, Calif., giant should win the decision by the simple method of landing more punches. A year ago he was good enough to extend Ernie Schaaf to the limit, and Schaaf is just as tough as they come.

If Levinskey and Baer revert to type, tonight's bout could be called the "clash of the clowns", with Baer spending most of his time grinning at friends in the crowd and the Kingfish climing up the ropes like a monkey.

There is a prize at stake for Baer, however, if he gets down to business. Victory will get him a shot at the winner of the Schaaf-Paulino bout scheduled at the garden a week from tonight. The ultimate survivor will be named to substitute for Jack Sharkey if the Boston tar should be unable to meet Max Schmeling in June.

Baer is expected to have a 15-pound pull in the weights. The advance ticket sale indicates a gate of more than $40,000.

Battalino Loses Lucrative Bouts

"Eat" Battalino, Due To Cincinnati Fiasco Loses His Prestige

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Christopher (Bat) Battalino, dethroned featherweight champion, and his manager, Pete Reilly, today stood to lose at least $50,000 in cold cash as the result of the Battalino-Miller Fiasco in Cincinnati Wednesday night.

Disgusted by the Cincinnati farce, which ended with "Bat" being thrown out of the ring for stalling against his stable-mate, promoter James J. Johnston of Madison Square Garden announced today he had called off the proposed bout between Battalino and Billy Petrolle, crack welterweight.

Bat also apparently has lost his chance for a shot at Tony Canzoneri's lightweight title. This would have drawn as much as the Petrolle bout and considerably more if held over until summer.

Public indignation over the Cincinnati affair started yesterday when Bat's scheduled bout with Jackie Sharkey in Minneapolis on February 9, which was expected to draw $40,000, was called off. Previously Bat lost his purse for the Cincinnati bout and was fined $5,000 by the National Boxing Association which also followed the example of the New York Commission in suspending him.

The aircraft carrier, U. S. S. Langley, formerly named the Jupiter, and built for a collier, was the first electrically-driven ship in the United States navy.

Geneva And Thiel Battling Tonight At Beaver Falls

Geneva Hopes To Turn Tables On Thiel For Two Defeats Of Last Week

BEAVER FALLS, Jan. 29.—A new wave of optimism has swept over the Geneva college campus as a result of the recent work of Ken Loeffler's hardwood machine in disposing of Bethany and Carnegie Tech. Students that were downcast when Geneva lost to Westminster now feel that the club has been rejuvenated to the extent that a good chance for winning the conference championship still presents itself. The next test for the Covenanters in league competition occurs at the Beaver Falls high gymnasium here on Friday against Coach Benson's Thiel Lutherans. To date Geneva has won three of four conference engagements.

The return to form of "Slim" Ransom, one of the heroes in the Tech combat, has cheered Loeffler immensely. When the campaign opened Loeffler had two lettermen, Ransom and Sole, available for the jumping job. Both, however, were slowed up by grid injuries, causing a shift whereby Captain Montgomery went from guard to center. With Ransom back in shape there will be occasions where Montgomery can return to his more familiar sentinel post.

Last season Thiel put Geneva out of the running for district honors by securing two decisions, each time by the margin of a single point. Geneva players have not forgotten this and will be seeking revenge here this evening.

Pittsburgh Gets Kansas City Star Pitcher In Trade

Pirates Give Phillips And Osborne With Wad Of Money For Right-Hander

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29—William Swift, star hurler for the Kansas City American Association Baseball Club, was traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates today for catcher Edward Phillips, pitcher Robert Osborne and an unannounced sum of money, club officials here disclosed.

Swift, a right hander, has been a member of the Kansas City Club for the past two years. He stands more than 6 feet tall and tips the beam at 190 pounds. Pirate officials were greatly impressed with his record last year when he won 16 out of the 17 games he pitched and was named one of the best hurlers in the association ranks.

Phillips, Pirate catcher, was secured on waivers from the Philadelphia Athletics while Osborne was traded to the Pirates by the Chicago Cubs last year.

Reiselt Leads Billiard Play

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 29—Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia, held the lead in the battle for the world's three cushion billiard championship today.

The veteran scored his fifth victory of the tournament by defeating Len Kenney, Chicago, 50 to 32 in 50 innings last night. He has been beaten but once.

Allen Hall, Chicago, tasted victory and revenge when he defeated Arthur Thurnblad, Chicago, present title holder, 50 to 26 in 50 innings

Hearts Battle St. Michael Five

Two bitter rivals will clash tonight on the Y. M. C. A. floor when the Sacred Heart B teams meets the St. Michaels.

The last meeting of the fives saw the Hearts win a 20-5 verdict. The St. Michaels will be out to even matters. The Hearts have lost three straights and hope to break this "jinx" Vitus Bongivengo, Heart's center is proving one of the outstanding figures at center in the league.

St. Andrews Will Play Butler Five

St. Andrews church team will play the fast Butler All-Stars at the St. Marys floor Saturday night, it was announced today by Dave Riley. The St. Andrews team will have a tough opponent to crack tonight. This is the same team that gave the Wesley M. E. church team a tough game at Butler several days ago. There will be a preliminary game starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Harlansburg Team Defeats Jacksville

Harlansburg Alumni basketball team handed Jacksville a 26 to 16 setback last night in a game played at the Jacksville floor. The Harlansburg team is coached by 'Pick" Glitch. The Harlansburg team will play the Ben Franklin Faculty team at Harlansburg next Monday night.

Two Good Games On Y Floor Tonight

Carnegie Juniors will oppose the Smoothies at the Y tonight. The Safety Five will tackle Pearson quintet in a preliminary. The Carnegie Juniors have not lost a game and the Smoothies are leading the Boys league of the Y.

Fight Results

(International News Service)

AT CHICAGO—Jackie Fields, of Chicago, defeated Lou Brouillard, Worcester, Mass., to win world's welterweight championship. (10)

George Nichols, Buffalo light heavyweight, defeated Lou Scozza, Buffalo. (10)

Billy Jones, Philadelphia Negro, won technical knockout over Battling Bozo, Birmingham. (9)

AT LONDON, Eng.—Larry Gains, Canadian Negro heavyweight, drew with Dan McCorkindale, South African champion, in 15-round bout billed for championship of British Empire.

AT WILKES-BARRE, PA.—Harold Mays, Bayonne, N. J., heavyweight, outpointed Frankie Cawley, Pittston, Pa. (10)

AT NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—Johnny Oakey, Trenton, N. J., middleweight, knocked out Jack Palmer, Philadelphia (4)

AT MIAMI, FLA.—Owen Phelps, Phoenix, Ariz., outpointed Clyde Chastain, Dallas, Texas (10)

I. W. W. TEAM WINS

The I. W. W. basketball team handed the Eintracht "B" team a 43 to 23 setback last night at St. Michaels hall. The score at halftime was 24 to 14. J. Fruitt, Smith and Badurick featured for the I. W. W. team, with Snyder and Figule the best for the losers.

GAMES ARE DESIRED

The Megans would like to arrange basketball games with all first class teams such as Plaingrove, Harlansburg, Princeton and any team in the city. Call 9070 and ask for Drake, or Reiter.

Bessemer Plays At Union High

Fast County League Floor Game Expected At Union High School Gym

One of those fast County League floor games will be played tonight at Union High gym, when the strong Bessemer High quintet will tangle with the Union High basketeers. The girls of both schools will play the preliminary game that starts at 7:30 o'clock.

Taking it all in all the game tonight in Union High gym should be one of the features of the season. Both teams are primed and ready for battle. They are rivals of the field of sport. They have tangled many times, and Bessemer has won every floor game. What a chance for Union to snap this jinx.

Union Practices

Coach Boyd put his Unionites through a stiff workout last night and they are ready for the gruelling game that is looked for when Bessemer takes the floor. Union has won seven games in a row. Will Bessemer stop them? This question can be bettered answered after the teams go through their four quarters of play.

Basketball fans in Union Township this fray and they will support Union High to the utmost. A victory over Bessemer tonight will touch off the spark of a most successful Union season. The Bessemer team is mighty good. They lost to New Wilmington by a lone point several days ago, and since that time have taken on a new spirit and they will be out to continue their winning stride that they now enjoy over Union.

Savannah-Calvary Win Floor Games

Savannah M. E. and Calvary won floor games last night in the Shenango Township Church League. The Savannah team defeated Center 20 to 17 with Druschel and Trimble starring. In the other game Calvary church team handed the Harmony team a 13 to 6 setback.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

Vanishing Americans
41.—The Fate Of William MacIntosh

IN AUGUST, 1814, GENERAL ANDREW JACKSON DICTATED THE TERMS OF PEACE TO THE DEFEATED CREEK INDIANS. THOROUGHLY CHASTENED BY "OLD HICKORY'S" SMASHING BLOWS, THE CREEKS SIGNED AWAY THE GREATER PART OF THEIR TERRITORY IN ALABAMA.

BUT THE WHITE MEN WERE NOT SATISFIED. THEY WANTED TO ACQUIRE ALL THE INDIAN LAND IN THE COTTON BELT. IN 1825 THEY BRIBED WILLIAM MACINTOSH, THE HALF-BREED CREEK CHIEF, TO SIGN A TREATY GIVING UP THE REST OF HIS TRIBE'S LANDS.

IN TREACHEROUSLY BETRAYING HIS PEOPLE, MACINTOSH DOUBTLESS BELIEVED THE CREEKS HAD FORGOTTEN THAT IN 1811 HE HIMSELF HAD PRESCRIBED DEATH FOR ANY CREEK WHO SOLD TRIBAL LAND TO THE WHITES.

©, 1931, BY J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

BUT THE CREEKS DID NOT FORGET! ONE DAY THE ANGRY TRIBESMEN SURROUNDED MACINTOSH'S CABIN. WHEN THE TRAITOR CAME OUT OF THE HOUSE HE WAS RIDDLED WITH BULLETS BY THE WAITING EXECUTIONERS.

Make Shift Advertising

The increasing use of newspaper and magazine advertising proves that the advertisers are becoming more and more convinced of the value of this medium of selling their wares. Hand bills, bill boards, telephone calls which so annoy busy housewives are giving way more and more to straight newspaper advertising. Don't waste money on makeshifts. Use the New Castle News columns and get results.

LEGAL NOTICES

Bid Proposal

The Road Supervisors of Slippery Rock Township, Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, will receive bids for the supply and delivery upon the ground of cinder and gravel on three certain sections of public highway in said Township as follows:—

1. The public road leading from the residence of Howard Forbes southward to the Western Allegheny Railroad about seven-tenths (7-10) miles.

2. A portion of the Princeton and East New Castle Road leading from Princeton westward one and one-half (1½) miles.

3. The public road leading from State Highway Route No. 388 eastward, being the first road south of Harmony Baptist Church and extending about seven-tenths (7-10) miles.

RIVAL TOWNS IN WETNESS.
(International News Service)

ABERDEEN, Wash.—Aberdeen is a wet town—but Forks is wetter! Aberdeen was priding itself on leading Grays harbor county with a rainfall of 102.18 inches for 1931 until Forks turned in a record of 139.43. January precipitation was 23.55. Only 100 miles away, east of the Olympic mountains, Sequim had to be satisfied with 16.4 inches of rain for the year.

Often the secret of a man's success is his ability to keep it a secret.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stocks Are Unsettled During Day's Trading

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Stocks were unsettled at the outset today by a wave of selling which forced many of the leaders to their lowest levels of the year to date.

Weakness in the rail list affected all of the well known stocks in that section of the market. Atchison, at the head of the rails, fell off about 4 points to 80½. New Haven was down 2½ at 26¼; Baltimore and Ohio down 2¼ at 16¾; Chesapeake and Ohio down 1½ at 26½.

United States Steel fell back to 36½, about a point above its record low price. General Electric struck a new bear-market low at 19⅝ and General Motors fell off to 20. Standard Oil of New Jersey, in falling to a new low, at 25¼, reflected uneasiness over the dividend action of the directors next week. Consolidated Gas led the downturn of the utilities, and fell off 1¾ to 57.

Railroad bonds followed their stocks to lower price levels, but the balance of the list was fairly steady. Japanese government 6½s lost about a point. Call money was unchanged at 2½ per cent.

Eloper Prince and Bride

Apparently untroubled by the displeasure of his brother, King Carol, Prince Nicholas, of Rumania, is shown as he arrived in Paris with his bride, the former Lucia Deletj, for their belated honeymoon. It will be recalled that King Carol waxed very indignant when his brother married a commoner and annuled the marriage by royal decree. Nicholas, however, does not take much stock in such decrees and considers himself still married.

Marriage Mystery Solved?

The mysterious "Hector MacNeal" who became the new hubby of Edith Gould Wainwright, the former Edith Gould of the prominent New York society family, is believed to be Sir Hector Murray MacNeal, British shipping magnate. The marriage was performed in Reno, Nev., recently, a few hours after the society beauty had obtained a divorce from her former husband, Carroll Livingston Wainwright, an artist. Above are recent photos of the couple.

Boys Stealing Chicken Given Chance By Mayor

Must Pay For Chicken And Repair Coop They Entered And Damaged

Mayor Charles B. Mayne found it necessary to sit in judgment this morning on three young men ranging in age from 17 to 19, who were arrested by and confessed to Officers Carl Lockard and Ray Showalter last night their theft of a chicken from the coop of Joseph C. Shimp, 411 Cascade street.

"When I was a boy" said Mayor Mayne to the three prisoners "there were chicken coops and chickens, and a chicken was as much legal tender then as now.

"For that reason" continued the mayor, "you have a strong and staunch ally in the mayor. However, if you are returned here at any time within two years on the same or other charges, this charge will be brought against you and you will then suffer severe punishment. Now your sentence is to place the coop in as good repair as you found it and make restitution for the stolen chicken, and when you have done this, I want you to report to me.

STORY HOUR IS WELL ATTENDED

Yesterday's story hour at the Free Public Library was fairly well attended, 61 school children being in attendance.

Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, told the stories of "Boots and His Crew," and "Master of all Masters." In addition the poem "The House With Nobody In It," was read.

Million-Dollar Blaze

Brave Mother Hailed in Sanity or Death Gamble

* * * * * *

Decision of Mrs. Moore to Take One Chance in a Thousand for Baby's Sanity, with Death the Alternative of Success, Praised by Sympathetic Mothers.

The sympathies of mothers all over the United States are hourly pouring in, in letters and telegrams, to Mrs. Lillian Moore, young New York mother, who has wagered her child's life against its sanity at the long odds of 1,000 to 1 in favor of death. The Spartan mother made her decision after surgeons had informed her that her baby, Diana, aged 13 months, would grow up a hopeless idiot unless her brain were allowed to expand, explaining that the skull structure had hardened too quickly, cramping the convolutions of the brain. The only chance of remedying the trouble, they said, was a delicate operation to open the skull and give the brain an opportunity to grow. The chances of success, however, are 1,000 to 1 against, failure meaning death. A similar life and death decision was the cause of a nation-wide furore about 17 years ago. A baby was born to Mrs. Anna Bollinger, of Chicago, so terribly deformed that its father could not bear to look at it. Dr. Harry J. Haiselden, who attended at the birth, told the father that the child could not live without an operation, but if its life were saved it would grow up a hopeless maniac. The father voted against the operation, declaring that it would be more merciful to let the child die. Dr. Haiselden, supported by his colleagues, agreed with the father. The child was allowed to die. Immediately a storm of criticism broke against the doctor and the child's parents. Dr. Haiselden's indictment was demanded, but the coroner's jury agreed with the doctor's decision and he was vindicated.

U. C. T. Entertains For Family Groups

Travelers' Council Affair Draws Crowd Of 100; Enjoy Evening

Celebrating "Family Night" in a true get-together style, members of the New Castle council No. 408, United Commercial Travelers, with their families, enjoyed a program of cards and side entertainment when they met in their city hall rooms last night. Close to 100 participated in the affair.

Activity kept the guests busy every moment during the evening, with special features injecting more enthusiasm and fun into the scheduled program every now and then. Most of the evening was spent playing 500.

The council welcomed a new member from Mansfield, O., already affiliated with U. C. T.

MERCER COUNTY YOUTHS JAILED

GROVE CITY, Jan. 29—Two Pine township youths were arraigned before Squire G. E. Irwin here today, and were remanded to the Mercer county jail at Mercer, one to await court trial and the other to serve a ten day sentence.

Stanley Knauff, aged 24, was held for court on a charge of forcible entry, while his brother, Eugene Knauff, aged 19, was given a ten-day jail sentence on a charge of stealing a sheep.

Holds No Fears for Mother

Serene in her confidence that her mother, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, will be acquitted of the murder charge against her in Honolulu, Marion Fortescue, 20-year-old daughter of the accused woman, is shown taking a stroll with a classmate in Oxford, Eng., where she is a student at one of the exclusive colleges for which the city is renowned. Mrs. Fortescue has been indicted by the Honolulu Grand Jury on a second degree murder charge in connection with the slaying of Joseph Kahahawai, one of the men accused of attacking her daughter, Mrs. Thalia Massie. Lieut. Massie and two enlisted men were also indicted.

WILL RUN FOR SEAT IN CONGRESS

Mrs. Regina Rambo Benson and her children, Regina Ann, Marcellus and Warren Edgar.

Mrs. Regina Rambo Benson of Marietta, Ga., has announced her candidacy for a congressional seat to succeed M. C. Tarver. Mrs. Benson has three children, Regina Ann, 11; Marcellus, 4, and Warren Edgar, 8. She is a widow and favors a dry referendum.

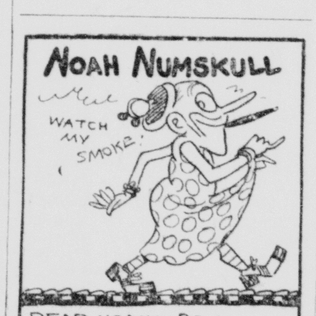

El Toro Goes to the Mat with Matador

This spectacular photo, made during a performance of the national pastime at Madrid, Spain, shows a thrilling bit of action in the arena of blood and sand wherein the honors went to the bull. The infuriated animal is shown at the moment when he turned upon one of his tormentors and unhorsed him. Unfortunately it was the innocent horse that bore the brunt of the attack. The matador landed on his back within the danger zone and narrowly missed a similar fate to that of his mount, which was disemboweled by the bull's horns. This is the feature of bull fighting to which Americans strenuously object. However the Spanish audience applauded loudly at the honors going to El Toro.

What Science Knows About "Common Cold" Cited By Clendening

Knowledge Of Disease Small, Careful Study Shows, But It Is One Of Principal Causes Of Illness

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The hour for the cold is at hand. "They are especially numerous," says one of our best text books on medicine, "in midwinter during January and February: and again in the spring, late in April."

"The common cold," so science names it. It is the most frequent of all human afflictions. It causes more economic loss than a depression. In any industry there is more disability from colds than from all other diseases put together.

A careful study in Hagerstown, Md., showed that of the principal causes of illness in a year, 418 sicknesses per thousand persons were due to colds.

What medical science actually knows for certain about this commonest of all human diseases can very easily be squeezed into the rest of my space for today.

The Common Cold

It is highly contagious in the early stages. It is certainly caused by some sort of a germ, but that germ has not been identified. Most investigators agree that it is one of the filterable virus, which are too small to be seen with out present model microscopes.

After the virus has made its initial attack on the membrances of the respiratory tract, many secondary infections are implanted there, such as staphylococci, micrococci, catarrhalis, influenza bacilli, etc. These cause many of the disagreeable and prolonged symptoms during the later stages.

The course of the disease consists of the stage of invasion with slight fever, malaise, chilly sensations, headache and backache, and loss of appetite. A feeling of stuffiness in the nose, rawness in the throat and tightness in the chest are localizing symptoms. The stage of invasion lasts from 12 to 36 hours and is uscceeded by the stage of exudation when discharge from the nose, cough and expectoration begin: during the onset of this condition most of the symptoms of discomfort marking the stage of invasion disappear. The stage of convalescence marks the drying up of the secretions. The entire process covers a period of two to three weeks.

There is no certain drug, serum, or method of treatment which will prevent a cold, or shorten its course, or abort an attack in the early stages.

Science is rather cool on the subject of colds. We will turn our attention to some of these treatments which make the patient comfortable.

Editor's Note: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendenning can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

CATCHER'S DIPLOMACY SETTLES DOG DISPUTE

(International News Service)

UNION, N. J., Jan. 29.—Tact and diplomacy, self-admitted, has settled a dog dispute which had been waged here since Christmas, according to a letter on file with the town council.

In his zeal as the town dog-catcher William "Tact" Thomas caught Mr. and Mrs. William Cerney's pet dog and threw him in the pound. When the Cerney's called to get their dog, it had escaped. The town council was called and after due deliberation, decided Thomae was at fault and ordered him to make amends. The council has received the following letter from Thomae:

"By using my usual tact and customary diplomacy I settled everything in the most satisfactory manner for all parties concerned by promising them a good hound as soon as I am able to catch one."

The town council has voted the matter as closed.

Grocers Plan To Hold Food Show

Plans are now being considered by the New Castle Retail Grocers Association for the holding of the annual foodshow, that has been such a successful event here for several years past. While everything is in the formative and preliminary stage at the present time, it is anticipated that announcements as to the time and place of the show will be made in the near future.

REPORTS THEFT.

S. G. Ligo, superitendent of buildings for the New Castle school district, reported to the police on Thursday that there is a scaffold in use at the Martin Gantz school on North Jefferson street and that some unknown person had stolen two long boards valued at $15. Detective John Young and Officer Thomas Lynch are conducting the investigation in the case.
